GLYNN ATTACKS WHITMAN'S OFFICE

Says the District Attorney, as an Executive, Has Made a Poor Record.

CONTRAST WITH JEROME

Has More Assistants for Business of One County Than Predecessor for Two.

YET HANDLED FEWER CASES

Five East Side Gatherings Cheer Governor, Then He Hears Praise from Henry Watterson.

Gov. Martin H. Glynn, in five speeches in Manhattan last night, attacked District Attorney Whitman on the question of business economy—the issue which Mr. Whitman himself has made prominent in his speeches against the Governor. Gov. Glynn charged Mr. Whitman with running up expenses in the District Attorney's office in an alarming manner, and produced figures to show that his predecessor, William Travers Jerome, had been able to run the District Attorney's office for Manhattan and the Bronx cheaper than Mr. Whitman was able to run it for Manhattan alone. Exempt political places, the Governor charged, had been handed out by Mr. Whitman to help his chances of election.

The first of the speeches against Mr. Whitman was made at Cooper Union, where labor leaders and workingmen, at the instance of the Glynn Trade Unionist Committee of One Hundred, had gathered in great force. Gov. Glynn said that throughout all the State he had not been received with such enthusiasm as greeted him in Cooper Union. The labor men showered him with compliments and even presented him with a huge bunch of flowers. The audience cheered him for three minutes without stopping.

The Governor discussed the Workmen's Compensation law at length, and then began his attack on Mr. Whitman by saying that he had saved the State $10,000,000 in the year he has been in office. This, he said, represented a saving in operating expenses of 16 per cent. All this had been done, he said, without impairing the efficiency of a single public office.

The Business Efficiency Issue.

"Let us suppose that there were no other issue involved in the present campaign but the question of business efficiency as applied to the State departments," said the Governor. "Let us suppose that the voters of New York were to cast their ballots, not along partisan lines, but solely as an indication of their confidence in the business ability of the respective candidates. If they would look at my record of business efficiency in the administration of my office, and at the business efficiency of Mr. Whitman in the administration of his office, this is what they would find: They would discover that I had reduced the State expenditures $10,000,000. They would discover that I had vetoed more than $7,000,000 of unnecessary appropriations; that I had vetoed measures which made money available for the coming year, and that I had adjusted the surplus in the Sinking Fund so that the present taxpayers would be spared an unfair burden during the coming year of over $3,000,000.

"Altogether they would discover that my official acts had saved the taxpayers of this State from a direct tax of $11,000,000.

"Now look at Mr. Whitman's record of business efficiency and you will discover that in the four years he has been in office he has increased the cost of the District Attorney's office from $371,000 during the last year of District Attorney Jerome to $502,000, which is his departmental estimate for the year 1915. Mr. Whitman may say that crime is increasing. It is noticeable, however, that it increases only for the exempt positions.

Whitman Increased Staff.

"In 1907 Mr. Jerome, with only ten Assistant District Attorneys, twenty-five Deputy Assistant District Attorneys, twenty clerks, and forty-six process servers, furnished work for twenty-one stenographers. In 1913 Mr. Whitman, with fourteen Assistant District Attorneys, thirty-six Deputy District Attorneys, twenty-four clerks, and fifty-seven process servers, an increase in the staff of from 30 to 45 per cent., was still employing the twenty-one stenographers.

"The position of stenographer in the District Attorney's office is not an exempt position. Furthermore, the figures in the District Attorney's office do not show that crime has been on the increase. In 1908, under Jerome, 7,877 cases were handled in the District Attorney's office. In 1913 Mr. Whitman's office handled 6,825 cases. It cost the city for Mr. Jerome's office that year $345,446. It cost the city under Mr. Whitman in 1913 $456,410. Mr. Jerome handled his greater volume of business for $110,000 less than Mr. Whitman did in 1913.

"In 1908 Mr. Jerome did not ask for a single cent in excess of his budget appropriation, whereas every year that Mr. Whitman has been in office he has received from $43,000 in his first year up to $87,000 extra appropriations which he asks for this year.

Spent More Than Jerome.

"The significance of these figures becomes plain when it is remembered that Mr. Jerome's office conducted the prosecutions not only for New York County but for Bronx County. Mr. Whitman now has jurisdiction over New York County alone. To sum up, Mr. Whitman has spent more for one county than Mr. Jerome spent for two.

"Let me say that this is not to be taken as a criticism of Mr. Whitman's ability. The District Attorney's office is a legal and not an executive office, and

EDISON AT THE KEY UPSETS TELEGRAPHER

Quick Complaint Comes That a "Boy On the Wire Is Gumming Things Up."

DETROIT, Oct. 28.—Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, who has been visiting scenes of his boyhood in this section of the State for the last week, took a trip to Port Huron yesterday, and once more tried his hand at the operator's key. He even went so far as to take the wares from a newsboy, and sell them among his friends.

As a boy Mr. Edison sold papers and worked as an operator for the same railroad over which he traveled to Port Huron yesterday. His last trip, however, was in a special train engaged for him by his host, Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer.

As the inventor passed through Mount Clemens he stepped into the telegraph operator's office, and tapped off a message to his children in New Jersey. The message was interrupted, however. The Mount Clemens operator turned to Mr. Edison with a smile and said:

"An operator on the line is complaining. He says there is a boy on the wire, whose practicing is gumming things up."

It is not known what the complaining operator said when he was told that Thomas A. Edison had caused the trouble.

At Port Huron Mr. Ford insisted on equipping his guest with all the necessary equipment of a news butcher.

Mr. Edison appeared to take keen delight in the situation, and was soon selling fruit and candies to his friends. Gum brought as high as 50 cents a package, and when the inventor stepped off the train he poured the proceeds of his day's business into the hat of a grinning porter.

SAYS OUR COAST GUNS COULD ROUT ANY FOE

All Except Two Ports Amply Fortified, Swager Sherley Asserts.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 28.—"The United States is so well fortified, with the exception of two points, where work now is in progress, that an attack from the sea probably will never be made on any of these fortifications," said Representative Swager Sherley in an authorized statement here today. Mr. Sherley is Chairman of the House Committee on Fortifications and is campaigning in the Fifth Kentucky District seeking reelection to the House.

"The theory upon which the fortifications have been constructed," said Mr. Sherley, who led up to the subject with a discussion of the 17-inch guns used by the Germans in Belgium, the existence of which he said he doubted, "is to protect important harbors from a direct attack by a hostile fleet. This has been done, except at San Pedro, Cal., where emplacements for guns are being built, and at the mouth of the Chesapeake, where land has been acquired, and estimates shortly will be submitted for placing 16-inch guns, along with other armament, that should protect that entrance.

"Our guns are of the most modern pattern," he continued, "and are capable of destroying the most modern superdreadnought. Whether it may be thought advisable in the future to prepare certain minor defenses in the rear of our coast fortifications is a matter about which there is some difference of opinion and will likely continue to receive consideration at the hands of the War College and the General Staff."

PHOTOGRAPHS IN COLORS.

New Process Shows Pictures as Plate Transparencies.

Special to The New York Times.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 28.—George Eastman, President and founder of the Eastman Kodak Company, announced today that after years of experiment and the expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars the company had perfected a process of color portrait photography. The process is said to be the first color photography method that has been simple enough to be used by the ordinary photographer.

Photographs taken by the process by photographers, without previous training, have been shown privately at the Eastman Company's offices for a week, and on Saturday they will be placed on exhibition in the Memorial Art Gallery at the University of Rochester. The photographs, which cannot be printed, but remain on the plate and are exhibited as transparencies, are said to excel other color processes in their quality of luminosity and in reproducing the contour of features. The perfection of the process is credited to John G. Capstaff, an assistant in the research laboratories of the Eastman Company.

OCTOBER COLD RECORD TIED

Yesterday's 31 Degrees Only Equaled Once, on Oct. 15, 1876.

Forecaster Scarr of the Weather Bureau, said last night that yesterday was the coldest October day on record except Oct. 15, 1876, when the temperature was down to 31 degrees at 4 A. M., which was the same as was registered at 4 A. M. yesterday.

The cold did not last long, as the mercury rose steadily until it reached 50 at 8 P. M. The northwest wind died away and veered to the southwest. It is promised that today will be cloudy and slightly warmer.

SING SING WARDEN OUT, FACES INQUIRY

CAR'S OWNERSHIP IN DOUBT

GLYNN DEFIED BY MALLOY

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 28.—J. T. McCormick, who was suspended this afternoon from his place as Warden of Sing Sing by Superintendent of Prisons John D. Riley, tonight came to Albany with his secretary, W. J. Watson, and told Judge Riley and Assistant District Attorney Louis Goldstein of Kings his version of the activities of David A. Sullivan as prison chauffeur. He declared positively that Sullivan, since he entered the prison, never had been in Brooklyn or, indeed, outside of Westchester County.

Later Mr. Goldstein said he had learned from McCormick that within the last month Sullivan had gone to New York with the Warden, and that the two visited the place where the automobile in which it was said Sullivan rode was purchased.

The question of who owned the auto arose today. Mr. Goldstein said tonight he had learned that the car did not belong to the State, but to a private individual whose identity would be disclosed in a Grand Jury investigation. Supt. Riley said some days ago that he had authorized McCormick to buy a car in September. Up to the present time no voucher for its purchase has been received in the State Controller's Office.

Mr. Goldstein, while in Albany, examined some of the records of the State Controller's Office and the Bank Department, and subpoenaed Deputy Controller Michael J. Walsh, Democratic leader of Westchester County, to appear before the Grand Jury in Kings County. Mr. Walsh's candidate for Warden, Louis P. Wendil, was defeated by Mr. McCormick.

According to Mr. Goldstein, Mr. Walsh did not deny that on primary election day Sullivan had ridden around to the various polling places in the car with him and Mr. McCormick. Warden McCormick also was subpoenaed, but Supt. Riley was not.

After the interview Mr. McCormick returned to Ossining, where he tomorrow morning will deliver the keys of the prison and the property to George S. Weed of Plattsburg, who has been designated as temporary Warden by Judge Riley.

George S. Weed, the new Warden, is 52 years old and a son of Smith M. Weed, for many years a Democratic leader in Northern New York. He has served as a member of the Assembly from Clinton County, as County Judge, as City Judge of Plattsburg, and for seven years as Collector at Plattsburg, to which post he was appointed by President Cleveland.

When Gov. Glynn was told in New York tonight of Mr. Weed's appointment as Warden he said:

"I thoroughly approve of the appointment. Mr. Weed is a man of the finest type. I am sure, however, that he is taking the position only temporarily, to help out his friend, Supt. Riley. Mr. Weed is a very prominent lawyer, and I do not suppose his practice would permit him to accept the office permanently."

MALLOY STILL OBDURATE.

Sing Sing Auditor Again Refuses to Testify.

John J. Malloy, auditor of Sing Sing Prison, who was committed to jail for contempt of court on Monday for refusing to answer questions before the Kings County Grand Jury in the investigation of the alleged favoritism to David A. Sullivan, but who was reported to have yielded on hearing that the Governor had ordered his dismissal if he should continue to refuse to talk, again balked yesterday when he was taken to the Court House to testify. It was understood that he again refused to talk on the advice of his attorney, Otho Bowling of the office of Robert H. Elder, former Assistant District Attorney.

When Gov. Glynn was informed last night that Malloy had again refused to testify, he said:

"If this report is true, I don't know what more I can do. It is up to Supt. of Prisons Riley. I have told him to suspend Malloy if he should continue to refuse to answer legitimate questions, and it is now for Mr. Riley to take action."

The Governor himself has no power to suspend Malloy, but Mr. Riley has. Mr. Riley, of course, could be suspended from his own office by the Governor.

Malloy was taken back to jail. It is understood that his counsel will apply for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain his release.

Depositors Oppose Baldwin.

Gov. Glynn probably will be waited on by a committee of the Union Bank Depositors' Association with a protest against his appointment of Stephen C. Baldwin, the Brooklyn lawyer, as a Commissioner to investigate the alleged privileges enjoyed by Sullivan. The depositors have no objection to Mr. Baldwin's appointment on personal grounds, but think that, inasmuch as he is counsel for Edward M. Grout, a former President of the Union Bank and now

A BATTENBERG PRINCE IS KILLED IN FRANCE

Maurice, Grandson of Queen Victoria, and Brother of Spanish Queen, Slain in France.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Prince Maurice of Battenberg, a cousin of King George and a son of Princess Henry of Battenberg, has been killed while serving with the British Army in France.

The Prince was an officer of the King's Royal Rifle Corps.

Prince Maurice was the only member of the British royal family who has been killed in the war. According to one report, he was not actually killed on the field of battle, but died afterward from wounds received in an engagement.

King George and Queen Mary visited Kensington Palace this afternoon to condole with Princess Henry, the Prince's mother.

Two brothers of Prince Maurice also went to the front—Lieut. Prince Alexander of the Grenadier Guards and Lieut. Prince Leopold of the King's Royal Rifle Corps. Prince Leopold was invalided home recently, suffering from an injury to his knee, the result of a fall.

Prince Maurice Victor Donald of Battenberg was the youngest of the three sons of the late Prince Henry of Battenberg, who in 1885 married Princess Beatrice, Queen Victoria's youngest daughter. Prince Henry died in 1896 as a result of illness contracted in the British Ashanti campaign, for which he had volunteered.

ALMOST DECIDED TO SPARE THE CRESSY

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—A letter from an American official in Germany tells of an interesting conversation with Lieut. Weddigen, the commander of the submarine which sank the British cruisers Hogue, Aboukir, and Cressy, and, according to reports in German papers, also the cruiser Hawke.

Lieut. Weddigen almost spared the Cressy, feeling strongly against sending this last ship to the bottom because it was the only thing to save the men from the other cruisers, who were struggling in the water.

Lieut. Weddigen said that through the periscope of the submarine he observed both other ships sink, with the Cressy alongside for rescue. The havoc appalled him, and he almost determined to let the Cressy stay afloat. He was about to leave the periscope and retire when his second in command, who was also shocked, reminded Weddigen, "You know we have four navies fighting us."

Thereupon Weddigen went back to the periscope, made his observation, and sent the torpedoes which finished the Cressy.

MARKSMAN'S VICTIMS BARRICADE A BRIDGE

Frenchman Said to Have Killed 30 Germans, Coming Up in Small Groups.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

IN NORTHERN FRANCE, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Standard.)—Near Lille a dragoon marksman was stationed at a swinging bridge with two comrades to load for him. It was important that the enemy should be held back without the bridge being blown up. The marksman hid behind a fence 60 yards from the bridge. Two lancers appeared, and he shot them; then three, and he shot them also. Five Uhlans came up together; he brought down every one. Altogether he killed thirty Germans in less than five minutes, and retired with his comrades.

The great pile of dead men and horses in the narrow roadway on the opposite side of the bridge protected it from the approach of the Germans during the day almost as well as a mitrailleuse would have done. In the evening the Colonel embraced this wonderful marksman before all his comrades, kissing him on both cheeks.

REVENTLOW DESPAIRS OF INFLUENCING US

Suggests That Count Von Bernstorff and Dr. Dernburg Should Cease to Try.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 29.—Count Reventlow, writing in The Deutsche Tages-Zeitung on American dispatches published in London papers, describes most statements contained therein as lies. He offers the following advice to German agents in America:

"It seems to be beneath our dignity to go on appealing before the United States in the attitude of one who thinks that he must justify himself. We are far from misunderstanding or underestimating the good will of Count von Bernstorff and Herr Dernberg. We ask ourselves, however, what is the sense of it all, and whether there is not a point to which we, in our position, attacked on all sides, should regard it as a duty of self-esteem to adopt an attitude that if a people do not believe our words and deeds we will refrain from perpetual repetition of our words.

"When a man like Mr. Roosevelt, whose importance as a statesman we never rated too high, but who has been in Germany and knows many prominent Germans, can talk of Bernhardism in Germany, success of the German efforts 'to shed light' seems to be of a very problematical nature."

AUSTRIA FEELING WAR'S DISASTERS

Every Available Vienna Building Taken for Wounded—Soldiers Beg in Streets.

CAPITAL FULL OF MISERY

But Populace Has Become Apathetic and Restaurants Are Still Scenes of Gayety.

MUCH SEDITION IN ARMY

Russians and Servians Kept Well Informed of Plans, Which Aided in Their Defeat.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Standard.)—Information from Austria reveals unimagined seriousness.

The military losses not only have been great, but disease is spreading while the populace is apathetic. Enormous, almost inconceivable, is the loss of life suffered by the Austrian Army.

An evil spirit seems to have rendered the Austrian Army impotent from the very commencement of hostilities. The first Austrian advance, into Russian Poland, resulted in a horrible catastrophe for the invaders. In one battalion 12 officers and 562 men were lost in one day.

Only six weeks after the declaration of war Vienna alone took under its auspices no fewer than 60,000 wounded, and it was calculated that in those six weeks the Austrian Army had lost 200,000 men in killed and wounded. From then onward not a single day has elapsed without bringing news of a sanguinary skirmish.

In one encounter of minor importance at the end of September the Austrian Army emerged with the colossal total of 20,000 fallen. This was due to a tragic error. The Austrians, left without ammunition and stationed in an open position, hoisted white flags. The Russians did not see them and continued to decimate the Austrians with their mitrailleuses for several hours.

Austria was entirely unprepared for such gigantic losses. Thus today not one of the towns situated on the military road is able to give refuge to wounded soldiers, and Vienna has consequently had to be converted into a gigantic hospital. All the public and private hospitals, barracks, and schools became overfilled, but this did not suffice, and theatres and offices were occupied for this purpose. It was still inadequate. Then were invaded the Museum, the great Rotunde of the world-renowned Prater Park, where elegant spectacular ballets were performed, the gay palaces of the great Viennese exhibitions, and all other available accommodations.

The life of the city is nearly altogether crushed by this painful mass of mutilated humanity. There is no free breathing space. There are no more beds in the Rotunde. The wounded lie on the floor on simple sacks and straw.

The hospitals are beginning to go short of choloroform, and as a result many operations are performed without anaesthetics.

Soldiers Beg in the Streets.

But there is something still more afflicting. Convalescent soldiers wander like vagabonds through the streets, clothed in uniforms and still bandaged, begging alms. They are hungry, they ask for food, warm apparel, underclothing, and walking sticks.

All the stocks have been exhausted. There is no more leather for boots. There is a shortage of shirts and jackets. One sees reservists on sentry duty with ropes around their waists instead of leather belts.

Together with the wounded arrive long processions of cholera and dysentery invalids, all from the Galician frontier. The cholera is of the benign form, but the dysentery is fatal. The medical figures for Vienna indicate 100 dead daily from this malicious epidemic.

This evil is spreading with disastrous rapidity. The wounded who returned home are infecting the south of Austria. Several cases have been discovered in villages midway between Vienna and Trieste.

In view of this dangerous contagion the authorities have decided to build wooden barracks around the city, with 10,000 beds, to serve as military isolation hospitals.

The arrival in Vienna of thousands of refugees from Galicia, mostly Jews, still further complicates the life of the city. Multitudes of long-bearded, short, red-haired men, wearing boots and black clerical cloaks—the typical Galician figures—accompanied by their wives, children, and goods and chattels, are densely massed together in the yards of public institutions. The authorities of Vienna have decided not to admit any more Galician fugitives.

There was ferment among the masses, who resorted to demonstrations—quickly suppressed—on one occasion when the War Office had not published bulletins announcing victories for five days in succession. A large crowd of old men and women assembled on the Stuben-Ring, in front of the War Minister's palace, and clamored for news. The police adopted severe measures.

The Citizens Indifferent.

Complete indifference on the part of the citizens is now developing. There is no display of patriotic passion, sympathy, or enthusiasm. Bureaucratic Austria is now revealing itself in all its ominous emptiness.

Some features of the Austrian defeat are already known in Vienna. The daily processions of thousands of wounded in dismal array, accompanied by the lugubrious sound of horns, the strong odor of carbolic acid emitted from bandages, the mourning, the waving of white flags, with red crosses on them, which indicate every day new houses peopled with wounded—all these things have brought home to Vienna the immediate tragedy of the war.

But the cafés and theatres are still open, and are daily thronged with the

Summary of War News.

The French War Office announces that the German attacks on the front between Dixmude and Nieuport, Belgium, appear to be moderating after the repulse of two severe night attacks. The Allies are making progress north of Ypres and between La Bassée and Lens.

Berlin reports that the Belgians have been reinforced, but the German attacks are being pushed. British warships, it is said, are attacking the German right wing.

The German official report admits that the German and Austrian forces have been compelled to retire from Russian Poland before fresh Russian troops, advancing from Ivangorod, Warsaw, and Novo Georgievsk.

The Russians announce that all the German attacks in the region of Bakalargewo, designed to relieve the wing which is in retreat in Russian Poland, have been repulsed. The main German-Austrian army is said to have suffered a defeat of the greatest importance. In Galicia desperate fighting is in progress along the River San.

The Boer rebellion in South Africa received a setback when Premier Botha defeated a large force under Gen. Christian Beyers, capturing eighty of his men.

The German cruiser Emden has sunk a small Japanese steamer en route for Singapore.

The Japanese announce that the bombardment of the Tsing-tau forts is proceeding from land and sea, causing much damage.

Hungarian Cavalry Division Surrounded in Galicia and Annihilated, 20 Guns Being Taken.

BERLIN, Oct. 28, (via Amsterdam and London.)—The German and Austrian troops in Poland, according to an official announcement issued here today, have been forced to withdraw before fresh Russian forces advancing from Ivangorod, Warsaw, and Novo Georgievsk after having repulsed all former Russian attacks.

The official statement continues:

At first the Russians did not follow, and the withdrawal of our troops took place without dificulty. The reserve troops will change their formation according to the situation.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 28.—The following official communication was issued today from General Headquarters:

In the battle which has been in progress for four days south of the Pilica River in the forests on the line extending from the Bialogura (Bialobrzegi) to Glovachev, Policzna, and Janowiec, our troops have inflicted upon the Austro-German forces a severe defeat. Between the Pilica and Glovachev the heroic efforts of our troops definitely broke down on Oct. 26 the resistance of the Twentieth Corps and the reserve guard corps of the Germans.

On the centre, after fighting of an extremely desperate character, we succeeded in establishing a firm foothold on the border of a forest in the region of the villages of Adamoff, Severinoff, and Marianoff.

On the night of Oct. 27 the enemy's corps fell back in disorder toward the line between Edlinsk, Radom, and Ilzha. We captured both cannons and prisoners.

On the right bank of the Pilica, on the front between Iejoff and Nowe Miasto, the fighting continues with the same desperation.

In Galicia the battle is raging along the whole front of the River San. We have taken an additional ten officers and 500 men.

In East Prussia the enemy has violently bombarded our positions in the operations in the region of Bakalargewo. Repeated attacks have all been repulsed.

The success which we have won to the south of the Pilica, and the result of which was the retreat of the enemy on the main front, is of the very greatest importance.

HOLLAND TREMBLES, FEARING INVASION

Lines Up 300,000 Men on Border —Hears Germans Are Massing There—Spies Plentiful.

ROOSENDAAL, Holland, Oct. 28, (via London.)—Holland is feeling the pressure of the war almost as much as if she were engaged in it. The report that the Germans are massing large numbers of troops on the eastern border is causing great uneasiness throughout Holland.

The alleged discovery of a tennis court with cement nine feet thick on the property of a German in the vicinity of Arnhem and statements that German spies have been active near Arnhem and at other points close to the German border seem to intensify the anxiety of the Hollanders.

A Dutch army of more than 300,000 trained men is scattered at strategic points along the Belgian and German borders. Roosendaal is the principal troop centre, as it is the only railway gate to Belgium that is now open. Hundreds of military automobiles leave here daily with messages and supplies for the border troops.

The mouth of the River Scheldt and all the canals are heavily guarded. A large garrison at Flushing is guarding the docks and railway station to prevent any attempt to violate the neutrality of the Scheldt. The river is heavily mined, and Dutch cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers are lying at its mouth to give any necessary co-operation to the land forces. The Dutch army is in fine condition.

The horrors of war have been forced on virtually all the cities, towns, and country districts by the Belgian refugees, who are estimated at 800,000. The strain of properly attending to the refugees presses hard upon Roosendaal with its 15,000 population, Flushing with 7,000, and other towns with lesser numbers. In these places there are more refugees than inhabitants.

Holland depends on the United States and Canada for her wheat. At present the supply is very short. It is said that Great Britain is delaying food cargoes to Holland, and there is much adverse criticism of this alleged action. Holland is willingly feeding the refugees within her borders, but fears are expressed that famine conditions will prevail unless the embargo is slackened.

FALLIERES PREDICTS MONTHS OF WAR YET

Ex-President of France Says He Has Absolute Confidence in Final Victory of the Allies.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The war is only beginning, in the opinion of Armand Fallières, ex-President of France, expressed in an interview in the newspaper France de Bordeaux, says a dispatch to the Havas News Agency from the French temporary seat of Government.

"Months and months," M. Fallières says, "will be required to overcome the military power of the enemy, but this does not produce discouragement in France. Our country has acquired the new virtue of constancy in effort.

"We shall certainly be victorious, for, without reckoning our ardent patriotism and our inexhaustible moral and material resources, we have on our side Russia and Great Britain, with her strength, her tenacity, and Belgium, as well as Servia, and, finally, we possess the moral support of entire humanity which loves the ideal of liberty.

"We are fighting for our land, our homes, our wives, and our children, but the admirable Belgians are struggling for their honor and for the respect of their plighted word. What an example for the world in front of a savage Germany and an Emperor intoxicated with pride!

"The right will not fail, and France will not perish. Should we sacrifice our last man, and should we be compelled to call out our last reserves, I am ready to go. There is only one motto—absolute confidence."

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 29.—"The German semi-official press has now changed its mind and admits that the war is likely to last longer than it originally thought," says Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent.

"The North German Gazette," the correspondent continues, "in a long article regarding the maximum prices of provisions, urges the necessity of husbanding the wheat resources. The newspaper estimates that Germany has sufficient corn for bread for the army and the population until the next harvest, but it adds that the war may last longer and that the Germans must be able to hold out until a lasting peace is secured."

Allies Beat Back Night Attacks Near Dixmude.

GAINS IN YPRES REGION

Progress Also Claimed Near La Bassee and Arras, and in Woevre Region.

BRITISH SHIPS ENGAGED

Sixteen Bombard Belgian Coast, but Berlin Reports Their Fire Ineffective.

PARIS, Oct. 28, 11:18 P. M.—The official communication issued by the War Office tonight says:

In Belgium two night attacks attempted by the enemy in the region of Dixmude have been repulsed. The German effort on the front between Nieuport and Dixmude appears to be moderating.

Between La Bassée and Lens there has been slight progress on our part.

On the remainder of the front there is nothing to report.

During the day of yesterday the German attacks in all the region between Nieuport and Arras were less violent. Our positions were everywhere maintained, and we continued to advance to the north and to the east of Ypres. We also made some progress between Cambrin, to the southwest of La Bassée, and Arras.

Further information continues to confirm previous reports that the German losses in dead, wounded, and prisoners have been considerable in the northern region.

On the right bank of the Aisne the Germans attempted at night a very violent offensive movement in the region of Craonne. On the heights of the Chemin des Dames they have been repulsed.

In the Woevre district our troops have continued their advance in the forests between Apremont and St. Mihiel, as well as in the forest of Le Prêtre.

Reports Heavy German Losses.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—An official dispatch, made public tonight by the French Embassy, reports successes for the Allies all along the line. The text of the dispatch follows:

Of the army of the Duke of Württemberg and the Crown Prince of Bavaria, on a front opposed by one English brigade, 1,600 corpses were found.

On the heights of the Chemin des Dames it is estimated that the number of dead and wounded Germans is about 2,000, although ours only reached about 100 men killed or wounded.

Other attacks on different parts of our front, particularly at the north and south of the Somme and toward Berry-au-Bac, were less important.

Reports state that everywhere the enemy has received a serious check. In the course of the day, yesterday as previously, the allied troops took a number of prisoners. In the region of the north an unknown number of mitrailleuses and cannon were taken by our troops.

GERMANS PLAN TO HURL 350,000 MEN AT ALLIES

Reported to Be Massing for a New Attempt on Channel Ports.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BETWEEN THE LYS AND THE YSER, Tuesday, Oct. 27, (Dispatch to the London Daily Chronicle.)—Heavy reinforcements are reported to be on the way to strengthen the forces of the Duke of Württemberg, who is in command on the Belgian front. These reinforcements are said to be coming up in a southwesterly direction from Bruges.

The intention of the Germans appears now to be not to attempt to advance along the coast to Dunkirk and Calais, but to throw all their weight on the Dixmude and Ypres part of the front. The Duke's order that the army under his command must hack its way through to the Straits of Dover at all costs still stands, but the objective has been somewhat changed. The Germans have discovered that they have in front of them on the coast routes a stretch of country every inch of which they would have to carry by assault. About ten days ago I saw the greater part of the coast country over which the northern part of the battle has been raging. It did not require a skilled eye to see that it was unpregnable, apart from the help of the guns of the fleet. The Germans now know that, and their plans to force their way across it to two very strongly fortified cities have apparently been abandoned.

The proposed line of advance is now further to the south and southwest, between the River Yser and the Ypres-Hazebroucks-St. Omer Road, and the first objective is Boulogne, an open, undefended town. It is said that the Germans are preparing to throw 350,000 men on the Dixmude-Ypres front, and it is certain that when the attack starts a concerted movement in support of it will be made from the Lille district. It was at Boulogne that Napoleon waited for an opportunity, which never came, to invade England, and the taking of that town is a feat which naturally appeals to the imagination of the Kaiser.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 29.—A dispatch to The Times dated "Northern France, Tuesday," estimates that Germany has 250,000 men fighting for the road to Calais, and probably another 100,000 on the way to reinforce them.

The dispatch says that there was good reason two days ago to believe that the Germans were ready to withdraw from East Belgium, but that it would be a mistake to assume that the Allies had been entirely successful in this river battle.

The great bulk of the fighting, it adds, is now proceeding on the left bank of the Yser, and the river is, broadly speaking, no longer between the Allies and the enemy.

FATIGUE HALTS FIGHTING.

Both Armies Slacken Their Efforts on Flanders Battlefront.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The limit of human endurance has been reached in the battle in East Flanders, and the fighting, which slackened yesterday, came to an almost complete stop today. There may have been some infantry attacks, and these may continue, but dispatches from points along the Dutch frontier say that the artillery firing has ceased. Passengers crossing the Channel tonight bring the same news.

It was this, doubtless, that led to the report, coming from Northern France, that the Germans had retired, having given up their attempt to reach the Channel ports.

The fact is that the two armies have fought themselves out temporarily, and that the Germans' first effort to break through the Allies' lines has failed. Neither side could continue any longer, the men having been without sleep or rest for the ten days that the battle has been in progress, over ground which at best is a morass.

There is every evidence that the Germans intend to renew their attempt to force their way through to Dunkirk. They are bringing up fresh men and more ammunition and guns, but at the same time are taking the precaution to prepare a second line of defense should their forward movement again meet defeat.

SLAUGHTER AT DIXMUDE.

German Losses Estimated at 16,000 Killed, 30,000 Wounded.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Flushing, Holland, says:

"Several mines have been washed ashore along the coast below Ostend. All were in excellent working order, for they exploded promptly, doing, however, no serious damage.

"The Germans have fallen back slightly from Westende. They are putting the coast from Ostend to Knocke in a state of defense. At Ostend preparations are being made to place mines at the harbor entrance.

"The German losses on the Nieuport-Dixmude line are estimated at 16,000 killed and 30,000 wounded. During Sunday 400 vehicles loaded with wounded soldiers passed through Ostend.

"The Germans have commandeered a large quantity of lumber at Bruges for use in building a giant airship shed at Geldonck. Artillery is being placed in the dunes between Heyst and Duinberg. Five train loads of artillery have been taken to Zeebrugge."

The Duke of Württemberg's army has lost heavily in the north of France, according to a dispatch received by the Exchange Telegraph Company from Paris. The Germans, the message adds, lost 2,000 in killed and wounded in an ill-fated night attack on Craonne and the regions mentioned in today's French official communication. The French casualties numbered 100.

An Amsterdam dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company says:

"The Handelsblad learns from Sluis, Netherlands, that there is no change on the battle front between Nieuport and Dixmude. Heavy fighting continues. Tramway communication with Ostend is still stopped.

"A dispatch from Vienna denies rumors that Emperor Francis Joseph is ill. On the contrary, it says he is in the best of health and dispatching all state affairs."

The Times correspondent in Belgium wires the following:

"Observation from a captive British balloon has revealed how effective has been the fire of the British warships on Ostend, Middelkerke, Lombaertsyde, and other coast villages. Not a single wall remains standing in the villages of Westkerke, Slype, and Novle. Several other villages are also in ruins. All this damage was caused by the artillery of the British ships."

A dispatch to The Times from Berne asserts that the Germans are receiving large reinforcements in Alsace and that the French are making great preparations for an attack on Belfort, which is powerfully intrenched.

GENEVA, via Paris, Oct. 28.—Telegrams received in Basle on Tuesday night from Cologne and Coblenz say that the war on the German right flank from Lille to the North Sea has become a massacre. In the course of the last six days, it is said, many thousands of Germans have been killed or wounded.

Long trains containing wounded continue to pour into Cologne, Düsseldorf, and Coblenz, and the Red Cross doctors and the hospitals in those places are said to be overwhelmed.

BRITISH SHIPS AIDING.

But Berlin Reports Bombardment at Nieuport Ineffective.

AMSTERDAM, (via London,) Oct. 28.—General headquarters at Berlin issued the following official communication this morning:

The fighting near Nieuport and Dixmude is continuing. The Belgians have received considerable reinforcements, but our attacks are being pushed. Sixteen British warships joined in the attack on our right wing, but their bombardment was without success.

Some of the French trenches in the Argonne woods have been carried and the defenders captured.

To sum up, there has been no material change on our western front.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 29.—The correspondent at Dover of the Central News says:

"The British fleet is still operating against the Germans off Belgium without as yet one vessel being struck. A battleship has now joined in the bombardment, using her 12-inch guns."

BERLIN, Oct. 28, (by Wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—English newspapers, according to official information given out here, estimate that the Belgian losses in the fighting along the Yser Canal number 10,000 men.

Swiss newspapers report that since the capture by the Germans of Camp des Romains the French losses in the battle line between Toul and Verdun have been more than 20,000 men. The French officers, according to statements in these newspapers, complain of the inferior quality of the new French troops.

Other press matter given out officially in Berlin today follows:

"Emperor William has bestowed upon the King of Bavaria and the King of Württemberg the decoration of the Iron Cross in recognition of the bravery of their troops.

EAST INDIAN TROOPS SURPRISE SENTRIES

PARIS, Oct. 28—11:56 P. M.—The vigor of the German attacks on the north was diminished greatly today after they had carried out two surprise assaults during the night, which cost both sides dear.

Real success has been attained by the Allies, who have not only prevented a breach in their lines, but have made considerable progress and now firmly hold the line from Nieuport to Dixmude and on to the neighborhood of Lille.

Officers who have returned from the front describe a difficult and dangerous task performed by the Indian troops during the night along the Belgian coast. They surprised and destroyed a German ammunition park, thus putting out of action several German batteries which had caused great annoyance to the Allies, who could not reach them with their artillery.

In absolute darkness several Indians creps up stealthily and killed the German sentries. They then set fire to a thicket where the ammunition wagons were sheltered, causing all the shells to explode.

The German lines have been visibly thinned to the south of Lille and St. Quentin and along the lines of trenches leading to the eastern frontier, but in the neighborhood of Craonne and Berry-au-Bac, on the Aisne, where Gen. von Kluck is commanding, the German forces are in great strength.

It is believed that the German troops who captured Antwerp are now massed near the Belgian Coast, and that additional divisions to assist them have been brought from other parts of the long battle front.

A recurrence of the German offensive was expected near Craonne, where Gen. von Kluck started a sharp diversion to test the strength of the Allies' lines, and was thrown back. Further east, in the Argonne region, and on the frontier severe fighting continues incessantly, as the result of which the French troops are reported to have made constant progress.

The cavalry of the Allies are performing marvels of endurance. One regiment took part in ten encounters in a single day, at the same time covering more than forty miles of ground. The other detachments are doing equally well. Their orders are to hold the Germans back and worry them night and day. But they have also developed an offensive movement of their own, and have succeeded in driving the Germans on to the reserves.

The Allies' artillerymen have successfully adopted a ruse to prevent the German aviators from discovering the positions of their batteries. They keep piles of brushwood near their guns, and when a German aeroplane is signaled the brushwood is placed over the guns and the men lie down beneath it or take shelter in the trees, where they remain immovable until the airman has passed out of sight.

Eight French cannon put eighteen German three-inch guns out of action in half an hour between the Aisne and the Oise, and prevented the Germans from effecting a plan to cut communications.

Prior to this French and German cavalry fought a minor action in which the Germans were repulsed.

PREDICTS GERMAN RETREAT.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—French newspapers express confidence in the Allies' resistance between Nieuport and Arras, and comment with satisfaction on the continually increasing distance from Paris of the most important battle centre.

"After three months of war, the Germans are making a life or death effort 200 miles from Paris. We ask whether this is the result William anticipated when planning his treacherous attack?"

The Temps, in similar vein, says:

"The development of affairs between Nieuport and Lens entails more and more concentration of troops toward the north. That is a progressive evacuation of French territory. The struggle is long, but the enemy is gradually weakening, and is bound soon to retire because he has played all his trumps, and will henceforth be unable to adopt new tactics or change his general battle scheme."

La Liberté's expert, Lieut. Col. Rousset, after remarking that modern war has by its extreme prolongation of flank movements been forced to return to old-fashioned frontal attacks through the ultimate extension of the line to the sea coast, continues:

"Even the taking of Antwerp has profited the Germans little. After months of costly struggle, William has indeed ravaged and slaughtered widely, but the critical point of the war is again Belgium, as at the outset. Where are his boasted triumphs?"

FRANCE'S YOUNGEST SOLDIER.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—A writer in The Petit Parisien says that he was challenged by two sentinels at the entrance to a village, one of whom he was surprised to see was a mere child, though on horseback with a rifle and wearing the regulation uniform of a cuirassier. When questioned, the boy told the following story, which seems to justify his claim to be called the youngest soldier in France:

"I am 12 years old. My name is Paul Waterlin. I used to live at Creil, where I was a Boy Scout. Not wishing to live alone after my father, who is a non-commissioned officer in the Thirty-second Artillery, went to the front—my mother has been dead a long time—I hid in a troop train, which took me to Namur. There I picked up a wounded man's rifle and fought in the trenches. Afterward Col. de B— of the cuirassiers sent for me. He said I had done well and might stay with his regiment. He let me keep my rifle, and ordered that a uniform and a horse be given me. Since then I have been through the battles of Denain, Meaux, and the Marne, and I am going north again soon."

When asked how he liked a soldier's life the boy said it was much better than living in houses, which many people who wished to adopt him tried to persuade him to do.

"At the end of our conversation," says the writer, "he lit the cigarette I proffered, blew a big cloud of smoke into the air, and cantered off, sitting his horse with true soldierly smartness."

GERMANS USING BAYONETS.

Show No Fear of Allies' Charges Now, Belgians Say.

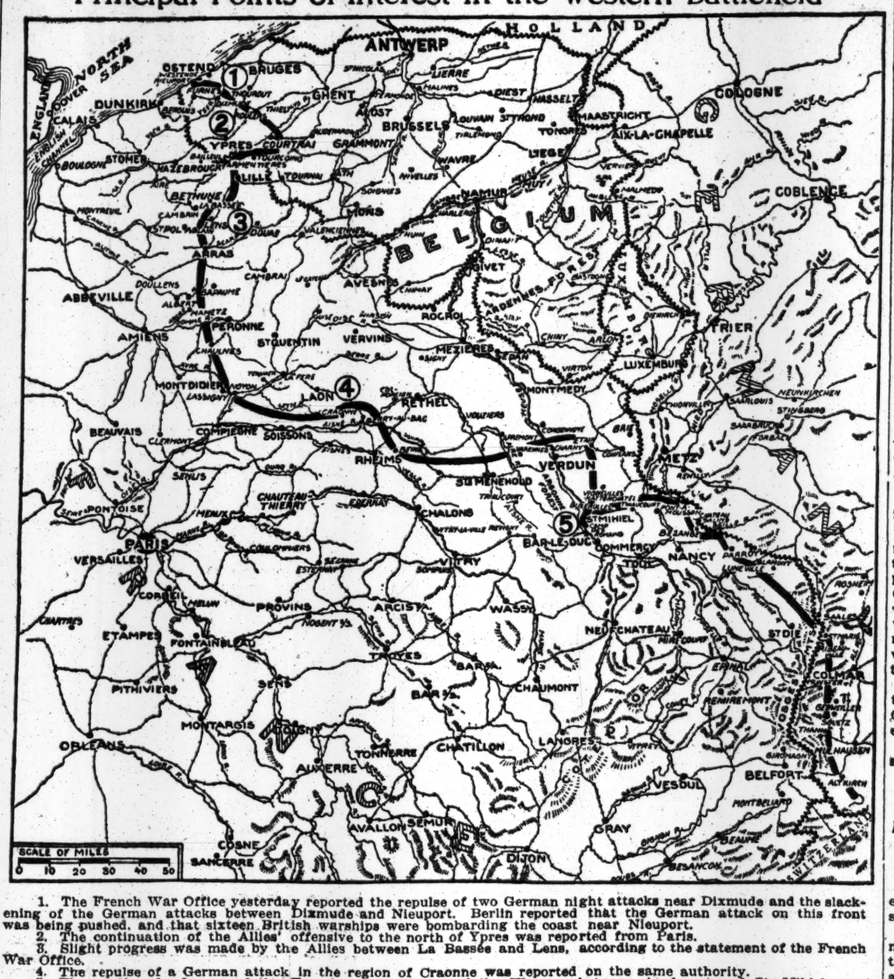
Special Cables to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

TOWN IN NORTHERN FRANCE, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Standard.)—Belgian soldiers tell me that the German infantry no longer appear to fear bayonet charges and make far greater use of the bayonet themselves than formerly. Their rifle shooting has also improved.

At Ostend the Germans are said to have forced and looted freely all the large houses that remained unoccupied. They have compelled most shops to keep open as usual.

Principal Points of Interest in the Western Battlefield



1. The French War Office yesterday reported the repulse of two German night attacks near Dixmude and the slackening of the German attacks between Dixmude and Nieuport. Berlin reported that the German attack on this front was being pushed, and that sixteen British warships were bombarding the coast near Nieuport.
2. The continuation of the Allies' offensive to the north of Ypres was reported from Paris.
3. Slight progress was made by the Allies between La Bassée and Lens, according to the statement of the French War Office.
4. The repulse of a German attack in the region of Craonne was reported on the same authority.
5. The continued advance of the French in the foresta of the Woevre, between Apremont and St. Mihiel, was announced in Paris.

1,500,000 SOLDIERS IN BRITISH ARMY NOW

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The British Army on the rolls and drilling in the United Kingdom now amounts approximately to 1,500,000 men. Of this total about 800,000 men belong to what is termed "Kitchener's army"—men who have responded to his two calls for 500,000 soldiers to serve three years or for the duration of the war. About 600,000 belong to the territorials, while the remainder are enrolled with the special services, so called, or with the regular army, and have seen service previously.

The territorials are considered the flower of the force, as a great majority of them belong to the middle and upper middle classes and are men accustomed to athletic pursuits. Both physically and mentally they are considered by military men to be about the finest body of its numbers ever assembled under arms.

They are drilling with feverish enthusiasm and are anxious to go abroad for service on the firing line. A considerable proportion of Field Marshal Lord Kitchener's army, of course, is not yet fully equipped, but the men are working hard. They are being armed and clothed with great rapidity. The Canadian contingent is not included in this total.

PORTUGAL'S ARMY 130,000.

With 50,000 in the Territorial Reserve—Artillery Has 300 Guns.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 29.—The Daily News's military expert writes:

"Now that Portugal has thrown in her lot with the allied powers a few notes about her army will be useful:

"As in other Continental countries, military service is obligatory between the ages of 20 and 45. Color service is for three years, after which the recruit passes into the first reserve for five years, and then into the second reserve for seven years. He is called out for two trainings of thirty days each during the first reserve service, and two trainings of twenty days each during his seven years' service in the second reserve. After completing these fifteen years of color and reserve service he passes for ten years into the territorial army, which corresponds to the German Landsturm.

"About 18,000 young men reach the age of 20 every year, some 10,000 of whom are taken to color service, the remaining 8,000 receiving no military training, but being available for any duties required of them on mobilization.

"When mobilization is ordered, after allowing for wastage, the number of fully trained men in the active army and its two reserves amounts to about 130,000, with perhaps 50,000 men of the Territorial Army as a final reserve. These 180,000 are organized in six divisions, with ten regiments of cavalry and six of artillery. There are about 6,000 cavalry and 300 guns.

"Besides this European force there are some 10,000 to 12,000 Colonial troops, used to garrison the Portuguese Colonies.

"The infantry are armed with Mauser rifles, the cavalry with Männlicher carbines, and the artillery with the French Schneider-Canet quick-firing gun of 75 millimeters.

"From the above figures we may say that Portugal can put an army of 100,000 men into the field, complete with all arms, and maintain it up to this strength for as long as the war lasts.

"Of the quality of the troops it is not possible to speak with any certainty, as we have no experience to guide opinion."

TALE OF PARIS CHOLERA.

Alleged Proclamation in Brussels, Explaining German Withdrawal.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Daily Telegraph.)—A proclamation is said to have been placarded by the Germans in three languages in Brussels, reading:

"Paris being infected by cholera, the Kaiser has withdrawn his troops and has permitted them to winter in Berlin, where they will enjoy the repose they have so nobly earned."

ARCHDUKE'S SLAYERS SENTENCED BY COURT

SERAJEVO, Bosnia, (via Amsterdam to London,) Oct. 28.—Judgment was passed today on the assassins of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir-apparent to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and his wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg.

Gavrio Prinzip, the actual assassin, escaped with a sentence of imprisonment for twenty years. Four of the conspirators were sentenced to death by hanging, one to life imprisonment, two, including Medeljo Gabrinovic, who threw a bomb at the Archduke but which did not explode, to twenty years; one to sixteen years, one to thirteen years, two to ten years, one to seven years, and two to three years.

The other defendants were acquitted.

Gavrio Prinzip, who is a Bosnian student, assassinated Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir-apparent to the throne of Austria, and his morganatic wife on June 28, when they were at Serajevo on a State visit. Prinzip fired two explosive bullets from a revolver, the first striking the Duchess in the abdomen and the second taking effect in the neck of the Archduke, both bullets causing death within a short time. Earlier in the day Medeljo Gabrinovic, a typist of Servian nationality, had thrown a bomb, which the Archduke warded off with his arm, so that it exploded some distance from his auto, injuring six other persons.

Prinzip's crime was the direct cause of Austria's ultimatum to Servia which precipitated the European war.

CALLS ON BAVARIANS TO WHIP THE BRITISH

Crown Prince Rupprecht Tells His Troops to Take Revenge on Them for Causing War.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 29.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegraph Company from Amsterdam says:

"Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, brother of the Belgian Queen, who is commanding the Sixth German Army Corps, has issued the following army order:

"'Soldiers of the Sixth Army Corps: We are fortunate to have opposed to us English troops—the troops of that people whose envy has been at work for years to surround us with enemies in order to strangle us. We owe to them the present bloody war. Therefore take reprisals for the cunning of the enemy and for all our sacrifices when we now meet them.

"'Show them that it is not so easy to wipe out the Germans of history now that we are face to face with an enemy who is the greatest obstacle to peace.'

"It may be recalled that Emperor William recently, in congratulating the commander of the Bavarian Army Corps for the bravery of his troops, said, according to The Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin, 'I should like the English to meet the Bavarians just once more.'"

GIVE OF THEIR BLOOD TO SAVE THE WOUNDED

Ready Volunteers Used by Dr. Carrel to Restore Exhausted Men for Whom Hope Failed.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 27. (Dispatch to The London Standard.)—The military medical authorities at Lyons have issued this appeal to the population:

"There are wounded who are so exhausted from the loss of blood that the only chance of saving their lives is by prompt transfusion from the veins of healthy and strong living men or women. Those who wish to offer their blood for such transfusions are invited to give names to the Hotel Dieu."

No sooner had this notice appeared in the local press than volunteers presented themselves and Dr. Alexis Carrel, the famous surgeon of the Rockefeller Institute and now at the head of one of the Lyons hospitals, was able immediately to save several patients. Three days ago there were 120 names at the Hotel Dieu representing rich and poor and all classes of society, and it is needless to add that many women were conspicuous in the list.

If the fight in Flanders turns to the advantage of the Allies one of the consequences will be the transfer of several large Red Cross hospitals to the frontier or thereabouts. The Duchess of Westminster's ambulance left Paris yesterday for Boulogne, and it is believed that the British base hospital at Versailles will be shifted.

French Yellow Book Due This Week.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The French Yellow Book, which is expected to appear at the end of the week, will be a volume of 250 pages, comprising all the documents bearing on the outbreak of the war, with conversations between French and foreign diplomats. The delay in publication is due to the fact that the book is being translated into various languages for the benefit of the Allies, and the translations are to appear simultaneously with the original, which, it is asserted, clearly shows that the responsibility for the war rests with Germany.

ROUTS BOER REBELS IN FIRST ENCOUNTER

80 PRISONERS ARE TAKEN

Pursuit Still in Progress When News of the Victory Was Sent from Cape Town.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—It is officially announced here that Premier Botha, Commander-in-Chief of the Union of South Africa forces, has routed the commando of the rebel Gen. Christian Beyers and captured eighty prisoners.

The following official statement was issued tonight:

"Gen. Botha reports that he left Rustenburg (a district in the west part of the Transvaal) on Tuesday morning and proceeded in the direction in which Gen. Christian Beyers with his commando was supposed to be. He came in touch with Gen. Beyers's men in the forenoon, drove them in headlong rout the whole of the day, and captured eighty of them, fully armed.

"In the fighting which took place toward the end of the pursuit one of Gen. Botha's men and several of Beyers's commando were wounded.

"When the report was made the pursuit was still in progress."

DEEM BOER REVOLT FUTILE.

May Be Serious, but Cannot Succeed, London Newspapers Declare.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Times in an editorial on the South African situation says:

"The rebels have chosen their moment well. The South African expeditionary force is engaged in operations against German Southwest Africa. Imperial troops which were quartered in the Dominion before the war were released by the South African Government for service in Europe and have in all probability already left the country.

"For all that we are clearly of the opinion, formed on a good deal of recent first-hand intelligence, that the rebellion is by no means such a serious affair as it may seem at first glance. Gen. Botha has enormous influence with his people. He led them in the war; he has been their chosen leader ever since. His personality, set against that of the rebel leaders, will tell heavily.

"The traitors reckon, no doubt, on concentrating in their favor all the vague discontent and lingering regrets for republican government that still survive among the Dutch of the country districts, but the weight of Dutch opinion will go solidly against them. The rebels may start with some successes; they may even succeed in scoring some sensational coup during the first few weeks, but they cannot have many resources or much staying power."

The Times's military correspondent says:

"Were South Africa lost to us tomorrow the fact would not materially affect the sources of our power, and we should not be such fools as to waste our military resources by trying to do several things at a time. When this war is over we shall have several million men under arms, and then we shall look around, and if we find any rebels, interesting or otherwise, upon high perches, we shall ask them to be good enough to step down.

"The rule we must follow must be that of Rome—never to fight more than one enemy at a time if we can avoid it and never to make peace while one enemy or one rebel remains in arms upon British soil or upon the soil of our Allies."

The Chronicle says: "There are still Boers in the Backveldt who dislike a United South Africa and have never abandoned the ideal of an inland Boer state living by itself, according to old Boer traditions. They are a minority, probably a small minority, but they have high fighting value, and some of the ablest Boer generals are among their leaders. Their secession has but recently broken up the South African party. There is now peril that it may break up the South African Union. The struggle if it came would be not so much a struggle against Great Britain, but a civil war, like that in the United States half a century ago between the Union and secession. Gen. Hertzog and ex-President Steyn may perhaps be regarded as now holding the key to the situation."

The Morning Post says: "We should most deeply regret if the Dutch South African community should plunge into fratricidal strife owing to the self-seeking intrigues of Germany, but we have good hopes that most of the rebels will return to their homes when they realize that the Union government is in earnest and that it intends to carry this matter through without counting the cost."

The Standard says: "It is the idlest of dreams that the days of Kruger can be restored. If Great Britain emerges, as she will surely emerge, victorious in this great conflict the territory comprised in the Union of South Africa must be subject to the British Crown. If, on the other hand, Germany should by any chance realize her vision of world power, it is equally certain that South Africa will be subject to the Kaiser. The power that has trodden on Belgium, whose representatives express daily whole-souled contempt for scraps of paper, will assuredly disregard any promises that may have been made in bidding for the help of the disaffected Dutch. The latter, in the event of German success, would have cause to regret, under the most illiberal rule the world knows, their ingratitude for the generous and confident magnanimity with which they have been treated by British statesmen."

The Daily News says: "Gen. De Wet was a chivalrous as well as brave enemy, and if he can foreswear the signature which he attached to the Peace Treaty many lesser men who may have hesitated will swing over to treason. It would be ridiculous to depreciate a movement which much fanaticism has gone to make, but seldom have men with fine qualities provoked so needless and futile a tragedy as that for which De Wet and Beyers have made themselves responsible."

BELGIANS WIN IN AFRICA.

Victory Gained Over Germans on Lake Tanganyika.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—A Havre dispatch to The Matin reports that M. Tombeut, Vice Governor General of Katanga, in the Belgian Congo, announces that Belgian troops, commanded by the Resident Commissioner, M. Henry, have completely defeated the Germans at Kissenie, on Lake Tanganyika, which lies between the Belgian Congo and German East Africa.

FOURTH OF BELGIANS DISABLED

Ten Thousand of Their Little Army Killed or Wounded.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 29.—A correspondent of The Daily Mail in Northern France, dealing with the sacrifices and courage of the Belgians, says:

"Over 10,000 have been killed or wounded, which is a quarter of their whole force operating in the coast battle. They have been defending a strip of territory from Dixmude to Nieuport, a region hardly bigger than a big German farm.

"Nearly all of their injured have been wounded in the back, but never were wounds more honorable, as the bullets and shrapnel hit them as they lay prone under the hail of the steel volcano."

SOUNDS OF FIRING AT SEA.

Reports of a Possible Naval Battle Off Belgian Coast.

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Oct. 29, via London.— The Telegraaf says:

"Gun firing lasting forty-five minutes was heard early Wednesday morning in a northerly direction from Knocke, Belgium, and was repeated twelve hours later. Apparently there has been a sea battle.

"It is rumored that there was an armistice along the Yser Wednesday, as no firing was heard. Only a few wounded arrived at Bruges Wednesday. The Germans are sending new guns and wagons of barbed wire and also wood with which to build bridges to the Yser."

The Nieuws Van Den Dag says that fugitives arriving at Sluis from Bruges and Ostend reported fierce fighting last night between Nieuport and Ostend. The Allies are said to have made bayonet attacks and the Germans to have finally retreated northward to Middelkerke, leaving many dead. The newspaper adds that the Germans are taking heavy guns to Ostend from Knocke and Bruges.

GERMANY LIFTS BAN ON POTASH CARGO

Shipment of 1,000 Tons Arranged by Our Ambassador Will Relieve Famine Here.

MARKS CHANGE OF POLICY

Other Goods from Switzerland Stopped in Transit in Germany Also Are Freed.

BERLIN, Oct. 28, (Via The Hague and London.)—James W. Gerard, the American Ambassador to Germany, has induced the German Government to lift the embargo placed upon 1,000 tons of potash destined for America.

The exportation of potash was forbidden after the war began, and the shipment this week of the potash through Holland was the result of Mr. Gerard's intervention. Goods forwarded from Switzerland to New York, which were stopped in Germany because of the war, have also been freed for shipment.

The news of the lifting of the embargo on this shipment of potash will be received here with relief by agricultural and industrial interests, which have been facing a famine in this much-needed product. Practically all of the potash used in this country for fertilizing and other purposes has been drawn from the extensive beds of potassium at Strassfurt, Germany, owned by the German Kali Company.

The United States has been Germany's best customer for potash. The importations in the Government's fiscal year, which ended on June 30 last, were 237,885 tons of muriate of potash valued at $7,915,523 and 45,745 tons of sulphate of potash worth $1,897,740, the total being $9,813,263. Since the war began there have been no importations, as the German Government forbade shipments.

The situation became so serious here that the Department of State was asked to have Ambassador Gerard take up the matter with the imperial authorities at Berlin. The fact that the Ambassador was successful in obtaining the release of one shipment will lead importers and users of the product in this country to hope that regular shipments may be resumed without delay.

For three years past Congress has made a small appropriation for the Department of Agriculture and the Geological Survey to search for potash, and this year $20,000 is being expended in drilling for such deposits.

PREDICT SPLIT IN GERMANY.

Travelers in Holland Say People Are Tired of the War.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—There are sundry means of learning something of the mood of the German people. There is a regular coming and going of business men between Berlin and other German cities and Amsterdam, The Hague, and Rotterdam. I have come into contact with many of these business men, and they have willingly given me their impressions.

All with whom I spoke have carried away with their very curious and interesting impressions as to the present relations between the German Army and the German people.

"It would never surprise me," said one traveler returned from Berlin, "if this war brings the German Army and the German people into very violent opposition. The nation may split into two camps—the army and the people."

They ask for the truth, and they receive only a formal tale of daily victories from the bureau, say my informants, and there is a growing spirit of doubt, and in their heart of hearts they are sick of the war.

German commercial circles are suffering intense anxiety, and I am told that the Government in Berlin is besieged day and night by men whose all is at stake and who crave for some word either to dispel or confirm their fears.

German Aeroplane's Reported Action the Cause of Ill-Feeling.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—A Havas News Agency dispatch from Belfort says that a German aeroplane which flew over the fortress of Belfort on Friday and into Swiss territory dropped a bomb which fell in Switzerland. Much irritation, it is added, was caused against Germany by the incident.

A wholesale house, whose rating is AA, made a change recently in the method of marketing its product.

Very soon thereafter it became evident that its system of accounting was hopelessly out of date. A new system had to be devised—speedy, accurate and yet "mechanical." Every system you can think of was investigated—book ledger, loose-leaf ledger and card ledger.

The "net of it" was that the order went to Library Bureau—not because its price was lowest, but because the L. B. card ledger was proven, BY TEST, to be the best—speediest, absolutely accurate and yet entirely "mechanical."

Moral? There isn't any.

Berlin Philosopher Proclaims His Nation's Incomparable Superiority.

"WE HAVE NO FRIENDS"

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Daily Chronicle publishes a translation of a letter written by Privy Councillor Dr. Adolf Lasson, Professor of Philosophy at the University of Berlin, to a friend in Holland. He says:

"For months I have not written to a single foreigner; foreigner means enemy—dum probatur contrarium, (till the contrary is proved.) No one can remain neutral to the German State and people. Either you consider it the most perfect creation that history has produced up to now, or you acquiesce in its destruction; nay, in its extermination.

"A man who is not a German knows nothing of Germany. We are morally and intellectually superior beyond all comparison as to our organizations and our institutions.

"Wilhelm II., celiciac generis humani, (delight of the human race,) had in his possession a power with which he was in position to smash everything; yet he has always protected peace, justice, and honor. The greater his successes, the more devout and humble he has become. Our army is the epitome of German excellence. We must sacrifice our dearest, our best, our most noble to fight with Russian beasts, English mercenaries, and Belgian fanatics. The French are the only opponents at all comparable with us.

"There shall be no peace until the three mischief-plotters who would not let Europe rest are completely subjugated. We want peace and safety for ourselves in order to be able to guarantee them for others. We wish to carry on untiringly our work of culture and peace.

"We have nothing to apologize for. We are no bully State. We threaten no one so long as we are not attacked. We do good deeds to all people. Louvain was not destroyed—only the houses of murderers. The cathedral of Rheims is not destroyed; the French caused the damage.

"England acts in politics as if we lived in the eighteenth century. Germany has taught the world how to carry on war and politics in a conscientious and proper manner. England will come to nought; France can still be saved, let us hope, but Russia must no longer be on our frontier. This time we will have a clean slate.

"Our real enemy is England. Woe unto thee, England! Go is with us and the just cause!"

The professor, dealing with Holland in another letter, says:

"The Kingdom of Holland lives an easy life at our expense. It lives on its old reputation and its old money bags, in complete historical nullity. Holland is a mere appendage to Germany, living a comfortable existence in dressing gown and slippers, taking little trouble and little thought. Holland is perfectly free as to its sentiments, but any action that might be hostile to the German Empire would have most dire consequences.

"We Germans have little esteem and less respect and sympathy for the Holland of the present day. Holland in its isolation sinks more and more into the dull narrow-mindedness that is the mark of small sects. Without its hold on Germany it would have long ago disappeared.

"God be praised that the Dutch are not our friends! We live in the free breath of history and have nothing in common with this miserable bourgeois sentiment of theirs. We Germans have no friends anywhere because we are efficient and morally superior to all. Those who cannot attain our moral strength are afraid of us and think us dangerous. We are the freest people of the earth, for we obey, and our law is reason."

RECKONS WAR'S HUGE COST.

Waste in Three Months $1,750,000,000, Says German Economist.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The German political economist, Prof. Julius Wolf, in a recent lectre in Berlin said that Germany's economic and financial losses had already run up to thousands of millions of marks.

The damage done by Russians in East Prussia and by the French invasion of Alsace-Lorraine, he said, was not much less than $250,000,000 but the losses inflicted upon Russia, Belgium, and France were incomparably greater.

Prof. Wolff reckoned that the armies in the field together cost $7,500,000 a day.

In three months they must reckon upon a total waste of $1,750,000,000, including losses other than war expenditures.

GIVES ASSURANCE ON JAPAN

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—In an editorial headed Japan's rôle The Temps discusses the Japanese occupation of the Marshall Islands in relation to its bearing on the United States. The Temps is generally considered to be the organ of the Foreign Office; so it may be taken that the article expresses official opinion, especially in view of the fact that the rigid censorship here, which is not confined to war news, is not likely to allow any unauthorized pronouncement to appear.

The writer asks whether the Japanese in the Marshall or Caroline Islands are likely to be a graver menace to American interests, particularly the Panama Canal, than victorious imperialist Germans.

"Clearly it is Germany's game," he says, "to try to arouse hostility on this score in America against Japan; but how does her Ambassador at Washington reconcile his solicitude for American rights or the Monroe Doctrine with the statement that Germany would consider herself justified in an armed attack on Canada? But Americans need not think that the Japanese seized the Islands with the purpose of permanent occupation; they did so only to prevent their utilization by German commerce destroyers in the Pacific. Though the German Emperor at the time of the occupation of Kiao-Chau warned Europe against the 'Yellow Peril,' it was really the Germans who acted piratically against China. In expelling them Japan in the East, as the Allies in the West, is playing a rôle of righteous judge."

TOKIO, Oct. 28.—The Japanese cruiser Chitose repulsed two attacks by German warships on the nights of Oct. 18 and 19, following the destruction of the Japanese cruiser Takachiho by a German torpedo boat destroyer on Oct. 17. The German ships fled into Kiao-Chau Harbor.

Scene of Operations on the Russian Front.

On the East Prussian frontier in the region of Bakalargewo (1) all the German attacks designed to relieve the west wing of the army in retreat in Poland have been repulsed, according to the Russian official announcements.

In the region comprised in the dotted semi-circle in Poland the main Austro-German army has suffered a defeat which the Russian General Staff characterizes as of "the very greatest importance." Lodz and Radom are reported to have been captured and the invading forces to be falling back to intrenched positions on the River Warthe.

In Galicia desperate fighting is in progress along the River San. South of Sambor (3) an entire division of Austrian cavalry has been trapped and wiped out, twenty guns being captured.

BERLIN CONFIRMS RUSSIAN SUCCESS

the neighborhood of Radom and Ilzha. This may be set off against reports of lack of success in pushing advantages already won in this region. Also the Russian cavalry, with usual dash, have attacked and carried Lodz, which has been the stronghold of Germanism for many years and since the invasion of Poland has been the headquarters of one of their armies.

Semi-officially it is denied that anything adverse has happened in Galicia, and it is added that these reports are to be attributed to the usual sources of false intelligence.

Official information shows that the Germans have been steadily driven back, fighting over a front extending 150 miles. Since the last official news was received the retreat has carried the Germans back about eighteen miles over the greater part of this wide front.

They are moving backwards with the greatest rapidity on the left and still maintain a more forward position about the centre, where at one point, Glovachev, they are still only six miles west of the Vistula. This, however, is a single isolated point where the Germans have managed to keep their position so far forward.

From Glovachev southward for thirty odd miles to the River Iljanka the German front remains almost the same as before the great battle began, but the Russians here also have crossed the Vistula and are beginning to drive their enemy's forces back before them. The Germans in this region are in retreat along the road leading from Novo Alexandria toward Radom, and at Zwolen the Russians have taken prisoners 50 officers and 3,000 men and have captured eight guns and a number of Maxims.

It is evident, therefore, that this part of the German line which is still in the neighborhood of the Vistula is now on the move westward retreating from that river. From Glovachev the front still maintained by the retreating Germans runs northwest through Bialobrzegi on the River Piliza, 20 miles away from the Vistula, through Rawa, forty-six miles away, to Ezhov, fifty-four miles west of the Vistula. Thence for another forty miles the German line runs northwest by north to Kutno on the River Bzura, seventy-two miles due west of Warsaw.

From these topographical indications it will be seen that in the last twenty-four hours the Russians have again forced the Germans back one full day's march. Having regard to the condition of the country and the state of the weather, this is a remarkably good day's work and certainly indicates that the Germans are retreating as fast as they possibly can.

The severest fighting in the last twenty-four hours took place between Ezhov and Rawa, the Russians succeeding in taking here part of the defensive line of the Germans held by their guard corps.

Further south the line runs the worse is the quality of the troops on the enemy's side. Thus between Piliza and Glovachev there are many entirely new German regiments engaged, and they are to be sacrificed in rearguard actions to enable the better quality troops to get away to intrenchments along the Wartha River. These now are not more than one cavalry march in the rear of the westernmost point now reached by the retreating Germans.

Similar success attends the Russian arms in the southernmost theatre of this titanic contest. Near Solets, a few miles south of confluence of the Iljanka and Vistula, another crossing of the latter river has been effected by the Russians. This appears to be in execution of a flanking movement against the right of Germany's present line. Eight officers and 900 men, with a number of Maxims, were captured here by the Russians.

On the extreme south below Przemysl the Russian forces have reached the railway joining Stari Miasto and Turka there.

The Germans have again attempted to advance from East Prussia, and some hard fighting has resulted, but the German attacks in this region have been repulsed with loss, and it is evident that the German forces in East Prussia have failed to create a diversion, or otherwise come to the aid of the defeated left wing of the German front in the great battlefield.

The Emperor and Empress jointly have given 200,000 roubles to the fund for the relief of the distress caused over half of Poland by the devastating methods of warfare of the Germans.

Long before the vanguard arrived before Warsaw the Germans had sent away many trainloads of property looted from country estates in the districts of Poland invaded by them. They have been acting on the principle of carrying off everything worth having, and destroying everything not worth carrying away. In the regions bordering on East Prussia the Germans hoped to spend the Winter comfortably, and therefore spared the houses while stealing the valuable portions of the furniture and fittings. In Poland they apparently had no hopes of Winter residence, and devastated the land.

This cruel and most unwise act has raised a cloud of guerrillas behind the retreating Germans. Bodies of guerrillas under more or less expert guidance are harassing the retreat in every way. One body consisting of youngsters in their teens succeeded in discovering the spot where the Germans had buried huge charges and shells needed for their heavy calibre guns. Others cut lines of communication and blew up bridges, while all alike ambush isolated parties of the enemy and destroy every man.

LAID TRAP FOR GERMANS.

Russians Enticed Them Across the Vistula, Then Annihilated Them.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—In the Commander in Chief's latest dispatch one section of the 300-mile battle front, extending for sixty or seventy miles along the San River, is unaccounted for. I have excellent reason to believe that this section was covered with only a cavalry screen or was very slightly defended. This is the same device played upon the Germanic forces at Krasnik and again at Grodno, both times catching the German Generals in a trap.

They crossed the Vistula in the neighborhood of Solets. The Vistula here divides into two streams, inclosing an island about two miles wide and three long. Fantastic bends of the river above and below this island give opportunities for crossing by providing artillery positions to cover the attempt. Moreover, where the river divides to run round the island each arm is very much narrower than the main stream.

The Germans crossed here, probably without opposition beyond that of a cavalry screen. They then marched north upon the fortress of Ivangorod, while an energetic attack was made from Radom upon the fortress from the front. This is the movement which I mistakenly took to be an attempt to break the Russian centre. In fact it was a flanking attack upon the left flank of Russia's main armies, which rested upon the fortress of Ivangorod. South of the neighborhood of Novo Alexandria the Germans, therefore, were astride the Vistula.

They were met on the right or east bank of the river by the Russians at Kazimirjeff, an inconsiderable village six miles south of Novo Alexandria, which is ten miles south of the fortress of Ivangorod. After a long stretch of level country, with bad village roads and occasional marsh land, the terrain about Kazimirjeff becomes hilly, and among these low hills the Germans, after a tiring march, found themselves face to face with the Russians, who had rested, and were fresh for the fray.

They swept down upon the advancing Germans with the bayonet, and presumably annihilated that force, for no prisoners are heard of, though the Russians took their maxims by this charge.

WARSAW IGNORED BATTLE.

Went Calmly About Its Business, Though Shells Fell Near City.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 29.—The Daily Chronicle's Petrograd correspondent describing conditions in Warsaw during the recent five-days' conflict, says the German shells burst within four miles of the city, yet within the gates the shops continued to ply their trade, the cafés were thronged, and occasionally officers would come in after two or three days' hard fighting to sup and rest in the brilliantly lighted hotels.

Even the aeroplanes that threw bombs on the city every fine day did not cause panic. Crowds would follow the swift flight of the weird machines until a bomb fell and did its infernal work. Then there would be a rush, but five minutes after the crowd would hurry back to the spot to inspect the damage.

Fierce indignation was aroused by these aeroplanes. In Warsaw fifty people were killed on the spot by bombs, or died of wounds, and ninety-nine others were injured. Not a single Government building suffered.

OUTNUMBERED BY RUSSIANS.

Fresh German Advance Hoped For by Berlin Military Critics.

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—(By Wireless Telegraph to Sayville, L. I.)—Austro-German official reports from the eastern theatre of the war indicate that severe battles are raging along the Vistula and San Rivers. The Germans apparently are engaging numericaally superior Russian forces, and the battle is attracting equal attention with the struggle in France and Belgium.

The bulletin issued last night by the Austrian War Department stated that the Austrians southwest of Ivangorod were combating numerically superior forces of Russians.

Further Russian corps, whose crossing of the Vistula River north of Ivangorod has been mentioned in the earlier German reports, seem, according to Major Moraht, military correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt, to be directed against the German army.

"It is to be hoped," Major Moraht says, "that the leaders of the allied Austrian and German armies will be able to co-operate fully against this Russian movement. The bravery of the allied troops gives ground for the expectation that the advance against the Russian positions on the Vistula will be renewed."

The military expert of the Lokal Anzeiger points out that the Russians with the Vistula in their rear would be in a bad position if they received a check. The situation in Galicia, the writer says, is unchanged.

Other press matter given out in Berlin today follows:

"Three hundred prominent Russians have published in the Moscow papers a manifesto setting forth that the Russian troops should not commit atrocities, thereby admitting that atrocities have been committed by the Russians in East Prussia.

"Signor Bugatto, an Italian Deputy in the Austrian Parliament, writing in the Italian newspaper, Popolo Romano, says that the war is bringing together all nationalities in Austria and is strengthening the monarchy. Italians, he says, should not mix in Austria's fight against the ultra-Slav, who is the enemy of the Italian race.

"Reports received here from Vienna declare that the English press news to the effect that the health of the Austrian Emperor is unfavorable is without foundation. The Emperor grants audiences daily."

CAVALRY DIVISION WIPED OUT.

Russians Trap Hungarians in Narrow Valley—Capture 20 Guns.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 28.—The Austrian attempt to envelope the left flank of Gen. Brousiloff, the Russian commander in Galicia, according to a semi-official announcement issued here today, finished badly for the Austrians.

South of Sambor, in the narrow valley of the Podbuj, on Oct. 24 the Russians surrounded the entire Thirty-eighth Division, (cavalry,) of the Hungarian forces, together with some landsturm troops, and with a few exceptions annihilated them, capturing twenty guns and a train of ammunition.

THE WAR SITUATION

BY THE MILITARY EXPERT OF THE NEW YORK TIMES
(An Associate Editor of The Army and Navy Journal.)

The energy with which the Germans are pressing their attacks along the Yser River in the westernmost corner of Belgium shows that it is not a demonstration, but a determination to obtain some military object. The operations in this district confirm to some extent the rumor reported from Danish sources that the Kaiser has issued orders for the capture of Dunkirk and Calais at any cost.

The country in which this fighting is taking place is especially disadvantageous for the assailant. The low-lying ground is converted into bogs by the rains, and the creeks have soft, muddy bottoms, making them dangerous to ford. The flat stretches enable the defenders to make use of their rifle and artillery fire at full effective range, while the assailants have difficulty in finding natural features to conceal their movements. The accounts indicate that the Germans pushed forward their night attacks without delaying to gain superiority in artillery fire. The costs in killed and wounded of these assaults against intrenched positions must have been terrible. This great effort of the Germans to break through the Belgian defensive line seems to have been stopped for the time being, due to the arrival of French reinforcements.

Both sides claim the advantage in the fighting east of Ypres and between Lille and Arras. No definite progress, however, is given in the dispatches of either side. In this fighting the forces of the Allies seem to have become intermingled to a large extent. British and Belgians retreated along the coast. French and Belgians are fighting at Dixmude. French and Hindus are fighting east of Ypres. The British have been mentioned at Armentières, the French at Lille, the French at Lens, and the British again at Arras. From this point south to the Aisne the line is held by the French alone. For forty miles, opposite Soissons, and Craonne, the first British army holds the line. The original troops have been augmented and to a large extent replaced by the stream of reinforcements that has been forwarded to this part of the line. From Craonne to Switzerland the French again hold back the German armies.

The plea of the British commander in the Belgian field of operations for a supply of interpreters calls attention to the serious difficulty that any allied force must have in co-ordinating its operations. Not only are the languages different, causing misunderstanding among subordinates, but the whole system of control of operations differs among the three nations. Both field guns and rifles are of different calibres, complicating the ammunition supplies. Each detached unit can use only its own cartridges. If its supply gives out in the fighting, as frequently occurs, it cannot have recourse to borrowing from its neighbors. For these reasons an allied force can never be handled as promptly as an army of common language and military methods. A very appreciably advantage in numbers and artillery can thus be easily offset by the natural failures in co-operation.

Our news comes so largely from Paris and London, where it is largely colored by the efforts to encourage the local population, that we are likely to overlook the remarkable accomplishments of the German military system. In 1912 Germany spent, in round numbers, $170,000,000 on her armies; France the same years spent $180,000,000; Great Britain, $150,000,000, and Russia, $226,000,000. With an annual expenditure less than one-third that of her three opponents, Germany has been able to make a showing nearly as good as all of them put together. The addition of the Austrian strength has enabled the Germans to gain the advantage in the east as well as in the west, and everywhere to force the fighting into the opponents' territories.

The superior efficiency of the German system is still more clearly shown by comparing the populations and resources of the contending countries. In Europe alone the Germanic empires have a total population of 116,500,000, while that of the five allied nations is 232,000,000, practically twice as large. The true relative resources are more nearly shown by the total world population of the various States. On this basis the 132,000,000 Germans are contending against 722,000,000 Allies. After ninety days of war the Germans are still spared the ravages and the burdens consequent upon a hostile invasion. They are free to devote all of their resources to the maintenance of their offensive campaign. The overrunning of the north of France and of all Belgium has gained for them the supplies and other resources of these districts and has inflicted a corresponding loss upon the Allies. In the eastern campaign the occupation of Western Poland has gained for the Germans a like advantage and has offset the reverses of their Austrian confederates in Galicia.

There is every evidence that the fighting will be kept up through the Winter with unabated fury. The German troops that started for the front in the last week of September were already going out completely equipped with fur gloves and sheepskin coats. They evidently intended no let-up in their campaign, and the Allies must needs follow suit in order to avoid further reverses. When to the hardships of battle and disease are added the sufferings due to the rigors of Winter, the seriousness of the business of fighting will be still more impressive. It is a queer psychological situation that the starving of a few noncombatants or the hardships of suffering cold can do more than the killing of thousands of men to make us stop to think of the terrible costs of war.

In spite of the checks of the last week, the end of twelve weeks of war finds the Germans well ahead in the fighting in every field. There is little doubt that every German feels that the national system has vindicated itself. The German effort is now believed to have reached its maximum; the events of the next few days will determine whether the Allies have yet developed sufficient strength to turn the tide of battle in their favor.

ALARM FELT IN PARIS OVER GREECE'S ACTION

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—It is thought in official circles here that the action of Italy in Albania and that of Greece in Epirus will not cause complications, as the intentions of both Governments have been made perfectly clear and fully explained.

Under other circumstances Austria might object to the Italian action, but now such objection is not expected, as Austria, it is believed, will not risk forcing Italy into war.

By The Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The action of Greece in occupying the southern end of Albania (Epirus) is regarded by competent observers here as of great moment. They think it may cause Italy to occupy a part of Albania as well as the port of Avlona.

The Greek Premier, M. Venizelos, questioned in the Chamber of Deputies concerning the situation in Albania, is quoted by the correspondent at Athens of the Havas Agency, who telegraphs under date of Oct. 27, as having replied that the Greek Government had ordered the reoccupation by Greek troops of the Argyro, Castro, and Premoti districts in Albania. The Government, he said, did not aim at conquest, but its action was dictated rather by reasons of humanity. It was simply taking police precautions to assure the security of the frontiers of the Kingdom of Greece.

The Premier added that Greece continued to recognize the decision of the Conference of London on this subject, and remained faithful to her engagements.

NO ROYAL SPONSOR FOR CHARITY BALL

British Ambassador Denies Prince of Wales's Favor for Relief Fund Festivity.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador, issued tonight a formal denial of the report that the Prince of Wales had consented to act as honorary sponsor of a ball to be held in New York City on Monday night for the Prince of Wales Relief Fund. At the same time the British Ambassador made it plain that he could not be associated with any effort to raise relief funds through entertainments or festivities. The announcement of the Ambassador said:

"A statement has recently appeared in the New York press to the effect that his Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, had consented to be honorary sponsor of a ball to be held in the Biltmore Hotel in New York on Nov. 2 in aid of the Prince of Wales Fund, and had signified his intention of sending a personal envoy to be present.

"The British Ambassador at Washington has received his Royal Highness's command to let it be known that the above statement is absolutely without foundation.

"Sir Cecil Spring-Rice wishes to add that while the many generous offers of help to the wounded soldiers and bereaved families in England are very highly appreciated, he feels obliged to dissociate himself from any effort to raise money for these purposes by means of an entertainment or festivity of any kind. He is confident that any British subjects who have generously offered to collect funds in this way will readily understand his feeling that it would be unsuitable for him to be connected with any such festivity at this time of widespread sorrow and mourning."

AMERICAN CARGOES SECRET THIRTY DAYS

BRITISH HALT KROONLAND

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Secretary McAdoo today sent instructions to all Collectors of Customs to refrain from giving publicity to the movements of vessels clearing from any port in the United States. This step was taken to protect the vessels carrying cotton or other staples from this country to Europe from being held up or seized by the warships of any of the belligerents. The Secretary's dispatch follows:

"Until further directed you will refrain from making public or giving out to any other than duly authorized officers of the Government information regarding any and all outward cargoes and the destination thereof until thirty days after the date of the clearance of the vessel or vessels carrying such cargoes."

Nothing was known at the New York Custom House yesterday regarding the order of the Secretary of the Treasury to keep outward-bound cargoes and their destination secret for thirty days. It has been the custom to give out such information daily for publication in the shipping trade papers, but not names of consignors or consignees.

A shipping expert pointed out that the new regulation would not only restrict the available information as to what products were being exported, but would nullify the activities of Consuls here in conveying information of cargoes to cruisers on guard outside the three-mile limit.

GUARANTEE BY DENMARK.

Export of Foodstuffs to Germany to be Made a Penal Offense.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—The repeated detention of Danish vessels trading between Denmark and America has resulted in action being taken by the Danish Government.

In Parliament yesterday it pointed out that Denmark only obtained supplies of corn and other foodstuffs at present from America and that Danish importers were getting anxious about British cruisers seizing Danish steamers.

The Prime Minister said all rumors as to illegal export or re-export of foodstuffs to Germany were untrue. The aim of the Government was to secure a guarantee of no illegal export being carried on, and they proposed to submit a bill including a penal clause against illegal statements as to cargoes and destination.

The bill will pass in two days, the Danish Foreign Office thus being able to guarantee to the British Government that there shall be no illegal export from Denmark.

BRITISH DETAIN KROONLAND.

American Steamer Halted at Gibraltar Carries Cargo of Copper.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The Kroonland, a steamer flying the American flag and belonging to the Red Star Line, has been detained at Gibraltar for examination of her papers, according to a dispatch received by the State Department today from Richard L. Sprague, the American Consul at Gibraltar. The Kroonland was bound from New York for Naples and Greece with a cargo of copper.

Consul Sprague did not report the cause of the detention, but stated that the vessel carried a cargo of copper and a number of passengers. Acting Secretary of State Lansing cabled to Mr. Sprague for a detailed report. No action will be taken by the State Department until all the facts have been received. If assurances can be given to Great Britain that the cargo, understood to be about 1,500 tons of copper, is not destined for the use of an enemy, it is expected that there will be little difficulty in obtaining an adjustment of the matter. Copper has been classified by Great Britain as conditional contraband.

The Kroonland's passengers may include German and Austrian reservists, and the British Government merely may wish to make them prisoners of war. At the German Embassy it was stated that the right of Great Britain to remove reservists was challenged. Great Britain insists upon the right.

The State Department was advised by Ambassador Page at London on Oct. 1 that the British Foreign Office had added unwrought copper to conditional contraband. In his note of Oct. 26 to Acting Secretary Lansing, Ambassador Spring-Rice explained that, "although the British Government have detained cargoes of contraband in order to make sure that they are really intended for neutral countries and have retained some cargoes, such as copper, destined for Krupp's ammunition works, they have not yet taken a single cargo without paying for it, and have allowed every cargo really destined for neutral countries to proceed to its destination."

BRITANNIA WAS HELD UP.

Captain Reports That Liner Was Stopped Outside New York Harbor.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 28.—The French steamship Britannia, from New York for Marseilles, carrying supplies for the Allies, and also reservists on their way to join the French and the Portuguese Armies, was held up by a cruiser outside New York Harbor last night, according to a report made by the Britannia's Captain when the vessel arrived here today.

The officers of the cruiser refused to give the name or the nationality of their ship. After questioning the Captain they allowed the Britannia to proceed.

ZEPPELIN HANGAR AT OSTEND.

Germans Said to Have Erected a Huge Fireproof Tent.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 28, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—No firing from the great battle on the Belgian coast was heard at Sluis today up to noon.

The enormous number of German wounded is causing great embarrassment. The Germans have bought $7,000 worth of wood in Ghent for the purpose of building a huge temporary hospital.

Near Ostend the Germans are said to have erected a gigantic tent of fireproof canvas as a hangar for airships. In connection with this report should be read the news from Hasselt that between Sunday noon and Monday evening seven Zeppelins passed westward. Hasselt lies on a straight line drawn from Düsseldorf or Cologne to the Belgian coast.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—As the fighting between Nieuport and Dixmude increased in violence Ostend become more and more crowded with German wounded, according to the Amsterdam correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company.

Nearly all the inhabitants of Ostend are fleeing the city, the correspondent continues, and the streets are choked with German troops moving to the front and exhausted soldiers returning. In the vicinity of Ostend the German forces are almost exclusively marines.

Five hundred British prisoners were brought into Ostend, but subsequently they were transferred to Ghent. There are also many wounded of the Allies in Ostend, and the roads to Ghent are crowded with marching soldiers.

TIPPERARY FOR BERNSTORFF

Unwitting Effect of the English Marching Song on German Envoy.

Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador at Washington, probably did not realize it, but for a few minutes on Tuesday at lunch hour he was beating time to the strains of "It's a Long Way to Tipperary."

It happened in the lobby of the Ritz-Carlton. The Ambassador was talking energetically to a man, and, as usual, when strongly moved, he accompanied his words with a succession of short, rapid gestures. Just as he was in the midst of his exposition of his subject the band in the Palm Court, which is on the other side of a screen, began to play the British marching song.

The Ambassador's hand noticeably moved up and down with the music. However, this did not continue for long, and was obviously unintentional; so that it is not likely the incident will be made the subject of diplomatic conversations.

PRINTS THE "CHANT OF HATE."

London Times Reproduces Verses Translated for New York Times.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 29.—The Times this morning reproduces from THE NEW YORK TIMES of Oct. 15 Barbara Henderson's translation of Ernst Lissauer's "Chant of Hatred Against England," which appeared originally in the Munich paper Jugend. The Times, in an editorial article, says:

"We do not remember such hatred as this expressed by any poet. There is something frightful about it, something deadly, concentrated, malignant.

"It is no hysterical outburst of weakness, but a revelation of collected, conscious, and purposeful rage. It only sums up in concentrated form many previous expressions of the same feeling, but it does so with an intensity which makes it a portent.

"Such verses spring only from the heart of a people, and we shall do well to note them."

Conserving the Bank Balance

AN automobile may be a necessity to many people who economize all along the line.

* *

There are a few machines which closely resemble the highest priced cars—which are as smart and wear as long—which conserve fashion on one side and the pocketbook on the other — available for such folk.

* *

Some very rich men, also, buy such cars.

* *

Weber and Heilbroner clothes, at $2 to $50, occupy an exactly similar relationship to the made-to-order clothes of the metropolis which cost $80 and $90 and $100 a suit.

They represent all the intrinsic value that their price can call for — and the fashion which is a necessity to the New York man.

If there ever were clothes which conserved the bank balances of men of affairs, these clothes do.

* *

In haberdashery, the same end has been kept in view — and the largest haberdashery business on the continent is the result.

MRS. CARMAN OFF FOR FARM

Will Make Trip in Auto, Stopping for Visit in Brooklyn.

Special to The New York Times.

FREEPORT, L. I., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Florence C. Carman left Freeport at 11:30 o'clock this morning for a week's rest at Dr. Carman's farm at Ravan Rock, N. J. She was accompanied by Dr. Carman, Elizabeth, her ten-year-old daughter, and George Morton Levy, her junior counsel. Mrs. Carman expects to make the whole trip in Dr. Carman's automobile, stopping off in Brooklyn to visit her niece, Mrs. Helen Corby.

When Mrs. Carman left the group of friends who had come to her home to see her off this morning the porch and interior of the house were like a flower show. Many flowers have been sent to Mrs. Carman since her release under $25,000 bail Monday, after the jury had failed to agree as to whether she was guilty of murdering Mrs. Lulu Bailey of Hempstead.

POLITICAL

YOUR OWN BUSINESS.

Suppose you were to hire a manager for your own business whom you expected to entrust with your own money. Would you employ a man with no other recommendation than that he was enrolled with the same political party as yourself? Would you consider him for an instant, whatever his party, if you ascertained that in his last position he had grossly neglected his work?

Your election of a Congressman is in no way different from your selection of a trusted employee in your own business. You are about to hire somebody to take charge of your public business and of the public funds which your taxes have created; somebody to whom you will pay $7,500.00 a year and whom you can't get rid of until March, 1917.

What is your judgment, putting politics to one side for the moment, of a Congressman who in two years has not introduced a single bill? And who at the last session, until Sept. 1st, was present and voting on only 63 roll calls out of 215, (paired on 5)?

This is the record of the present Congressman from the 17th New York District as shown by the official tally. He is now seeking re-election. We respectfully submit that public servants with this sort of record should not be permitted to slip into office under cover of a party Emblem. We urge you to make your X in front of the name of LINDON BATES, JR., upon whose record in the Assembly the Citizens Union thus commented:

"Very conscientious and industrious legislator."

A few days ago a New York lawyer in remitting a check to the Belgian Relief Fund sent a letter to the Rev. Father Stillemans, President of the Committee, in which he said that the check represented money that would otherwise have been spent for dessert for his family. He added that so long as the war lasted his family would continue to do without dessert and will send the money to the Belgian Committee.

Makes His Guests Contribute.

Yesterday there came to the Committee a letter from a business man of this city asking that one of the little Belgian barrels be mailed to him. His letter tells what he wants with the barrel:

> I am going to adopt a scheme with this barrel that I mention to you in the off chance that it might prove a suggestion to others who are taking the Belgian barrel, and that is, every one that comes to my house who has a cocktail or some other form of liquid refreshment will be asked to put a dime in the barrel. If they have a cigar they must put 5 cents in. In this way they will be at liberty to have as many drinks and cigars of mine as they wish—always provided that the barrel receives a contribution every trip. From this I am afraid you will have a little check on the hospitality dispensed at my house, but as long as it is in a good cause we will "let it go at that."

The Belgian Fund now totals $223,757, and of this $6,805, (cents omitted,) was received yesterday. All subscriptions to the fund should be sent to J. P. Morgan & Co., 23 Wall Street, or the Belgian Relief Committee, 8-10 Bridge Street. The new subscribers are:

TWO NEW RED CROSS UNITS.

Six Surgeons and Twelve Nurses Going to Aid the Servians.

Two more Red Cross hospital units will be sent from New York to the war zone on Nov. 17, according to an announcement made at the new branch of the society at 661 Fifth Avenue yesterday. Mrs. Leonard Wood, who is in charge of this branch, received a message from the headquarters in Washington yesterday saying that the American Minister in Servia had cabled the society that there was great need of two Red Cross units in Servia, each consisting of three surgeons and six trained nurses, and arrangements for sending the units on the steamer Finland were made immediately. A large quantity of medical supplies and equipment will also be sent on the Finland. The party going to the war zone in Servia will proceed directly to Salonika.

A number of persons stood before the windows at the new branch yesterday and watched women inside making "stretcher nightingales," or loose-fitting garments, for wounded soldiers out of ordinary blankets. These were made by hand, and, with other samples of the kinds of goods the society is sending to Europe for the relief of the injured, were hung on the walls and in the windows of the establishment. The new branch is receiving support from a number of business houses in the vicinity, and yesterday a large furniture store sent in a quantity of furniture for use as long as needed. Among other donations received was a typewriter. Sixty new members were enrolled during the day.

MELTING POT A BIG SUCCESS.

Many Valuable Donations Made at the Red Cross Bazaar.

The melting pot is a great success at the Red Cross Bazaar in the Grand Central Palace. Every day some interesting souvenir is brought in. One old lady presented silver spoons yesterday that had been in her family for 100 years. A beautiful gold locket of fine old-time workmanship has a little light gold lock of hair—"Brother Thomas's hair," an inscription on the inside says. There is a filigree necklace, a honeymoon purchase of the grandmother of the donor. There are many rings, including wedding rings, ornaments, and trinkets of all kinds. Many of those that are in good condition are sold for something more than the metal would bring, and the cabinet of curios to be sold in this way brings in on an average $50 a day.

Mrs. Herbert Satterlee was one of the visitors to the bazaar yesterday, and Miss Eleanor Satterlee purchased the ring doves, the gift of Mrs. Butler Duncan. Arranging the tea dance for tomorrow, from 4 to 6 P. M., are Mrs. Ansel Stokes, Mrs. Stephen H. P. Pell, Mrs. Oliver D. Bridgman, Mrs. Nelson H. Burr, Mrs. George R. Dyer, Mrs. Dudley Field Malone, and Mrs. George Gordon Battle.

MEXICAN GARRISON REVOLTS FOR VILLA

RAILROAD LINE IN DANGER

Zapatistas Attack Suburb of the Capital and Are Driven Off by Carranza Artillery.

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 28.—A rising of a portion of the garrison at Jalapa last night was checked, but only after the loss of 180 killed and wounded, according to estimates received by the American authorities here.

The troops at Jalapa, numbering about 1,500, were quartered in two barracks. Those in one entered the streets and began looting and shouting for Villa. Gen. Manuel Perez, brother of Señora Madero, widow of the ex-President, in command of the garrison, met the mutinous soldiers with a loyal force. There was street fighting for two hours before the mutineers withdrew to the neighboring country. It is reported that their loss was much larger than that of the loyalists.

It is feared that those in rebellion will cut the Interoceanic Railway between here and the capital.

Candido Aguilar, Governor of the State and commander of the forces just beyond the American lines, will send support to Gen. Perez should the rebels gain in strength.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28.—Zapata forces under Gen. Pacheco attacked the suburb of San Angel this evening but were driven off after two hours of heavy fighting. The Government sent out artillery, which resulted in the retreat of the attacking forces.

CARRANZA ASSAILS CAROTHERS

Tells Washington President's Agent and Interests Are Aiding Villa.

Special to The New York Times.

EL PASO, Oct. 28.—Through Roberto Pesqueira, his accredited diplomatic representative in the United States, Gen. Carranza tonight sent a personal appeal to President Wilson and the State Department, protesting against the activities of George C. Carothers and the alleged friendliness of the United States toward Gen. Villa.

The statement was issued here tonight at the same time that it was forwarded to Washington by Señor Pesqueira for transmission to the White House by Rafael Zubaran Capmany. It was Carranza's first direct appeal. The official statement reads:

We have every reason to believe the accredited report that the American agent, George C. Carothers, has sold out to Francisco Villa, alias Dorotea Arango. This is his true name. He has assumed the name of Francisco Villa only for reasons known to himself, and history alone will tell what crimes his true name of Doroteo Arango may hide.

This fact we should like the State Department and the American public to know: At the very moment that he was openly declaring friendship for the United States he was threatening to invade this nation at El Paso, and declared to his closest advisers that he would conquer the nation in a few months' campaign; that when a few months ago Arango was declaring that the conduct of the United States was justified in the Vera Cruz matter he was at the same time swearing vengeance upon this nation.

I think that the Washington Administration, and specially Mr. Wilson himself, should know, in view of his Mobile speech and the sentiments that he expressed then, that the special interests that have played such an important part in American politics and sustained the corrupt Administrations of the past are in league with this same Dorotea Arango to put him in power in Mexico and enjoy rare concessions in that country and exploit the nation as has heretofore been done. I would call attention to the significant fact that the Hearst chain of papers which are in this country—Mr. Wilson's mortal enemies—are lending their columns to the aid of Arango in every move that he makes; that Harrison Gray Otis of The Los Angeles Times is taking the same attitude; that the Guggenheim interests, with all their powers of corruption, wish to make of Mexico a field of exploitation like Alaska and Colorado, and to that end are, we sincerely believe, lending not only moral support, but also financial aid to the Arango revolt, hoping to seat Arango in a dictator's chair and thus gain the field of exploitation sought.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The American Government was officially informed today by the Minister of Foreign Relations at Mexico City that Gen. Carranza had submitted his resignation to the national convention at Aguascalientes on the condition that Gens. Villa and Zapata resign their posts in the army and retire to private life.

Gen. Carranza's action, it was stated, was taken purely in the interest of domestic peace. No word was received of what action was taken by the convention.

Opinions varied in official circles as to whether either Villa or Zapata would give such assurances, although the northern chief had repeatedly stated to American Consular agents that he had no ambition to be President of Mexico or hold any of the numerous offices for which his name has been mentioned. It was believed that there would be less difficulty in adjusting the situation with respect to Villa than Zapata. The latter has insisted, since Huerta abdicated, in the demand that he be permitted to share the executive power with Carranza. His representatives at the convention say they have a complete understanding with Villa.

It was clear from official reports that Villa's followers were in control of the convention and now could rely on the support of the Zapata delegates, so that the answer of the convention will be tantamount to a reply from the Villa-Zapata coalition.

GLYNN ATTACKS WHITMAN'S OFFICE

everything that I have said is said without reflection upon Mr. Whitman's conduct of the legal questions which have come before him.

"The voters of New York, however, are interested more in the executive ability of the candidates for Governor than in their legal training, and I am confident that the citizens of New York who cast their votes for efficiency in Government and the conservation of all public money will vindicate to me the years of hard work and the days and nights of ceaseless labor through which I learned the way to conduct a business government on business principles."

Other speakers at the Cooper Union meeting were Lieut. Gov. Wagner, Labor Commissioner James M. Lynch, James J. Freel, President of the International Stereotypers and Electrotypers' Union; James P. Holland, President of the Central Federated Union; Maurice De Young, President of the Central Labor Union of Brooklyn, and Thomas J. Carroll, Chairman of the Trade Unionist Committee. Alfred J. Boulton was chairman of the meeting.

GLYNN'S BUSY DAY IN TOWN.

Calls Whitman's "the Campaign of a Monomaniac."

Gov. Glynn arrived in this city yesterday morning after his long tour of the State and at once plunged into what will be the wind-up of his campaign in and around New York. Almost as soon as he reached the Vanderbilt Hotel, where he will stay, conferences with his political advisers and visits from friends began. One of those who called upon him in the afternoon was Col. E. M. House, the personal friend of President Wilson, who, after a chat with the Governor, accompanied him to Earl Hall on the Columbia University campus, where Gov. Glynn addressed an audience of 350 Columbia law students and others at 4 o'clock.

Shortly after his arrival at the Vanderbilt, Gov. Glynn answered questions put to him by the newspaper men. First, he was asked what he thought of the campaign of District Attorney Whitman.

"It is that of a monomaniac," he said. "Mr. Whitman appears to think that the administration of the office of Governor should follow only one line. He wants to be State prosecutor instead of county prosecutor."

Next, the Governor defended his appointments, saying that for twenty years he had watched the administrations of Governors and that he defied anyone to pick out a list of appointments by any Governor in that time that contained men of so high an average as his list.

"Of the forty-two big appointments I have made," he said, "there cannot possibly be more than nine that even affected a member of Tammany Hall, and of those nine only two have been criticised in any way. Again, when Mr. Whitman speaks of my so-called Tammany appointments he should not forget that when he ran for office he was, to all intents and purposes, on the same ticket with me and was under as much obligation to Tammany Hall as I was. In other words, he stood for the very nominations which he is now criticising, because he was as much a member of Tammany Hall as I was."

Deprecates Religious Issue.

"What do you think of the religious issue that has been injected into the campaign?" the Governor was asked.

"I think very little of it," he replied. "But I have no doubt of its origin. Mr. Whitman, in expressing himself in a Syracuse speech, said he would appoint none but patriotic Americans to office. That was significant. Furthermore, the distribution of sample ballots on which were marked names of people whose affiliations were not in doubt was significant to the people of Buffalo. However, I have maintained as much as possible a determination not to be drawn into personalities, and I shall refrain from a personal campaign as long as I consistently can."

The Governor then discussed the issues he has been putting before the people all over the State.

In his afternoon speech in Earl Hall, the Governor was introduced by Prof. Francis M. Burdick of the Columbia Law School as "a leader who leads." He was received with enthusiasm by the students, who ended their cheering with a college yell. The Governor was happy in his address, and, after its delivery, he gave this statement upon request to a representative of the college weekly:

"I believe that every college man ought to take an interest in politics. The men who for petty reasons refuse to take an interest in politics remind me of the lord in Shakespeare who used a bottle of smelling salts to protect his nose from the smell of carnage and who would have been a soldier if it had not been for the guns. I believe that a man may be in politics and still be a gentleman. If any thinking person ever doubted this, his doubt must have been dispelled by the career of Woodrow Wilson in the White House. Gentility that keeps some men out of politics is the gentility of a hot-house variety and not of nature's brand. The history of politics in the United States shows that under the sunshine of freedom and the rainfall of opportunity real character expands and grows as the lily and the rose, and politics teaches every man, whether he be a Governor, a college shouter, or a private in the ranks, that Bobbie Burns was right when he said, 'A man's a man for a' that.'"

John M. Bowers addressed the Columbia students in the interests of Ambassador James W. Gerard, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate. Joseph L. Buttenwieser, Congressional candidate, also spoke.

Last evening the Governor attended a reception at the National Democratic Club, where the Vice President, Herman A. Metz, introduced the members to the Governor. Most of the Democratic organization leaders of the city were at the reception; but Richard Croker, although he was in town, was not there, nor was Charles F. Murphy. After the reception the Governor saw the automobile parade, and then went to the mass meeting at Cooper Union. After speaking here he made an automobile tour of the east side, addressing a crowd of 5,000 people in Hamilton Fish Park, and large audiences in the National Theatre, at Second Avenue and Houston Street; at the Peddlers' Association Hall, Houston and Allen Streets, and at Tenth Street and Second Avenue.

Jacob H. Schiff with Glynn.

Gov. Glynn was accompanied on this trip by Jacob H. Schiff, and the two were received with great enthusiasm by the audiences, which were composed principally of Jews. Mr. Schiff, in his speech at the National Theatre, took occasion to express his opinion of the attempt made to discredit Gov. Glynn on religious grounds.

"I ask you to vote for Gov. Glynn," he said, "because he is a tolerant American. I am here among Jews, so I can talk plainly, and I tell you that we should put our condemnation on the outrageous theory that the Americanism of a man is dependent on his religion. A man's faith has nothing to do with his citizenship. The truer he is to his own God, the truer citizen he will be."

Mr. Schiff referred to the appointment of Judge Cardozo to the Court of Appeals as a proof that Gov. Glynn was not influenced by religious considerations in making his appointments.

From the east side meetings the Governor went to a reception at the Manhattan Club, and thence to another reception at the Automobile Club of America.

High Praise from Col. Watterson.

At the Manhattan Club Philip Britt, the President, made a speech in which he praised the Governor's record and extended to him the formal indorsement of the club. This is the second time such a step has ever been taken by the Manhattan Club, the other occasion being in 1904.

Col. Henry Watterson, who was staying in the club, had been asked to preside at the reception. He declined in a letter to Mr. Britt, which was read before the gathering. Col. Watterson said in part:

"Gov. Glynn recalls to my mind the late Gov. Tilden. He has Mr. Tilden's practical—almost mathematical—grasp on things tangible; his detestation of things fantastic and fatuous; his simple, homely love of liberty and justice as the only sure basis of reform. The familiar aphorism about the swapping of horses in the middle of a stream applies to the present situation. The voters of New York may not know it, but their fitness for self government is on trial."

Col. Watterson expressed surprise that anybody should accuse Gov. Glynn of owing allegiance to another leader, or that in this age any one should raise "the old Know-Nothing scarecrow about the Church of Rome and the public schools."

"I am old enough to remember," he said, "when it was argued that the Pope might some dark night swim the Atlantic and lead an Irish insurrection against the native Americans.

"The Government of the State of New York is a business. Why should an honest, efficient, Democratic Governor be turned out of a place he adequately fills to make a Republican holiday for even the most acceptable of Fusion District Attorneys?

"But above these local matters tower the interests of the nation. The Republican Party, after a splendid and useful career, has at last fallen into the sere, the yellow leaf, and is no longer able to give enlightened or even coherent direction to our affairs either at home or abroad. In this crisis of the world's history the people owe the Administration of Woodrow Wilson the support which in the darkest hours of their own history they gave to the Administration of Abraham Lincoln. When presently the nations seek us as a peacemaker they must find here no less a united than a generous land. The election of Glynn and Gerard will contribute largely to that end."

TO SEIZE ALL RESERVISTS.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 29.—The London Times's naval correspondent announces that the instructions given to examining officers in the British patrol service not to arrest small parties of enemy reservists in neutral vessels on the high seas have now been rescinded.

Such aliens liable to military service are, it is understood, to be removed from neutral ships on high seas as well as in territorial waters.

England Frees New York Broker.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—George W. Stenech, a New York broker, recently held in London with $12,500 cash in his possession, which he was carrying to Germany, has been released, according to word to the State Department today. Relatives of Stenech presented to the department proof that the money was to pay off two notes held in German banks.

AUSTRIA FEELING WAR'S DISASTERS

gay, indifferent public, who live for the present and think not of the morrow. It is a strange indifference, which reveals the extent to which the spirit of the people is alienated from the fate of their own country.

All enthusiasm is dead. I was in Vienna during the first days of the war. I remember the delirious scenes in the streets, the demonstrations, the crowds, with flags and torches. They seemed to me a new people whom I had never known before. An official report tells me now:

"It has been established that nearly all the demonstrations which took place during the first days of the war were organized and paid for by the authorities at a price of 2,000 crowns ($400) per series."

On the Emperor's birthday a column of soldiers emerged from the barracks, rigid and silent, bearing torches, behind them officers with drawn swords. This was an ordered jubilee. Few applauded in the streets, no queue of merry people accompanying as in days gone by.

In Austria there is no fusion of spirits. On the other hand, a movement aiming at the restoration to Italy of the Austrian-governed territory is growing.

Treason in the Army.

It has now been established that many of the serious failures of the Austrian Army in the east and south have been occasioned by some mysterious treason through which the Russians and Servians ascertained every day all the plans of the Austrian Army. The Austrian plans against the Servians were known in every detail by the other side.

This explains the extraordinary slowness and difficulty of the Austrians' operations. Every advance is immediately counteracted. Each sudden move is confronted with a superior force assembled with lightning speed. A subtle, stupefying net of espionage is paralyzing all the operations of the Austrian troops.

Before the fall of Leopolis (Lemberg) the Austrians shot the station master and ten of the highest officials of the railway company. It had been discovered that they had informed the Russians about the plans of the Austrian troops.

The Ruthenian country people were all armed by an invisible hand. At Mosciska, thirty kilomters east of Przemysl, a contingent of Hussars that was passing was suddenly subjected to a tempest of bullets, which came with unabating fury from windows and roofs. Peasants of the country were shooting the soldiers of their army, which they regard as foreign and hostile. The whole contingent was decimated.

Subsequently it was established that several Slav regiments were treated with iron fire because they rebelled, refusing to march against the Russians.

Immediately after the surrender of Leopolis the Germans demanded the transfer to them of the command of the Austrian units. The Austrian officers refused to accept subordinate positions, and presented their resignations.

SING SING WARDEN OUT, FACES INQUIRY

under indictment in connection with the affairs of that institution, some other man should be selected for the investigation.

Dr. J. Ellis Rohrer, head of the depositors' association, said that while the Governor had granted a request of a committee of that organization for an interview, he had not set any time for the meeting.

The depositors desire not only to express objection to Mr. Baldwin, but to lay before the Governor information concerning the business activities of Sullivan while a prisoner in Sing Sing. These operations have to do with the alleged collection of money by Sullivan from properties in Brooklyn, which, the depositors assert, should have been turned in as assets of the defunct bank.

District Attorney Cropsey would not comment on the appointment of Mr. Baldwin other than to say that Mr. Baldwin's inquiry would not interfere in any way with the inquiry by the Grand Jury. The Brooklyn investigation has to do particularly with Sullivan's alleged business transactions since he has been in Sing Sing.

Glynn Praises Baldwin.

When Gov. Glynn was asked why he had chosen Mr. Baldwin, he replied:

"I was told, and I think wisely, that it would be well for me to appoint a Republican, and Mr. Baldwin is a Republican. Again, I believe it would be right to appoint a man in whom Brooklyn people had confidence, and I am told that Mr. Baldwin is such a man. He is an excellent lawyer, a man in whom Mayor Gaynor had confidence and faith, and one who is supposed to be adamant when he has mapped out a course that he believes to be right. I do not care whether he has defended this or that man. I believe him to be the man for the task."

When communicated with yesterday afternoon by telephone at his Summer home on Shelter Island, Mr. Baldwin said he would accept the Governor's appointment. He would go to Brooklyn today, he said, and immediately start on the prison investigation.

Mr. Baldwin sent the following letter to District Attorney Cropsey:

> Having been appointed by the Governor as a Commissioner, with powers conferred by Section 8 of the executive law, and being requested by him to report by Friday night, I shall be at the prison tomorrow (Thursday) morning prepared to take testimony. I am given to understand that certain material witnesses are to be taken by you before the Kings County Grand Jury tomorrow, and I do not wish to interfere with your investigation by and with the aid of that body, but I very much desire your co-operation in the performance of the task set for me, and I shall remain in Ossining tomorrow and Friday, and will be glad to interrogate any witnesses you may produce there on either day.
>
> If you can be present in person I shall be exceedingly gratified.
>
> As my appointment has taken me by surprise, my time is limited and I have no time to retain counsel to assist me. I shall endeavor to secure a suitable place to hold the hearings in Ossining; where, it may be ascertained at the prison.
>
> Sincerely yours,
> STEPHEN C. BALDWIN.

As counsel for Mr. Grout, Mr. Baldwin served an order upon District Attorney Cropsey requiring the prosecutor to show cause on Monday before the Supreme Court why the indictment against Mr. Grout should not be quashed for lack of prosecution. The object of the motion is to compel an immediate trial. Mr. Grout became President of the Union Bank after it was reorganized. He was indicted in December last for making an alleged false statement to the State Banking Department as to the condition of the bank. Mr. Cropsey has tried, it is said, to have designated a Supreme Court Justice to preside at the Grout trial who is not acquainted with Mr. Grout, but his request has not been granted.

The examination in the Sullivan case before the Kings County Grand Jury was confined to the questioning of two witnesses from Yonkers. They were George Ford, a policeman, and Robert Johnson. The two were subpoenaed to tell about an alleged visit made to Yonkers by Sullivan in an automobile with Warden McCormick of Sing Sing, now under suspension. On this occasion Sullivan is said to have been left alone for a time by the Warden. The convicted banker, seeking McCormick, is said to have appealed to Policeman Ford to find the Warden for him. Johnson is supposed to have overheard the conversation.

Wants Clancy to Testify.

Assistant District Attorney Goldstein failed to serve a subpoena on Miss Louise D. Burkhardt of Yonkers, Sullivan's one-time secretary, through whom he is alleged to have transacted business since he was sent to prison. Mr. Cropsey would like to have ex-Warden John Clancy tell how Sullivan spent his time under the Clancy régime at Sing Sing, but has not been able to communicate with Mr. Clancy.

As the October Grand Jury completes its term today there probably will be no further examination of witnesses in Brooklyn until the November Grand Jury is sworn in on Monday.

CASHIN ENTERS A DENIAL.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Daniel J. Cashin, County Clerk of Westchester, denied today that he ever had said over the telephone to District Attorney Cropsey's office that he had seen David A. Sullivan, Warden McCormick, and three women in an automobile.

"That story is a myth, pure and simple," said Mr. Cashin. "One day last month I was introduced in the prison car at Yonkers to a 'Mr. Sullivan,' whose identity I did not know and do not know now. I don't know whether that 'Mr. Sullivan' was Dave Sullivan, the convicted bank official, or not. This is all I know about the affair."

APPROPRIATIONS CUT DOWN

Lower Than in 1910 Under Gov. Hughes and $12,553,586 Below Figures for the Sulzer Year.

Gov. Glynn's own figures as to State finances and the economics of his administration are certified to as correct by George McAneny, President of the Board of Aldermen, who issued a long statement yesterday in which he said:

"Opponents of Gov. Glynn's re-election have charged that the claim that he has cut upward of $11,000,000 from this year's cost of the State Government is without good foundation. As I have repeated these figures in a statement of my own, I am concerned in their accuracy, and I have, therefore, had them verified, from both executive and legislative records at Albany. I am now able to repeat that they are absolutely correct.

"Gov. Glynn, during his brief term, has handled the State finances in a thoroughly businesslike way, and it seems a pity that, for mere reasons of politics, the credit that is his due should not be freely given him.

"Analysis of the savings or the reduction effected on account of the current year shows the following:

| | |
|---|---|
| Through vetoes: | |
| Special appropriation bills | $3,407,424 |
| Reappropriations | 1,705,534 |
| Items in General Appropriation bill. | 475,580 |
| Items in Supply bill | 286,471 |
| Items in Construction bill | 546,300 |
| New hospital | 200,000 |
| Highway repairs | 700,000 |
| Total | $7,321,313 |
| Through Sinking Fund: | |
| Adjustments | 3,279,249 |
| Canal Fund balances: | |
| Transferred to general fund | 261,555 |

Fifty-five Bills Vetoed.

"In all fifty-five special bills were vetoed and not one of these was subsequently signed in other form, as has been charged. The only items covered in any manner through other funds were $40,000 for roads on Indian Reservations, and $34,000 for forest-fire patrolling, both of which, it was found, were required by law to be paid from bond issues.

"Equally without foundation is the statement that some of the vetoes covered important work that should go forward at once and that will suffer through postponement. There was an excellent business reason for each cut made; and if there were any errors of judgment, they certainly were in cases of slight consequence. I found none. We are quite as frequently charged with injuring public undertakings through the cuts made in the city budget, and, as a rule, with quite as little justice.

"The sums represented by the so-called 'reappropriation bills' vetoed had already been collected, through tax levies of previous years, and are now restored to the general fund.

"The sinking-fund adjustment puts an end to the annual collection of amounts far beyond the requirements of both the canal and highway sinking funds, and releases for the reduction of taxation part of the excessive reserve already accumulated. The saving of interest here effected will be felt through a number of years, though principally in the present year.

Below Sulzer and Hughes.

"The practical effect of the careful work that has been done, through these cuts and otherwise, is shown in the total of appropriations actually allowed compared with those of previous years. These figures, too, I have had checked up, and in some degree revised. For the last year of Gov. Hughes, the single year of Sulzer, and the single year of Glynn, the total appropriations for all State purposes—exclusive of interest and sinking funds—were:

| 1910—Hughes. | 1913—Sulzer. | 1914—Glynn. |

"The present year runs, therefore, $10,562,126 below the record of Sulzer, and—notwithstanding the addition of $2,500,000 to support the ten new departments since created and the increased cost of caring for a far greater mileage of State highways—$1,085,000 below the last year of Gov. Hughes.

"Including the decrease in the appropriation for interest and sinking-fund charges, the difference between Sulzer and Glynn is $12,553,586.

"To deny Gov. Glynn his share of the credit for these results is not only unfair, but futile.

Surplus Is Increased.

"A third matter of great pertinence is the state of the surplus. Partisan critics of the Governor say that he accomplished his reduction in part 'by exhausting the $5,000,000 in the Treasury carried there as a business precaution'—in other words, the surplus. This, no doubt, is based on the fact that, in January last, the estimate of the surplus to be in the Treasury, as announced at Albany, was $5,085,000. They were unaware of the further fact that under the increasing pressure for economy this reserve had grown until, on Oct. 1, the surplus actually on hand was $12,808,902. Part of this, no doubt, will go toward the elimination of the direct tax, as the State Constitution provides, but there will remain at the end of the present fiscal year not far from double the amount previously carried as 'a business precaution.'

"When the Legislature passed an act providing for a direct tax for this year, Gov. Glynn vetoed it, declaring that, through the economies he proposed to enforce, the need for such a tax would disappear. That declaration he has made good. The interest of the people of the City of New York in all of this is patent enough. Our share in the direct tax for 1913—which, under the law, was added to the city budget for the year—was $7,947,081. For 1914 it was $4,576,303, and, fortunately for us—in the stress of our present budget making—for 1915 it will be nothing.

Glynn's Business Sense.

"I am, of course, no apologist for any heaping up of expense that went on before Gov. Glynn came in, or for anything else that still requires correction. But to treat the two years of Sulzer and Glynn as one 'Democratic administration,' figures and all, as some have done, for purposes of comparison with preceding administrations, is grotesquely unfair. What I do contend is that, within his own year, Gov. Glynn has made a notable start in the right direction; that, in dealing with the appropriations, and reorganizing the State finances generally, he has shown excellent business sense, and that his good work should have the recognition it deserves."

SULZERITES ATTACK KOZMA.

Candidate and Tokaji Deny Story of a Sell-Out.

William Sulzer denied yesterday that he knew anything about a deal to throw the votes of his American Party to District Attorney Whitman for $10,000, as suggested by Dr. Arthur Kozma, who resigned as New York County Chairman of the American Party. Bela Tokaji, one of Sulzer's campaign managers, whom Dr. Kozma quoted, also denied that he knew anything about it. Both accused Dr. Kozma of falsehood.

"Kozma is disgruntled because we refused him money, and he has sold out to Tammany," said Mr. Sulzer. "The American Party is an independent party and cannot be bought or sold. I am going to the end of the road in the struggle. There will be no sell-out, no step backward, and no compromise. I am opposed to Whitman. I am opposed to Murphy's yellow dog ticket. I am the only candidate for Governor against the iniquitous bi-partisan system of graft called fifty-fifty.

"I expect to have Dr. Kozma arrested as soon as I have laid the facts before the District Attorney's office."

Republican Chairman Tanner said:

"I have not seen Mr. Sulzer for over a year. I have not seen Dr. Kozma and I do not know Mr. Tokaji. I have not had any sort of communication with any of them, nor will I."

WHITE HOUSE CARS CHEAP.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Charges that President Wilson and his Secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty, were guilty of extravaganee in using costly motor cars at the expense of the Government brought an explanation today that the cars were supplied to the White House under an arrangement made in the closing days of the Roosevelt Administration whereby the cars were bought at the listed price, $7,500, the manufacturer to keep them in condition at a charge of $500 a year.

The manufacturer supplies new cars to the White House every year or new bodies every Spring and Autumn if new cars are not furnished, all for $500 a year.

The manufacturer is supposed to get the benefit of advertising that comes from having his car chosen by the President, but as a matter of fact he is not permitted to advertise that his make of car is so used. The arrangement lasted throughout the Taft Administration and was continued by the Wilson Administration.

BENSEL TO BE CHALLENGED.

Ballot Association Says He Lives in Bernardsville, N. J.

George W. Kessler of the Honest Ballot Association yesterday said that his association had investigated the right of John A. Bensel, candidate on the Democratic ticket for State Engineer and Surveyor, to vote in this city, and declared that the association believed Bensel did not have the right, and that his name had been placed on the challenge list of the association.

For the last eight or ten years Mr. Bensel has voted from the Hotel Marie Antoinette, but the Honest Ballot Association says he is a resident of New Jersey, and has a statement from the Town Clerk of Bernardsville, N. J., that Bensel and his family have lived there for the last ten years, and that Mr. Bensel's name is on the voters' list in that town.

Judge La Fetra Was Approved.

In the list of judiciary candidates approved by the New York County Lawyers' Association that was published yesterday the name of City Court Judge La Fetra was omitted. He was one of those indorsed by the association. Their committee's report said that the fitness of Judge La Fetra had been "demonstrated by his service on the bench."

OLNEY ADVISES UPHOLD WILSON

Ex-Secretary of State Reviews Work of Present Administration in Letter to Col. Harvey.

BIG LEGISLATION CREATED

Message Read at Springfield, Mass., Rally at Which Secretary Garrison Speaks.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 28.—Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison, speaking with Gov. Walsh and others at Springfield tonight, said that the campaign in Massachusetts had to be considered in its national aspect. A defeat of the Democratic candidates, he said, would be heralded as a defeat of the President and the principles for which he and the Democratic Party stand.

He referred to the Republicans and the Progressives as "unorganized snipers taking pot shots from ambush and cover."

Secretary Garrison indorsed the local candidates, and then read a letter from Richard Olney to Col. George Harvey regarding President Wilson's administration, which read as follows:

Boston, Oct. 17, 1914.

Sir: I have read with much interest your judicious and judicial review of the accomplishments of the present Democratic Administration, and welcome your conclusion that the country can fairly be urged to make the coming elections an emphatic testimonial of its approbation and confidence.

Personally, I have been immensely impressed with what has been done in so short a space. In the ordinary career and history of a nation eighteen months is an almost negligible fraction of time. If the Wilson Administration had occupied itself since March, 1913, in settling itself in the saddle and in planning for great things to be done in the future, it would have pursued the customary course and could not easily have been censured. But the fact is that during that period the National Government has devoted itself to its duties with an assiduity quite unparalleled, has undertaken and brought to conclusion much important work—work largely constructive in its nature and bound to permanently influence for good the fortunes of the country.

A high protective antiquated tariff, for example, full of absurdities and abuses, has been subjected to a reasonable downward revision, has been supplemented by an income tax which puts upon wealth a larger and fairer share of the burdens of taxation, and signalizes the passing, never to return, of such legislative crudities and extravagances as the Dingley bill and the Payne-Aldrich bill.

The Federal Reserve bill inaugurates a new era in the financial history of the country, and in the judgment of bankers, business men and experts generally, will gradually but surely do away with the confusion and chaos which have heretofore disgraced American finance.

The trust legislation and the Alaska Railroad bill also embody legislation which may fitly be described as essentially constructive. It is not claimed, it is not to be claimed, that these measures, or any of them, are the last words on the subjects they relate to. At this very writing the Federal Reserve act, studied by statesmen and experts of all parties with the utmost diligence and enacted with as much deliberation and care as any statute ever had, is before Congress for amendments believed to be necessary and proper.

It is to be remembered that these measures represent a new order of things. They have been brought about in the face of fierce opposition by the lovers of the old order and no doubt embody more or less unworkable, even if undesirable, compromises and concessions. Yet, when all is said, they at least make good beginnings, are steps in the right direction, and are in all, rather in matter of detail than in point of sound principle.

If the Democratic Party showed great sagacity in picking Woodrow Wilson for the Presidency, it has shown no less in trusting itself to his leadership. It was that trust which brought about the repeal of the "Panama Canal tolls exemption" through the votes of many Congressmen who honestly doubted the justice and wisdom of the repeal. They now unquestionably plume themselves upon their action. They now unquestionably realize that, because of that repeal and of the President's Mexican policy, and because of the good faith, sincerity, disinterestedness, and tactful abidingness which mark the President's course in both these cases, the United States today occupies a position of supreme importance in the world. It is the one great power not party to the awful carnage which is now desolating Europe and making modern civilization seem a sham and a reproach. It acts in foreign relations through its President and is the one agency through which ending the war can be urged upon the belligerents with the best chance of a hearing.

To weaken the President's prestige at this crisis, to make it appear that he and his Administration are not trusted and supported by the American people, would be a calamity. At this juncture, and until discredited by some overt act of the American people, the President of the United States is not a Democratic asset merely, nor even an American asset, but an asset of the civilized world. It is due to ourselves, to the unhappy warring nations, and to humanity generally, that we do nothing to impair its value.

I am, Sir, very truly yours,
RICHARD OLNEY.

"If by your votes," continued Secretary Garrison, "you discredit President Wilson and the Democratic party, you thereby publicly advertise that you do not want honest minded, hard working representatives who strive to ascertain the public will and to enforce it."

COL. HARVEY AT WHITE HOUSE

Enthusiastic Over Democratic Outlook After Political Conference.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—A political conference was held at the White House today between President Wilson, Col. George Harvey of New York, Fred B. Lynch of St. Paul, the Minnesota members of the Democratic National Committee, Thomas J. Pence of Washington, assistant to the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the President. Col. Harvey was so pleased over what he heard in regard to the chances of Democratic success next Tuesday that after he left the White House he made this statement:

"For the first time in our political history the opposition is on the defensive. Therefore, my guess is that the Democrats will have a majority of between fifty and one hundred in the next House of Representatives and that Republicans will be replaced by Neely in Kansas, Hogan in Ohio, Sullivan in Illinois, and Gerard in New York. Husting also has an even chance in Wisconsin. Glynn will be, and ought to be, elected."

Neely, Hogan, Sullivan, Gerard, and Husting are the Democratic candidates for the United States Senate in the States named.

Col. Harvey came to Washington to help celebrate the birthday of his daughter, the wife of an army officer stationed at Fort Washington, Md.

WHITMAN MONEY IN SIGHT.

$15,000 Appears to be Placed at Odds of 8 to 10.

Betting odds continued yesterday at 10 to 8 on Glynn against Whitman, with more Whitman money in sight than before. D. Harry Ralston, Republican leader in the First Assembly District of Brooklyn, left $5,000 with Fred Schumm to be placed on the District Attorney at the best odds obtainable, and during the day Schumm laid $2,000 in scattered wagers on Whitman at 8 to 10.

Most of the Wall Street men of sporting proclivities have felt too poor with the stock market out of commission to do much betting, but there was more talk of politics in the Street yesterday than at any time since the campaign opened. A banker from out of town appeared with $10,000 to wager on Whitman, and reported in the late afternoon that he had not been able to place it at prevailing odds. Glynn supporters promised to oblige him before he left the city.

NOTES OF THE CAMPAIGN.

John G. Saxe, legal adviser to Gov. Glynn, will address the United Colored Democracy at Crescent Hall, Lenox Avenue and 136th Street, next Saturday evening.

District Attorney Whitman has written to Edward R. Finch of 32 Nassau Street indorsing the candidacy of Isidor Wasservogel for Supreme Court Justice.

William Sulzer will address the members of the Brooklyn Philosophical Society at 296 Hewes Street next Sunday on "The Casting of the Political Die."

Frederick H. Allen, who was a member of the New York State delegation which visited Europe last Summer to make an investigation of agricultural credit and co-operative societies abroad, issued a statement last night giving Gov. Glynn credit for promoting legislation to safeguard the beginnings of the co-operative movement among the farmers of the State.

Charles Edward Russell, the Socialist candidate for United States Senator, sent an open letter last night to John M. Bowers, Chairman of the Gerard Campaign Committee, submitting a number of questions which he asked Mr. Bowers to answer in view of the fact that Ambassador Gerard is not in this country. "Can you mention one reason," asked Mr. Russell, "aside from Judge Gerard's wealth and social and Tammany Hall connections, why he should be a Senator of the State of New York?"

Ex-Gov. Sulzer sent a letter yesterday to Democratic Chairman Osborn protesting against the contents of a pamphlet containing the record of the Sulzer impeachment trial, which the State Committee is circulating as a campaign document. Mr. Sulzer called the statement anonymous, scurrilous, and libelous, and said if Mr. Osborn was the author of it he intended to take legal proceedings.

Bishop McDonnell Returns.

Bishop C. E. McDonnell, of the Catholic diocese of Long Island and Brooklyn, who returned from Rome yesterday on the Carpathia of the Cunard Line, said he was the first American Bishop to meet Pope Benedict. The new Pontiff, he said, was a man of rare diplomatic training and destined to make one of the greatest of Popes.

ADIRONDACK VOTERS COOL TO WHITMAN

BIG SCHENECTADY MEETING

Republican Candidate for Governor Continues His Attack on Glynn as Controlled by Tammany.

Special to The New York Times.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Smaller audiences than any he had encountered before in the two weeks of his up-State tour greeted District Attorney Whitman today as his special train passed through eight cities along the eastern slopes of the Adirondacks. The crowds for the most part were composed of less than 300 persons each and they were unresponsive. At Saratoga, where the first of two night meetings was held, the convention hall was less than half full. The crowd here in Schenectady made up in part for the disappointing north country crowds, as it packed the Mohawk Theatre which has a seating capacity of 2,500.

One explanation advanced for the falling off in the size of the Whitman audiences was that Mr. Whitman was sent into the North country by ex-Gov. Hughes to prosecute political leaders accused of election frauds. Republicans friendly to Mr. Whitman explained that while he was working for Gov. Hughes, "Republican crooks looked just the same to him as Democratic crooks," and so animosities were engendered which have not yet been forgotten.

The territory through which the Republican candidate passed had gone Republican almost solidly since the civil war and the people, it appeared from comments made along the route, were rather proud of their position as party "regulars." In greeting Mr. Whitman they assured him that, although they voted for Mr. Hinman at the primaries, they were not "bolters" and would vote "for the party candidate."

In his speeches Mr. Whitman continued to pound away on the alleged Tammany control of the Glynn Administration. A brass band which interrupted Mr. Whitman's speech at Malone, the third stop of the day, caused him to confess that he loved the music of a brass band above every other form of music.

"I always hate to talk against a brass band," he said. "I loved the music of brass bands when I was a small boy, and I have never gotten over it. I would go a long ways to hear one every day."

Edwin Duffy of Cortland County, a Democratic leader in previous years, introduced Mr. Whitman to a crowd of 400 at Plattsburg.

"I have been a Democrat all my life," he said, "but I am not voting for Glynn this year. I am for the ticket headed by Judge Whitman, because I want to lift my voice toward saving New York State. I shall never be a Democrat again until there is a radical change and the hordes that have moved from down the river toward Albany are driven back home. As a Democrat of many years' standing, I charge the Glynn Administration with dereliction of duty, with dishonesty, and with creating a scandal in our State which is nation-wide."

From 2 o'clock until 6 o'clock the Whitman train carried a more or less uninvited guest, who insisted on having a personal interview with Mr. Whitman. He proposed to ask the Republican candidate how he stood on the "issue of the people against the Water Power Trust in regard to the St. Lawrence River water power sites." The visitor, who was not permitted to interview Mr. Whitman, introduced himself as Howard D. Hadley, Bull Moose candidate for Congress against E. A. Merritt, ex-Speaker of the Assembly at Albany. He left the train at Montcalm Landing. He said he would telegraph Mr. Whitman tomorrow, and if he did not receive an answer within forty-eight hours he would warn all his friends in the north country against Mr. Whitman.

As the Whitman train rounded the north end of the Adirondacks, between Brushton and Malone, the engine became disabled, and a freight train was run into a nearby siding so that its locomotive could be put into service on the Whitman special. The freighter drew the special to Crown Point on Lake Champlain, but arrived so far behind the schedule that a planned-for automobile trip to Ticonderoga had to be abandoned. The train reached here at 10:15 o'clock P. M., an hour behind the time it was expected.

The candidate will continue his tour tomorrow with meetings in Albany, Troy, Hoosick Falls, Ballston, Gansevoort, Fort Edward, Hudson Falls, and Glens Falls.

Auto Hits Street Car; Two Dead.

PITTSBURGH, Penn., Oct. 28.—W. O. Stevenson of Leechburg, Penn., and David J. Nicholas of Hites, Penn., were killed here early today, when an automobile in which they were riding collided with a street car.

COST OF WADSWORTH'S RACE

Campaign Expenditures $7,687.35, Colby's $1,194.75.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Returns of campaign expenditures received so far by the Secretary of the Senate show that James W. Wadsworth, the Republican nominee in New York, has both received and expended far more than Bainbridge Colby, his Progressive opponent. No returns as yet have been received from Ambassador Gerard, the Democratic nominee, although it is supposed that the proper statements are on the way from Berlin. The Democratic Congressional Committee has already reported receiving $2,000 from him.

Mr. Wadsworth's statement, relating solely to funds for the general election, shows that he had received up to a few days ago $5,365 and expended $2,945.35. In addition Mr. Wadsworth had previously accounted for $3,000 receipts and expenditures of $4,742 in connection with his nomination. Mr. Colby's statement showed that he received no contributions for his primary campaign, spent only $224.18 on the general election, and a total, including primary expenses, of $1,194.75.

Candidates for the House—at least those who have so far made their pre-election returns—have for the most part kept their expenditures well under $1,000, many of them reporting that they have incurred no expense whatever. The heaviest expenditure reported for the general election was that of F. C. Hicke, Republican candidate in the First District, who returned an account of $2,714.08. Close behind him came Rollin B. Sanford, Republican candidate in the Twenty-eighth District, with returns of $2,605; G. W. Fairchild, Republican candidate in the Thirty-fourth District, with returns of $2,065; T. P. Dunn, Republican in the Thirty-eighth District, with $2,050, and William P. Charles, Republican in the Thirtieth District, with $2,020.90. No Democrat has yet reported expenditures equalling $2,000.

Other candidates who have reported expenditures of $1,000 or more are J. P. Maher, Democrat in the Fifth District, $1,300; D. J. Griffin, Democrat in the Eighth, $1,032.50; R. L. Haskell, Republican in the Tenth, $1,350.25; J. M. March, Republican in the Thirteenth, $1,140; Albert Ottenger, Republican in the Nineteenth, $1,098.86; William Forster, Republican in the Twenty-fourth, $1,449.94; Edmund Platt, Republican in the Twenty-sixth, $1,256; H. P. Snyder, Republican in the Thirty-third, $1,100.75; W. W. Magee, Republican in the Thirty-fifth, $1,024.80; Sereno E. Payne, Republican in the Thirty-sixth, $1,200; S. W. Dempsey, Republican in the Fortieth, $1,500.

Candidates for the House from New York who have reported that they have made so far no disbursements for the general election are H. H. Dale, Democrat, and John Kissel, Republican, of the Fourth District; F. W. Rowe, Republican in the Sixth; J. J. Fitzgerald, Democrat, Seventh; J. H. O'Brien, Democrat, Ninth; D. J. Riordan, Democrat, Eleventh; G. S. Scofield, Republican, Eleventh; O. W. Ehrhorn, Republican, Fifteenth; P. J. Dooling, Democrat, Sixteenth; J. A. Carew, Democrat, Seventeenth; T. E. Fatten, Democrat, Eighteenth; J. A. Cantor, Democrat, Twentieth; F. J. Kuerzi, in the Twentieth; W. R. Oglesby, Democrat, Twenty-fourth; W. C. Wilson, Democrat, Thirtieth; E. A. Murritt, Jr., Republican, Thirty-first; L. W. Mott, Republican, Thirty-second; D. J. Welch, Democrat, Thirty-fourth; H. M. Tilroe, Progressive, Thirty-fifth; G. P. Decker, Democrat, Thirty-eighth; H. G. Danforth, Republican, Thirty-ninth; M. M. Ottvell, Democrat, Forty-third (private secretary to Secretary of State Bryan,) and C. M. Hamilton, Republican, Forty-third.

No report has been received from the Progressive Congressional Committee.

'DIRTY TACTICS'—MITCHEL.

Mayor Says He Never Knew Nor Heard of Mrs. Mullan.

Mayor Mitchel yesterday characterized as "dirty tactics on the part of counsel for the State Commission" the charge that Isabella Mullan, a cousin of Tax Commissioner George V. Mullan, had been dismissed from the Charities Department and had been reinstated after the Mayor became interested in the case.

Counsel for the commission is Frank Moss.

"I know nothing about the woman, and I did not know that such a person existed," said the Mayor. "If anybody says I did, it is not true. Commissioner Doherty says he never mentioned the matter to any one. However, if any one had asked me to speak for her I probably should have done so."

"Some time last Fall," said Tax Commissioner Mullan yesterday, "Mrs. Mullan, who is a widow of a cousin of mine, came to me and said that she had held for some years a small place in the Charities Department. Her pay was barely enough to keep herself and her several children alive—$40 a month, I think. She said she had in some way incurred the enmity of a superior. At any rate, she was discharged, and said it was without cause. After Mr. Kingsbury was appointed Charities Commissioner I asked him to investigate and to put Mrs. Mullan back if he found she had been doing good work and that her discharge had not been justified. Deputy Commissioner Doherty made an investigation, as a result of which she was reinstated. The Mayor's name was not used, and he never knew of the woman's existence. What I did I would do tomorrow in a like case. I have no apology or excuse to make."

ROOSEVELT'S CROWDS BIG.

Colonel Continues Attack on Penrose in Eight Pennsylvania Counties

Special to The New York Times.

WILKES-BARRE, Penn., Oct. 28.—In the agricultural and coal mining fields of Central and Eastern Pennsylvania Theodore Roosevelt today continued his sledgehammer attack on Senator Penrose. He expounded the doctrine that there could be no permanent prosperity based on political dishonesty and economic unfairness.

The Roosevelt special train crossed York, Lancaster, Chester, Montgomery, Berks, Schuylkill, Luzerne, and Lackawanna Counties. Here in Wilkes-Barre the Colonel's admirers tendered him a big reception. At Reading earlier in the day, a city he carried two years ago, one of the most enthusiastic meetings of the tour was held. At Hazleton, in Luzerne County, which gave Roosevelt the largest vote of any county in the United States, there was another big meeting.

Col. Roosevelt set forth that the greatest service any man could render his State and the nation this Fall was to use his ballot against Penrose. He dwelt again upon the need of a workingmen's compensation act. "Hurl out Penrose," he cried, and the crowd cheered.

Lancaster, the home of Mayor Frank McClain, Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor, gave Col. Roosevelt a cordial reception. He appealed to the "Pennsylvania Dutch," and attempted to stem sentiment for Dr. Brumbaugh for Governor by defining Brumbaugh as the instrument of the Republican State bosses.

NON-PARTISANSHIP IN THE CONSTITUTION

WORK OF THE CONVENTION

Senator Says People Are Not Willing That Governor Shall Appoint All the Judges.

In a letter made public yesterday by the Citizens' Union, Senator Elihu Root, candidate for Delegate at Large to the Constitutional Convention, gave in some detail his views on matters which will come before the convention. The letter was written in response to a request by the union.

One paragraph, in which Senator Root held that municipal officers elected on a non-partisan ticket should not be permitted to use their offices to aid any political party, was read with special interest in political circles. In his letter Senator Root wrote:

"Of course, there should be no gerrymander or redistricting of the State for partisan purposes.

"For many years I have actively advocated a short ballot for State and county officers.

"I think the granting of franchises in perpetuity should be prohibited.

"I am in favor of granting broader powers of local action to cities and villages with the right to adopt and amend their own charters and laws regulating their own municipal affairs, and a prohibition of special legislation by the Legislature concerning local municipal affairs.

"I am strongly in favor of the non-partisan election of municipal officers, and I took an active part twenty years ago in bringing about the separation of municipal elections from national and State elections in order that the municipal elections might not be dependent upon national and State politics. There is, however, one essential condition of success for this policy which it is very difficult to maintain and to which special attention ought to be directed. That condition is, that the municipal officers who are elected upon a non-partisan basis shall remain non-partisan and shall not use the power and prestige of their offices to aid any political party.

"When a man has been elected to an important municipal office it is impossible for him to separate himself from the office in the public mind, and a participation in political conflict which would have been entirely permissible to him as an individual may be most unfair and injurious. The whole non-partisan principle breaks down if the man who is elected upon it is to be a partisan after he is elected."

Senator Root said he did not think there should be a total prohibition of the passing of private claim bills by the Legislature. The power, he said, was often abused, but was often necessary to the ends of justice, and the total prohibition would be a confession of the incapacity of our system of popular government, to which he was not willing to agree. As a check to the abuses he recommended that the power be exercised in a more regular, public, and responsible way. He continued:

"I should be glad to see the experiment of selecting election officers upon a civil service examination tried, but some method will have to be worked out to ascertain the real non-partisanship of the persons selected. The opportunities for fraud would be very great. It would be very difficult to secure judicial impartiality among the men available for the performance of the duties of election inspector, poll clerk, &c."

Senator Root said he did not think any question as to the appointment of Judges was a practical one at the present time because he was quite clear that the people of the State would not consent to a change in that respect. He added:

"One trouble about the question is, that we have two entirely different kinds of experience in the State. The elective system works very well outside of New York City. It works very badly in New York City. If the people of the State, for the sake of getting better Judges in New York City, were willing to let the Governor appoint all the Judges I should be glad. But, undoubtedly, they are not willing to have that done."

Senator Root then discussed the question raised by the Citizens' Union, of the non-partisan election of Judges and municipal officers. He said:

"I am in favor of the non-partisan election of municipal officers and of the non-partisan election of Judges, but I have no confidence whatever in the power of any law or constitution to bring this about by mandatory provision. No law can compel men to be non-partisan, and no law which is consistent with the freedom of the voter, upon which our whole system of Government depends, can prevent voters from uniting with each other to bring about the election of candidates whom they agree in supporting, or from being actuated in that agreement by partisan feeling."

INDORSES 80 FOR DELEGATES.

Constitutional Convention Committee Reports on Nominees.

The New York City Constitutional Convention Committee made public yesterday a report in which it indorsed 80 candidates for delegates to the Constitutional Convention. Each candidate was asked to place at the disposal of the committee such information as to his qualifications as he saw fit and to express his views, without in any way binding himself as to his future action, in regard to certain principles which the committee considered fundamental. Three-fourths of the candidates answered the inquiries made.

The purpose of the committee, the report says, was to do what it could to insure the election of delegates qualified by character, ability, and training, irrespective of party affiliation. The report says that many problems were faced by the committee in making its indorsements. As between candidates of nearly equal fitness the committee sought by its indorsements to add to the strength of those who appeared to have a reasonable chance of election. The report also says:

Finally, it is necessary again to point out that the early impression of the committee as to the low standard of nominees in general has been strengthened by a more careful consideration, and that the belief that the nomination was often accorded as a reward to wholly unqualified and unfit party workers, because of the $1,500 salary attached, has been amply justified.

HOME WITH INDIAN MOVIES.

Dr. Goddard Also Brings Hunting Songs for Museum Phonograph.

After several months in the Gila River region of the Southwest, Dr. Pliny E. Goddard, curator of ethnology at the Museum of Natural History, has returned with moving pictures of Indian life made for scientific purposes. These pictures illustrate the industrial life of the Apaches. One shows Apaches cooking a century plant stump in the ground.

Dr. Goddard also got twenty Apache hunting songs sung into a phonograph by an old Apache chief, Antonio.

A masked dance pictured by Dr. Goddard was given in celebration of an Indian girl attaining womanhood. The dancers included four gods and a clown, who wore highly decorative headdress. They danced in a circle about a fire, and other Indians assembled in groups on near-by hills. The dance began at dusk and some of the dancers continued until sunrise.

$20,000 IN PACKAGE AMONG SHIP'S CARGO

REVEALED BY A ROBBERY

Wireless from Port Tells Captain of Boy Who Got $15,000 Before Ship Started.

How a package containing $20,000 in United States currency was thrown into the forward hold of the Cunarder Carpathia at Naples, mixed with sacks of nuts and boxes of raisins, and how $15,000 was taken from the package before the ship left port, was told yesterday by Capt. William Prothero and his officers after the Carpathia was made fast at her pier at the foot of West Thirteenth Street.

Five hours after the Carpathia left Naples for New York on Oct. 7 a wireless message from the Chief of Police told the Captain that just after the vessel sailed an Italian boy had been caught leaving the pier with $15,000 in United States notes in a tin box under his arm. The Chief of Police asked Capt. Prothero to inquire if any of his passengers had been robbed.

Inquiries were made, and Purser P. D. Loch overhauled his specie room to see if anything had been tampered with, but found no trace of a robbery.

In the meantime, Chief Officer W. Stafford, who was down in No. 1 hold with a part of the crew getting the miscellaneous packages stowed for the voyage, caught a glimpse of some yellow-backed bills protruding from a package that had evidently been torn open. Upon examination it proved to contain $5,000 with a paper which showed that the amount was $20,000 when it was sent away from the office of the American Express Company in Naples. The package was consigned to the American Express Company in New York, and was entered on a bill of lading as ordinary merchandise. Although the risk of loss is greater there is a big saving in charges, it was said. The cost of sending a package containing $20,000 in the forehold with nuts and raisins would be about one dollar or less while the interest and special freight rates if the package had been put in the specie room would have been a considerable sum.

Capt. Prothero said he had been informed that the Italian boy had learned of the contents of the package and had hidden in the hold until the small parcels were passed down to be stowed on top of the heavy freight. Apparently he was afraid to steal the entire contents and left the $5,000 behind.

At the office of the American Express Company, 65 Broadway, the officials appeared to be ignorant that the company had narrowly escaped losing $15,000 and said they knew nothing of the package consigned to their office by the agent in Naples.

W. K. Vanderbilt Escapes Tax.

Henry B. Anderson, attorney for William K. Vanderbilt caused Tax Commissioner Purdy yesterday to cancel a $5,000,000 tax assessment against Mr. Vanderbilt, as executor of the will of George Vanderbilt, removed. Mrs. Edith Vanderbilt, widow of George Vanderbilt, makes her home in Washington, D. C. Mr. Anderson testified that Mr. Vanderbilt made his home at Oakdale, L. I., and was not taxable in New York City.

MORTGAGE LED HIM ASTRAY.

Planned Counterfeit Notes to Save Home and Get Brother Wed.

Carlos Padilla, a Colombian, who came here to interest the Government in a device to drop bombs from aeroplanes, was held under $2,500 bail yesterday in the Federal District Court on the charge of conspiring to counterfeit $250,000 worth of 100-peso Colombian notes. He was arrested after he had received from an engraver proofs of the spurious notes.

The young man told Capt. Henry he had fallen in with a Spanish engraver, who made with a camera a plate of 100-peso notes.

Just then, Padilla said, he got word that a mortgage for $9,000 was about to be foreclosed on his home in Bogota, which was worth $25,000. This put into his head the idea of making notes to pay the mortgage. Then he heard that his brother was going to Spain to be married, so he thought he would increase his output to $250,000 to meet that contingency.

Then he met an engraver called Sussman, who professed to join the conspiracy, but told Consul Escobar of Colombia, who took measures that led to Padilla's arrest.

DIES AFTER STREET FIGHT.

Wm. Winckelback Struck Down by City Surveyor in Dispute.

William Winckelback, 61 years old, a salesman living at 4 Chatham Square, died a short time after being taken to the Hudson Street Hospital with a fractured skull yesterday afternoon, and as a result of his death a charge of homicide was placed against Irving Loder, 25 years old, a city surveyor, whose home is in Port Chester.

Loder and two assistants were making a survey at Church and Barclay Streets yesterday for the Lawyers Title Insurance and Trust Company when Winckelback, who wanted to cross the street, objected to the obstruction caused by the surveyor's rods. An argument ensued and, according to Loder, Winckelback kicked him. Loder said he struck back in self-defense, knocking Winckelback down. He received a fracture of the skuell when he fell. Loder was released on $2,500 bail.

WANT 2 BELGIAN ORPHANS.

Chicago Couple Plan to Bring Babies Here for Adoption.

A Chicago manufacturer who did not want his name used is at the Vanderbilt charged with an unusual mission. Before he left home he was asked by a married couple to see if they could have two Belgian orphans brought over so that they could adopt them.

"My friends are prosperous but childless, and they sincerely desire to adopt two children," said the Chicagoan yesterday. "They live in Chicago, and if they can find the right children are prepared to do everything for them. They have a preference for Belgian children, and they have read that thousands have lost their parents through the war; and they feel that if they adopt children, they will not only fill a want in their own home and lives, but they will set an example which may be followed by many Americans.

"Their desire appealed to me so that I shall get into communication with the Belgian Relief Committee here, and see what can be done. Of course the children, preferably a boy and girl, must be very strong and healthy. They are willing to stand all expenses in getting the youngsters here."

Sues Stokes for Son's Auto Hurts.

William G. McClane, a real estate dealer of 503 West Forty-fourth Street, began suit in the Supreme Court yesterday against W. E. D. Stokes for $10,000 for injuries caused to the plaintiff's son by being struck by an automobile owned by Mr. Stokes. The accident occurred on Aug. 20 last at Eleventh Avenue and Forty-fifth Street.

BROKER TAKEN AS FORGER.

G. H. Lowden Accused of Giving Spurious Stock Certificate.

George H. Lowden, a broker, of Hempstead, L. I., was arrested at 32 Franklin Street last evening and locked up in Police Headquarters, charged with forging a certificate of 100 shares of the Laclede Gaslight Company of St. Louis, and "uttering" the same to Ehrich & Co., brokers, of 67 Exchange Place. The transaction, according to the police, occurred about July 30 and the value of the certificate was $7,500.

According to the Police Headquarters blotter, William J. Ehrich of 57 West Seventy-fifth Street was the complainant, but at his home Mr. Ehrich said he had not signed the complaint. He said the certificate had been given to his firm by Mr. Lowden as margin on an account. Mr. Lowden, he said, had done business with the firm for about two years, and his reputation had been good.

The Guaranty Trust Company had returned the certificate with the information that the signature of an official upon it was not genuine. Mr. Lowden, Mr. Ehrich said, insisted that he himself had received the certificate in good faith from another man whom he was unable to produce, and Lowden's arrest followed.

"It seems to me to be but a technical charge of forgery," said Mr. Ehrich, "and I do not know that guilty knowledge can be proved. For that reason I myself will not press the charge. The matter is in the hands of the District Attorney."

Orientals

The Largest Specialty Rug House in America.

Rugs of Multiplied Value

The work of years in carefully selecting a stock of Oriental rugs—always maintaining a standard—always keeping the stock at its highest point of versatility as well as excellence—is yielding unexpected rewards.

Those rewards ARE GOING TO OUR CUSTOMERS, whose appreciation of the efforts of this house, unusual in the rug business, has been consistent and continuous.

The Joseph Wild & Co. collection of Oriental rugs was easily FIRST IN IMPORTANCE IN AMERICA—among those on sale—before the outbreak of the present war.

AT THE PRESENT MOMENT THAT IMPORTANCE HAS BEEN VASTLY MULTIPLIED—AND AT THE SAME TIME NOT ONE PRICE HAS BEEN INCREASED IN THE WHOLE WILD ESTABLISHMENT.

* * * * *

To appreciate this, you must know that the entire rug market is in a state of confusion.

Usual sources of supply have been completely cut off.

While vagrant "lots" of rugs, of most indifferent character, are floating here and there—the wreckage of the unfortunate war—the importation of desirable rugs has ALMOST CEASED.

* * * * *

The house that has collected its rugs slowly—carefully—each individual rug because of individual merit—finds itself in a position of unapproachable advantage.

Because it ALWAYS PROVIDED AGAINST THE FUTURE, knowing that in the best of times desirable Oriental rugs cannot be picked up at a moment's notice, it now HAS ITS OWN SUPPLY ON HAND.

That supply was not intended to move off the floor in a hurry—because at no time could we hurriedly get another such supply to replace it.

THE WAR'S INTERRUPTION MEANS LITTLE TO JOSEPH WILD & CO.

You may be just as sure of the irreproachable character and value of the Oriental rug purchased here NOW, as at any time in the history of the house.

The rug leadership, held for many years by this house, is being thoroughly justified at a time when it is of greatest value.

MAKE PLAN TO OPEN TRADE TO GERMANY

NOW SEEKING THE SHIPS

Cotton Will Be Sent in American Vessels and Dyestuffs and Cyanide Brought Back.

As a result of the negotiations of the State Department in conjunction with the Department of Commerce, the interchange between this country and Germany and Austria of cotton for dyestuffs, potash, cyanide, drugs, chemicals, and sugar beet seed can be reestablished if only enough vessels flying the American flag can be found to look after it.

Robert F. Rose, foreign trade adviser of the Department of State, is now in this city trying to induce American ship owners to enter their vessels in this trade and to look for ships under other flags which can be transferred to the American registry for the same purpose. He is a guest at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, and he said last night that he would be delighted to hear from any ship owners who could assist him.

At the outbreak of the war the export of cotton from this country to Germany and Austria ceased entirely, largely through misapprehension of the legal rights of American merchants and through the novelty of the circumstances. As a matter of fact, raw cotton and raw wool never have been upon the list of contraband, and are the very first articles mentioned specifically by the Declaration of London as exempt from seizure. However, it was not until the statement a few days ago of Sir Edward Grey had made it plain that Great Britain had no intention of interfering with cotton cargoes, that the brokers in this city were willing to enter a trade which they held to be so risky.

On the other hand, Germany at first placed an embargo on dye stuffs, chemicals, cyanide and medicines, along with a long list of other articles. It never prohibited the export of sugar beet seed, but financial difficulties occurred, which practically interrupted the trade in that commodity as effectually as if there had been an order against it. Now the German Government has announced that dye stuffs, chemicals, cyanide and medicines may be exported under certain conditions, and it is to make it possible to meet these that Mr. Rose is in this city.

In the first place, these exports from Germany are to be in American bottoms only. In the second place, the American consignees must enter into a bond that none of the dyestuffs will be exported from the United States, or the cyanide from the United States or Mexico. The reason of this is that Great Britain is almost as badly off for these commodities as the United States. She needs the cyanide for her gold and silver mines in South Africa, and, although she produces some of her own dyes, she has not a full line of them. But if the cotton, the cyanide, and the dyestuffs are carried in American bottoms, and if they are owned technically by Americans in course of transit, there is no chance whatever of their being interfered with by the Allies.

The stock of dyestuffs in this country is running dangerously low, and it is reckoned that within a month, unless imports are resumed, the textile industry, employing 500,000 hands, will begin to feel the effect, which would grow steadily more serious as time went on. The mines of the West and Mexico also would very soon be brought to a standstill if no more cyanide were forthcoming.

On the other hand, it is believed by the Department of State that the resumption of the shipments of cotton to Germany and Austria will have an appreciable effect on the revival of prosperity in the South. Germany is ready to take 500,000 bales and Austria 25,000 bales a month. The cotton crop this year will be more than 14,000,000 bales. Of this the normal consumption in this country would be 5,000,000 bales, which would leave 9,000,000 bales to be taken care of.

This, however, would be reduced by an increased consumption provided the dyes were forthcoming for their manufacture, and this is expected to reduce the amount available for export to 7,500,000 bales. So that a German and Austrian demand for 900,000 bales a year would be a factor well worth considering.

The ports which can be used for this commerce are Rotterdam, Bremen, and Hamburg, but the Government officials hope that Rotterdam will be made its chief centre. It is here that the dyestuffs and cyanide are waiting for export, and so it would be easy to arrange that a ship which had carried cotton from this side should load there with German products for the return cargo.

Some doubt was at one time expressed as to whether the Dutch authorities would permit cotton to be shipped through its territory to German points, but representations made by the Department of State have cleared away this apprehension. It has been announced authoritatively that cotton consigned to a German destination will be considered as "in transit," and will be forwarded across the frontier without any objection.

Bremen and Hamburg are, of course, under strict military surveillance and have their approaches heavily mined. Ships are, however, continually making their way in and out of them, and the German authorities will provide pilots through the mine fields for any neutral vessels.

As a matter of fact, under the encouragement of the Government export from Germany to this country of certain articles has already been resumed. The Matansas was sent from here in ballast, and it is believed to have sailed yesterday from Rotterdam laden with dye stuffs and cyanide. The oil tank steamship Sun also is about to sail with a similar cargo from Amsterdam. It was thought by the Government that there was no reason why oil steamers should not be used to some extent for this trade.

After discharging their cargoes of petroleum in Europe they would be glad to find a return cargo. They can be thoroughly washed out, so that there would be no actual contamination of the goods put aboard them, but it is recognized that it will be impossible to send by them any commodities which might be injured by the odors of petroleum.

All cargoes of cotton, dyestuffs, cyanide and so on will be shipped subject to the guarantee of the marine risks by the Government, and Mr. Rose is confident that if he can put in this trade four or five ships a month he will have accomplished much to ease up the commercial situation.

GERMANY NEEDS COTTON.

Demand for 75,000 Bales a Month, Says Ambassador Gerard.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—James W. Gerard, the American Ambassador at Berlin, cabled the State Department today that there was a market for about 75,000 bales of American cotton in Germany and Austria. He informed the department that Germany would need about 50,000 bales a month and that Austria will probably be able to handle 25,000 bales a month.

This information came from Ambassador Gerard, after he had been notified that assurances had been given in writing by the English Government that cargoes of cotton in neutral ships would have the freedom of the seas so far as Great Britain was concerned and that Great Britain would not treat cotton as contraband of war, even when destined to German ports. Ambassador Gerard is now endeavoring to obtain for the State Department detailed information as to the demand for these goods in Germany.

The German Embassy is also interesting itself in the German and Austrian cotton situation, many inquiries having been sent to the Embassy yesterday immediately following the announcement that Great Britain would not treat cotton as contraband. These inquiries came from concerns in this country which ship cotton to Germany in normal times and on the basis of the many inquiries Baron von Schoen visited the State Department and received assurances from Acting Secretary of State Lansing that it was the understanding of the United States Government that there would be no interference with shipments of cotton to Germany in neutral ships.

If Ambassador Gerard's preliminary estimate, which of course is subject to modification, of a demand for 75,000 bales of American cotton monthly in Germany and Austria holds good, it would greatly relieve the American cotton situation. Since the outbreak of the war the shipments of American cotton to these two countries have been practically nothing. The corrected figures for September exports of cotton, unmanufactured, to Germany and Austria are not available. During August, 1914, no raw cotton went from the United States to Austria, though in July, 1914, the last month preceding the war, American exports of raw cotton to Austria aggregated 450 bales, weighing 227,373 pounds and worth $30,214, while the exports of cotton from this country to Austria during the fiscal year ending July 1, 1914, were 101,786 bales, weighing 55,255,407 pounds and worth $6,739,687.

During August, 1914, the first month of the war, only 52 bales of cotton were exported from the United States to Germany. They weighed 24,012 pounds and were worth $2,350. This was a terrific slump from the July shipment of 41,291 bales, weighing 20,952,360 pounds, worth $2,625,127. July was below the average monthly shipment to Germany.

During the fiscal year which ended July 1, 1914, the amount of American cotton taken by Germany was 2,785,220 bales, weighing 1,442,161,777 pounds, and it was valued at $181,891,920. This is what the German demand for American cotton was worth to the American people during the twelve months immediately preceding the outbreak of war.

Germany in normal times was America's second-best customer for raw cotton. The total value of the cotton exports last year was $610,476,301, of which Great Britain took the most, valued at $231,817,865, while Germany took $181,891,920 worth, and France ranked third with an importation of $73,918,742.

PUTS HOME TRADE FIRST.

Metz Urges Its Development Before Foreign Commerce.

Representative Herman A. Metz, speaking at the dinner of the Carpet Club, an organization of carpetn manufacturers, at the Hotel Astor last night, said present conditions in the cotton trade were brought about because Americans were afraid to take a business chance.

"I have listened to the arguments of the cotton men in Congress," he said. "If the Government is to buy cotton why should it not buy our carpets and everything else we have on our hands when we have made a mistake? We haven't a ship that they dare send straight to Hamburg, although there is no reason why our cotton should not be sent there. In the first place we have got to get ships. There are not five American ships which can take a cotton cargo."

"Every country has its specialty, but the Germans have been carrying on business systematically and methodically in many lines. I am much more interested in American manufacturers' controlling our own market than I am in their getting the foreign trade."

MAYOR BELITTLES GRAND JURY REPORT

MOTIVE IN PRESENTMENT

Says, "This Grand Jury Junketing Ought to Stop," and Indorses Commissioner Kingsbury.

Mayor Mitchel yesterday showed that he was displeased with the August Grand Jury, which handed down a presentment criticising the Charities Department for its conduct of city institutions. He prepared a statement, which said:

"The Charities Department has been twice investigated by the city government and well-considered, constructive plans worked out. So far as the Grand Jury has put its fingers on facts, we already know them, have called public attention to them, and are working night and day to correct them. We cannot do all that we should like to do in a day or six months, because we must not only recognize the time-long practices of the department, but spend money to remedy evils.

"It is no part of the function of a Grand Jury to spend its time in study of administrative problems unless to disclose crime committed. Grand Juries have been in the habit of making frequent excursions to the institutions of the Department of Charities, usually at dinner time, where they have permitted themselves to be entertained by the superintendents. This Grand Jury junketing ought to stop. The funds of the city and county would be better devoted to the discharge of the legitimate functions of the Grand Jury, namely, inquiry into and indictment for crime."

The underlying motive in the presentment, the Mayor said, might safely be inferred from its closing recommendation, that the Charities Department be placed under a board to be nominated equally by the Jewish, Protestant, and Catholic charitable institutional organizations, notwithstanding the fact that the bills of these very institutions—which receive some $5,000,000 a year from the city—must all pass through the hands of the Charities Department, and the amounts received by such institutions were conditional upon the number of inmates accepted by the Charities Department.

Commissioner Kingsbury, the Mayor said, had been called before the Grand Jury to explain two matters—low-paid hospital helpers and the stealing of jewelry from bodies in the morgue—and had explained them to his—the Mayor's—satisfaction.

The department, the Mayor said, emphatically denied that children did not have shoes, and he said it was absolutely untrue that children are placed near other patients suffering from contagious diseases.

STRAUS CHIDES INDORSERS.

Deplores Sectarian Issue Raised by Guardians of Liberty.

Oscar S. Straus, candidate for Delegate-at-Large to the Constitutional Convention, although indorsed in a circular sent out by the Guardians of Liberty, has protested because they have injected a sectarian issue into the present campaign by opposing Gov. Glynn on the ground that he is a Catholic. Mr. Straus has written to Chauncey J. Hamlin of Buffalo, Progressive nominee for Lieutenant Governor, as follows:

I see by the papers yesterday that a secret organization calling itself the Guardians of Liberty, in Erie County, has sent out a circular indorsing a list of candidates on the State and local ticket, and that among the candidates it has so indorsed is yourself as Lieutenant Governor, and they also indorse me as one of the delegates at large to the Constitutional Convention.

As the purpose of this secret organization, as stated in the press reports, is evidently directed to discriminate against Gov. Glynn because he is a Roman Catholic, and in this secret way to inject into this campaign a sectarian issue, I desire to protest against and resent such an un-American effort. I would far rather be defeated a hundred times over than be elected by any votes obtained by such methods.

In 1912, when I was the candidate of the Progressive Party for Governor, an effort was made on religious grounds to secure votes for Sulzer because he had introduced a resolution in Congress for the abrogation of the Russian treaty, it being claimed because of this service for the Jews that he was entitled to Jewish support.

I resented then the introduction of the religious question into the campaign, not only because it was contrary to the spirit of our laws, but also because the abrogation of our treaty with Russia was in no sense a sectarian question, but was for the single purpose of maintaining the solidarity of our citizenship, in accordance with the letter of our Constitution and the spirit of our institutions.

I would have addressed this letter to the so-called Guardians of Liberty, but who are in fact the Enemies of Liberty, but as they apparently are a secret organization, I am unable to find their address, and so I address my letter to you, with the request that you give it publicity, for I am sure, besides expressing my own opinion, I voice the true sentiments and principles of the Progressive Party.

Mr. Straus also wrote that he hoped no one "would so violate the basic principles upon which our American institutions are founded as to vote against Gov. Glynn because he is a Catholic."

MRS. SCHIESS GETS ALIMONY

Files Husband's Alleged Confession of "Lies" to Her.

The first victory in the legal battle between Samuel Schiess and his wife, Lilla Gertrude Schiess, was won yesterday by Mrs. Schiess, to whom Justice Donnelly in the Supreme Court awarded $25 a week alimony pending the trial of the suits. Mrs. Schiess is suing for divorce and her husband is suing for a separation and the return of about $80,000 which he says his wife obtained from him by threats. She is a writer of moving-picture plays, and lives at 117 West 132d Street.

By the will of his father Mr. Schiess has an interest in the embroidery manufacturing concern of Zahner & Schiess. His income is about $10,000 a year. Mrs. Schiess accused him of misconduct with a Mrs. Berkhard, who was also known as Florence Wagner and as "Toots" Le Vey.

Mr. Schiess wrote out a confession, Mrs. Schiess, according to him, threatened to tell his family in Switzerland all about his affairs unless he gave her all his money, and he was afraid his aged mother would sink under the blow.

51 BODIES TAKEN FROM MINE

Dead in Illinois Disaster Sacrificed to Save 300 Others.

ROYALTON, Ill., Oct. 28.—The disaster at the mine of the Franklin Coal and Coke Company near here yesterday, from which fifty-one bodies have been recovered, was caused by the explosion, by a miner's lamp, of a pocket of gas located the night before by a mine inspector, and marked dangerous.

A large portion of the dead were sacrificed, it was said today, in order to save the lives of nearly 300 others in more distant parts of the mine. Reversal of the air pumps saved 285 miners scattered among the galleries, at the expense of dooming to death those in the zone of the explosion who had escaped being disabled and were trying to reach the air shaft.

These facts were brought out today when the near completion of the rescue work made investigation possible. The facts regarding the cause of the gas explosion were brought out by members of the State Mining Board. The immediate cause of the death of those who perished was learned from the statements of Leo Bellamy, a miner who escaped through the air-shaft, and James D. Brown, mine manager. The Coroner's inquest began this afternoon.

The widows of two Italian miners killed in the explosion were found dead in their shacks here today. With scores of others the two women stood at the mouth of the mine all yesterday and late into the night. Physicians declared they had died of grief and shock.

TWO EXPLOSION VICTIMS DIE

Two Arrested for Homicide; Police Seeking Another.

Leslie Rosenfeld, 19 years old, of 132 West Forty-first Street, son of Ignatz H. Rosenfeld, proprietor of the Café Boulevard, and James Dunphy, 35 years old, a stationary fireman of 225 West 128th Street, died yesterday from injuries they received on Tuesday night when a boiler exploded in the basement of the Hotel Continental.

Coroner Healy and Lieut. Van Keuren of the Police Headquarters Boiler Squad inspected the basement of the hotel yesterday and Coroner Healy ordered the arrest of three men employed in the building who, he thought, were criminally responsible for the explosion.

Later Frederick Teitman, 65 years old, of 144 Sterling Street, Brooklyn, chief engineer of the building, and Henry Lansau, the night engineer, who is in a serious condition in the Polyclinic Hospital, were arrested, charged with homicide. Teitman was locked up in the East Thirty-fifth Street Station. The third man mentioned by the Coroner was not found.

The Coroner said the safety valve of the boiler was examined last week and that a member of the Boiler Squad then left orders that it was not to be tampered with. On the night of the explosion, he said, a piece of wood was propped against it to allow greater steam pressure. This, he believed, was responsible for the explosion. If the body of the boiler had burst, the Coroner said, the building probably would have been wrecked and many persons dancing in the Café Boulevard on the first floor would have been killed.

Glass Flower Blocks

FLOWERS tastefully arranged in a shallow glass bowl form a most attractive decoration for the dining table or taborette. And so arranged, are far more attractive than if placed in a tall vase.

The Flower Block is of solid glass, perforated from top to bottom as shown. It is raised off the bottom of the bowl by little feet, and the holes are cut clear through to allow stems to remain in the water.

By placing the block in a shallow bowl and cutting flower stems to different lengths, very attractive arrangements can be easily made.

Blocks come either flat or round in two sizes. Round, 4½ in. wide, 50c.; 5½ in. wide, $1.00. Flat, 3½ in. wide, 38c.; 4½ in. wide, 50c.

EDUCATION BOARD ELECTS M'ANDREW

Washington Irving High School Head Made Associate City Superintendent.

MISS STRACHAN QUITS RACE

Contest Decided on Tenth Ballot—$10,000 Salaries Voted for Dean Schneider and William Wirt.

William McAndrew, Principal of the Washington Irving High School, was elected to the office of Associate City Superintendent, made vacant by the death of Edward L. Stevens, on the tenth ballot at the Board of Education's meeting last night.

District Supt. Grace C. Strachan, in a long letter received by President Thomas W. Churchill during the day, had announced her withdrawal from the contest.

Miss Strachan, who was present at the board meeting throughout the balloting, said in her letter that appreciating fully the effect of Mayor Mitchel's expression of opposition to her election, she was averse to embarrassing the board members who favored her candidacy by hindering in any way the progress of the policies which those members "are working so faithfully, so earnestly, and so successfully to establish."

She said she did not consider that the Mayor's criticism of her was fair, nor did she withdraw her contention that the women teachers, the girl pupils, and the other women and girls in this city were entitled to a woman representative on the Board of Superintendents, and that her own record as a teacher, Principal, and District Superintendent entitled her to special consideration as a candidate. She added that she disliked to withdraw in view of the unjust attacks, but she was a teacher first, and it was as a teacher that she refused to permit herself becoming in any way a brake on the wheel of progress of the boys and girls of this city.

Report on Nominations.

The election was preceded by a report from the Committee on Nominations, which said that the claims of various candidates from outside the city had been carefully considered, but that none of them had been found to possess any greater qualifications for the office than the New York candidates. The plan had been to select an Associate City Superintendent of general rather than special efficiency. The following names were given as those who led the list: District Superintendents Darwin L. Bardwell, John Dwyer, Grace C. Strachan, Cornelius E. Franklin, Charles W. Lyon, Edgar Dubs Simler, Edward W. Stitt, Henry E. Jenkins, James J. McCabe and Joseph S. Taylor; William McAndrew, John F. Reigart, Principal of Public School 166, Manhattan, and Jerome A. O'Connell, a member of the Board of Examiners.

William G. Willcox announced that so much had been said as to the attitude of the Mayor in this election that the latter had requested him to disabuse the minds of the members of the board of the idea that he had undertaken in any way to influence any of them. The Mayor, Mr. Willcox said, did not have any candidate for the office, although he would be glad to have John Dwyer elected. Mr. Dwyer is said to be a relative of the Mayor. Forty-five members were present. The full board consists of forty-six members, but there is one vacancy caused by the death of James E. Sullivan. The first ballot eliminated from the contest the names of Messrs. Jenkins, McCabe, Taylor, and Reigart, none of whom received a vote. One vote was cast for Miss Strachan, but she received no vote afterward. The balloting for the others resulted as follows: Bardwell 10, Lyon 7, McAndrews 8, Shimer 0, Dwyer 7, Stitt 4, Franklin 3, O'Connell 1.

Favored by Administration.

McAndrew was the choice of President Churchill and the board administration. The opposition favored Bardwell. Twenty-four votes, a majority of the full board, were necessary to elect.

The tenth ballot stood 24 for McAndrew and 18 for Lyon. The latter's vote was a surprise, but it so happened that when the Bardwell forces saw that they could not elect him they went to Lyon as the man they could best hope to win with.

The board adopted a resolution by Mr. Willcox that $10,000 salary each be paid to Dean Herman Schneider of the College of Engineering, University of Cincinnati, and William Wirt, Superintendent of Schools at Gary, Ind., for terms ending respectively on Sept. 30, 1915, and Dec. 31, 1915. Dean Schneider is to be in charge of co-operative and continuation courses in high schools and Supt. Wirt of vocational and pre-vocational work in elementary schools.

DROWNED ON WEDDING EVE.

Bridal Party Waits While Groom's Body Floats in Bay.

Alexander Bruce, manager of the Monument House at Broadway and Linden Avenue, Flushing, L. I., was to have been married at 9 o'clock yesterday morning in a church in East Fifty-seventh Street to Miss Florence McGann, a dressmaker of 238 East Fifty-fifth Street. Bruce had completed all his arrangements for the wedding, and left the hotel on Monday night. His friends in Flushing who had been invited had already started for Manhattan when the relatives of the bride-elect telephoned to the Monument House about 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning and asked what had become of Bruce.

Thereupon a search was instituted over the entire neighborhood, and shortly after noon Patrolman Smith found Bruce's body floating in Flushing Bay near the Flushing Boat Club at Point Ruth. The identification, which was at first only conjectural, was confirmed by John Theofel, owner of the Monument House, who, with Magistrate Harry Miller, motored over to Johann's morgue at College Point.

The body was fully dressed, and plenty of money and jewelry were found in the pockets. A few bruises on the face might easily have been received, the police thought, while the body was floating in the water, and there was no evidence to substantiate any theory of foul play or of suicide. On the other hand, no one is able to explain how or why Bruce should have gone to the bay. His watch had stopped at 10:44, and from the appearance of the body it is believed that the time indicated must have been Tuesday night rather than yesterday morning.

Mr. Theofel, owner of the hotel, notified Miss McGann of the drowning. She and her family said they were unable to throw any light on the case.

Bruce was born in Scotland in 1879 and had lived in Flushing for five years.

CITY BREVITIES.

Several hundred persons went to 69 Devoe Street yesterday to congratulate Joseph De Long, the oldest inhabitant of Williamsburg, who celebrated his 101st birthday.

The annual report of the New York Bible Society, made yesterday by Dr. George William Carter, General Secretary, recorded the distribution of 326,146 copies of the Bible in forty-seven languages during the year.

Benjamin Kramelser of the bankrupt firm of Gang & Kramelser, 109 West Twenty-sixth Street, in business as the Clever Waist Company, was committed to the Tombs in default of $5,000 bail yesterday by Commissioner Houghton on the charge of conspiring to conceal assets.

The Public Service Commission has ordered a hearing on Nov. 9 on the adequacy of the service of the B. R. T. elevated lines in Brooklyn.

S. M. Hechtman of 16 East 106th Street was held in $5,000 bail by Magistrate Deuel yesterday on the charge of setting fire to his grocery at 79 East 103d Street to collect insurance.

Lillian Warren, an actress, of Woodside, L. I., was taken to Flower Hospital yesterday suffering from contusions sustained when she was knocked down at Fifth Avenue and Forty-second Street by a hansom cab driven by Robert Smithey of 127 West 133th Street.

M. W. Baylis of Washington, D. C., was elected Sovereign Grand Commander at the 107th annual communication of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Masons yesterday.

2,000 AUTOS PARADE IN FLOOD OF LIGHT

MANY GROTESQUE FLOATS

More than two thousand automobiles and a thousand motorcycles, including the earliest and quaintest as well as the latest and handsomest models of pleasure cars and commercial vehicles, appeared in the automobile parade down Fifth Avenue last night, this being only one of the many events of the New York Commercial Tercentenary Celebration. The procession was headed by Mayor Mitchel and Gov. Glynn. Thousands of persons lined the streets along the route and cheered the elaborate floats. The spectators were furnished with much amusement by all kinds of grotesque floats, and all were seen to the greatest advantage because most of the streets along which the parade wound its way were lighted by festoons of tens of thousands of electric lights.

The parade started from Madison Avenue and 125th Street at 7 o'clock, going west on 125th Street to St. Nicholas Avenue, south on St. Nicholas and Manhattan Avenues to 110th Street. It then turned west on 110th Street to Broadway, south on Broadway to Columbus Circle, and thence east on Fifty-ninth Street. Between Seventh and Fifth Avenues it passed the first grand stand, where nearly 10,000 guests were waiting. From Fifty-ninth Street the line of automobiles turned into Fifth Avenue and went south as far as Thirty-fourth Street, turning north again on Broadway and going back to Columbus Circle, which was the point of dispersal.

The reviewing stand, between Forty-second and Fortieth Streets, in front of the Public Library, was filled with more than 10,000 persons. As the procession turned into Fifth Avenue from Fifty-ninth Street two motor cycle policemen dashed down the avenue in front of the grand stand, blowing their whistles, and immediately the traffic police cleared the brilliantly lighted thoroughfare of all traffic.

The first two automobiles brought Mayor Mitchel and Gov. Glynn. On account of campaign engagements they were compelled to travel a little ahead of the rest of the procession, and only the Harlem, Concourse, and Indian Motor Cycle Clubs tried to keep up with their speeding touring cars.

Show Old and New Machines.

The first division of the parade, showing the evolution of the automobile industry prior to 1905, was headed by a float, "Indian, 1614-1914," showing the old and the new Indian machines. The evolution of the bicycle and the motor cycle was shown also by a float of the Pope Manufacturing Company.

One of the interesting entries was the first Oldsmobile, a small runabout, and the manufacturers of this machine had several other floats, one representing the first steam locomotive.

The "Michelin Twins," exhibited at Coney Island, were again seen last night. One of Broadway's recent theatrical productions was the theme of another float, a huge bathtub with a man floundering in it otherwise than sober.

Another exhibit that won applause from the reviewing stand was the "Hudson Log Cabin." A private float, entered by Francis Wright Clinton, produced exclamations of surprise, this automobile being decorated with roses and vines among which were perched white doves.

The Chandler float, showing a mountain side with a Chandler car climbing up one side of it, and the title, "It's a Bear!" was adjudged very unique by the crowd. Following not far behind it was a beautiful floral design, entitled "Peace."

One of the latest Chalmers sedans, mounted on a truck in a large bed of roses, produced on the spectators undoubtedly just the idea that its builders intended it to make. Close behind it was a handsome latest model of the Mitchell limousine, made all the more attractive by a crowd of pretty girls inside. After these came a floral design of the United States flag entitled "Peace."

Harlem "Bugs" Blinked at Crowd.

The Ford trade mark, in illuminated colors, was applauded heartily. This was followed by a fleet of Ford machines. A short distance behind this exhibit was a float of the "Harlem Bug Club," showing a big bug with illuminated eyes blinking as it drew a large vehicle filled with Harlemites. In the line of automobiles there was also a "Buy a Bale of Cotton" float.

The Fire Department was represented by a dozen pieces of the latest motor drawn apparatus. This part of the parade was led by George H. Robertson, the first American driver to win the Vanderbilt Cup. The Pathfinder float represented an Italian garden. The procession also included the noiseless electric vehicles, among them the Detroit Electric, the Waverly, Rauch and Lang and the Baker machines.

It was nearly midnight before the end of the procession passed the reviewing stand. Following the parade Gov. Glynn and Mayor Mitchel were guests at a reception at the Automobile Club of America. Here also went the judges charged with the award of more than $6,000 worth of prizes to the best entries.

SUES MRS. J. D. ARCHBOLD.

Policeman, Asking $5,000, Says Her Auto Ran Him Down.

Mrs. Anna M. Archbold, wife of John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil Company, was sued in the Supreme Court yesterday for $5,000 by Henry Schoffer, a policeman. The complaint said that on Sept. 28, as Schoffer was getting off a car at Broadway and 172d Street, Mrs. Archbold's automobile, driven by a chauffeur, struck him and inflicted severe injuries.

The chauffeur, according to Schoffer's complaint, was arrested and fined $50 for violating two city ordinances—being on the wrong side of the street and driving within eight feet of a public conveyance.

WOMAN IN CROWD STABBED TO DEATH

Assailant of Mrs. Barbara Wright, in East Fifty-third Street, Escapes.

HER SON TELLS OF THREATS

Says a Boarder She Had Barred from Her Home Was Arrested on Her Complaint.

Policeman Curry, of the West Fifty-first Street Station, ran to the sidewalk at 104 East Fifty-third Street between Park and Lexington Avenues yesterday and found a crowd composed chiefly of school children had collected around a woman who had fallen dying of two deep knife wounds in the neck.

The woman was unconscious and no one in the crowd would admit having seen the stabbing, although there were many in the street at the time. Women who came out of an apartment house at 118 West Fifty-third Street saw the dying woman and told the policeman that she was Mrs. Barbara Wright, who lived on the fifth floor at that address. A woman living in the building went to the apartment, where she found George Wright, 17 years old, a student at the College of the City of New York. He had returned a few minutes before, had built a fire, and put a pot of tea on the stove. He was waiting for his mother's return.

Before the boy arrived in the street the woman had died, and the police had taken charge of the body.

Wright was found later at the home of an aunt, where he told the police that his own life and his mother's had been threatened by a boarder, who was employed as a waiter in a restaurant in Forty-second Street. His mother, who had been employed at housework, had taken the man as a boarder for several weeks, but had refused to permit him in her apartment since about Sept. 1.

Because he waylaid her repeatedly thereafter and had threatened her, the boy said, his mother had caused the man's arrest, and he had been fined in Yorkville Court early in September. Detectives from the Second Branch Bureau found that the waiter had been in the Yorkville Court on that charge on Sept. 6.

Capt. Carey of the Homicide Bureau discovered witnesses who described a man who ran away from the spot immediately after the stabbing, and several detectives were sent out to find him.

PISTOL IN COAT HE STOLE.

Prisoner Frankly Tells Judge How He Came to Possess Revolver.

After William Poisker of 125 East Fiftieth Street had pleaded guilty to the charge of possessing a revolver before Judge Rosalsky in General Sessions yesterday, he was asked where he got the revolver.

"Must I tell that?" Poisker asked.

"Yes," said Judge Rosalsky.

"I stole an overcoat from a First Avenue restaurant and the pistol was in the coat pocket. I had it only a day when the police arrested me."

WIFE SENTENCED AS SLAYER

Mrs. Doyle, Who Killed Husband, Collapses in Court.

Mrs. Anna Doyle, who pleaded guilty to manslaughter for the killing of her husband, Frank Doyle, a letter carrier, in a Post Office branch at Grand and Attorney Streets, was sentenced to the Women's Prison at Auburn for three to six years by Judge Crain in General Sessions yesterday.

The woman said her husband and she quarreled at the time over money due her from him under a court order following a separation. Mrs. Doyle is only 23 years old and has two children. Judge Crain said that an investigation showed she had not been well treated by her husband and that he would call the attention of the Governor to her case.

Mrs. Doyle collapsed when the sentence was pronounced and was carried out of the court room in a chair.

"There's a Reason"

why more and more coffee drinkers quit coffee and use—

POSTUM

Once convinced that coffee-drinking is actually harmful to health, few parents would give coffee to their children, or drink it themselves.

What proof more convincing than the unnatural aches and pains that many coffee-drinkers suffer?

Brain, Stomach, Heart, Liver and Kidneys are the first organs to be affected. Sometimes it shows in headache; often in nervousness, indigestion or heart disturbance; frequently in biliousness or disturbed vision.

If you are in doubt, try this test—
Stop coffee ten days and use POSTUM

This pure food-drink made of prime wheat and a small per cent of wholesome molasses, has a rich, Java-like flavour and is absolutely pure and free from the coffee-drug, caffeine, or any other harmful ingredient.

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—needs no boiling. A teaspoonful of the soluble powder stirred in a cup of hot water makes a delightful beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Grocers everywhere sell both kinds, and the cost per cup is about the same.

DICKERMAN GETS IN TIGER SCRIMMAGE

Drop Kicker and Line Plunger Comes Out and Brightens Princeton's Prospects.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 28.—Charley Dickerman, a drop-kicking and line-plunging star, got into scrimmage this afternoon for the first time since September. His return to playing condition makes available practically all the 'Varsity material in college, for the first string men who are out now have only minor injuries and will be back before the end of the week.

Darkness found the 'Varsity and scrub teams still battling on University Field, and Eddie Hart gave his linemen their drill by moonlight. The freshmen team came over early in the afternoon and gave the 'Varsity a strenuous half hour. The first-year men held their more experienced opponents to a single touchdown, and the 'Varsity had to fight hard for that. Glick, Dickerman, and Driggs were plunging strongly and broke through the freshman forwards for consistent gains. Glick got the score when he cracked the left side of the line for seven yards and shot over the goal line. After that, however, the freshmen defense tightened up, and, although the 'Varsity got within scoring distance several times, they were never able to get the ball across.

Against the scrubs the 'Varsity had more success. They got two touchdowns and prevented any scoring against themselves. Fred Trenkmann did some solid line bucking and was responsible for both of the tallies. In addition, he played his usual accurate defensive game, stopping all the plays that the primary defense failed to handle.

Shenk, E. Trenkmann, and Bigler were still out of the 'Varsity line, and Gennert played for only a short time. Nourse played a better part of the scrimmage at tackle, and from the way he looked today both Love and McLean will have a hard time beating him for the place of first substitute. Nourse, whose transition from tackle came this week, has taken hold of his new place aptly, and is already showing excellent form in opening up holes in the line. He still has a tendency to let himself get boxed on the defense, however.

Dickerman's recovery from a broken wrist gives the 'Varsity the services of the best line-breaker on the freshman team last year, as well as the most accurate drop-kicker in college. His showing today indicated that Moore will be displaced as one of the halves for Saturday's game against Williams.

Bigler, it was announced today, has developed a slight case of blood-poisoning as a result of an injury received Saturday, and the wound will require lancing. It is expected, however, that he will be in shape to play by the end of the week, although he may not be used in the Williams contest in order to give him the opportunity for complete recovery.

CORNELL'S QUARTER BACK.

Collins Makes Splendid Impression in His Few Trials.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The development of another quarter back of rare promise is forecast by the practice of the Cornell football team this week. Collins, a substitute quarter who got a chance on the 'Varsity yesterday, made a splendid impression, and his work today on the second team continued to elicit highly favorable comment. Though weighing only 150 pounds, he is very well built and is one of the fastest men on the team. His speed in running back of kicks is excellent and he handles the punts like a veteran. In addition he seems to show good judgment in the selection of plays. Should Coach Sharpe determine to make a shift of Barrett to half back, Collins would make an ideal quarter back, in the judgment of all who have watched his work.

The 'Varsity defeated the scrubs, scoring two touchdowns, but the second team scored on the regulars, a feat they had not accomplished in some time. A fumble by Collyer and a series of straight line plays took the ball over for the second team. It was noticeable today that both teams used straight football. Coach Sharpe apparently is sticking to his policy of using the old style game up to the big games at least. Practice in the forward pass, however, continues daily.

Varied Drill of N. Y. U. Eleven.

Practice for the New York University football squad yesterday afternoon took the form of a rigorous drill in various kinds of work. The early part of the period was occupied with some kicking practice, in which "Tom" Cusack, the Violet drop-kicker, showed excellent accuracy with his toe in dropping the leather over the bar from the thirty-five-yard line. Following this preliminary work, the coaches took the squad over to the tackling dummy, and put the men through a defense and breaking-up interference. The signal practice and scrimmage, which concluded the afternoon's work, was of a varied sort, much stress being laid upon the forward pass and other open plays from both a defensive and offensive standpoint. The scrub team was used to break up these workouts and to indicate the most vulnerable points of attack. The Violet team included nearly all of the regular line, but the back field was not intact. The position of full back, which appears still uncertain, was filled in yesterday's practice by Schuck, who has been substituting regularly in the Violet's back field.

Two Backfields for Navy.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 28.—The Navy coaches appear to be developing two back fields—one suitable for the smashing, line-breaking game, and the other more adapted to the fast running game. To make up the former, Big Failing was brought back from the scrub team, where he has been for the past week, and with Blodgett, H. Harrison, and Miles made up a back field which averaged about 180 pounds. Later Collins and Alexander, two of the fastest men in the squad, were at the halves for some time. No regular scrimmage was held, but the teams lined up against each other, and a number of plays were tried against the opposing line. On account of bruises received in practice and in Saturday's game, Capt. Overesch laid off this afternoon, Kenworthy taking his place at left end.

Lafayette Drill Not Encouraging.

Special to The New York Times.

EASTON, Penn., Oct. 28.—Coach Crowell ran the Lafayette 'Varsity and scrub elevens through a vigorous scrimmage on March Field this afternoon. The result was not encouraging to the coach, in view of the game with Penn State College on Saturday. The team seemed utterly without the life and spirit which it should have at so critical a period. The first team scored a couple of times on the scrub team, but the latter played such poor ball that this proved nothing. The interference was weak, and the runners did not hit the line hard. Kelly practiced a long time with his punts, and it is now quite certain that he will be able to take care of this department of the game on Saturday. Dick Diamond worked in the signal drill which followed the scrimmage, and he, too, is expected to be able to play.

Maxwell Trophy Soccer.

Keeping up their winning streak in the high school championship series for the Maxwell Trophy, the soccer players of Manual Training High School of Brooklyn yesterday defeated the Commercial High School eleven by the score of 2 goals to 0 at the Prospect Park Parade Grounds.

Morris High and Curtis High had a rattling game in the Maxwell Trophy series at Macomb's Dam Park yesterday afternoon, and, after a no-scoring first period, honors were divided in the second half, when each side tallied once, and the game ended in a tie with a 1 to 1 score.

TWO YALE CRIPPLES RETURN

Ainsworth and Legore Take Their Places in Back Field.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 28.—"Foggy" Ainsworth and Harry Legore, who have been out of the Yale line-up since last Saturday's game, returned this afternoon full of dash. They got their old places in the backfield and will form strong links in the chain of Yale's attack against Colgate next Saturday. Legore proved that he has lost none of his drop-kicking skill by lifting a field goal from the 30-yard line. Ainsworth shone in the end runs.

Except that Conroy and Walden have exchanged places, no changes have been made in the new line-up that Coach Hinkey inaugurated on Monday, and the eleven will almost certainly tackle Colgate as it played today. There is no hope of using either Capt. Talbot or Alex Wilson Saturday. Wilson has not visited the field since last Saturday's game, but could play against Colgate if necessary. Three weeks ago he developed water on the knee. He quickly recovered from this, but was sent into last Saturday's game without scrimmage practice and played well. Mal Scovil has succeeded him at quarter back, and will start his first game for Yale next Saturday. Heretofore he has been used as only a substitute.

Capt. Talbot was on the side lines this afternoon, but after having a boil lanced last Sunday the team's surgeons advised that he abandon football until the cut is healed. He will get into the signal work next week.

The defensive work of the 'Varsity today showed marked improvement, although Braden, scrub quarter back, raced back with 'Varsity kick-off once for 40 yards. Twice the 'Varsity attack took the ball the entire length of the field from their 10-yard line, Legore's drop-kick closing the first series of runs, and Knowles, who took the ball across for the only touchdown, ending the second series. The scrubs got near enough to the 'Varsity goal to miss a drop-kick trial. New coaches included Charley Rafferty, Captain in 1903, and Jack Owsley and Johnny Field, former head coaches. Knowles will probably be chosen temporary Captain during the absence of Talbot.

MICHIGAN STARTS EAST.

Three of Yost's Stars May Not Play Against Harvard Saturday.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 28.—The University of Michigan football team left Ann Arbor this afternoon for Auburndale, Mass., where it will finish its practice work for the Harvard game on Saturday. The team will move into Cambridge Friday noon. Twenty-four players were in the squad which left today.

Just before departing, Coach Yost said: "We are going to show Harvard the best we have. It is unfortunate for Michigan that Hughitt and Splawn are not in the best of condition and it seems too bad that we cannot have Galt in the line-up. But, in spite of these drawbacks, we are going to give those Easterners a fight."

Cool Wave Braces Up Army.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The Army team showed more snap to its work today with the advent of cool weather. Two touchdowns were rung up against the scrubs, and a third one was lost after Coffin of the 'Varsity back field fumbled when tackled under the scrub goal posts. This fumbling made its reappearance today at rather too frequent intervals. Coffin and O'Hare offending in particular. The scrimmage was a hard one. All the regulars were back in their places except McEwan, who has not yet reported for duty. Oliphant only lasted five minutes, when his weak knee got another jolt, and he was obliged to give way to Coffin. Meacham was hurt and his place at guard went first to O'Hare and later to Timberlake. Bradley got a tryout at centre on the 'Varsity in the defensive drill. He has been playing tackle in the scrub line. Tully, who is developing rapidly, was back at end. He seems to have displaced both Britton and Kelly. The latter was on the second eleven, while Britton was idle. Place, the former University of Wisconsin lad, is back on the squad again, his recent academic deficiencies having been wiped out. He played a good defensive game today. Hoge, brother of Capt. "Benny" Hoge of last year's Army eleven, won praise for his good work in the scrub back field. He has been shifted from end to behind the line and got away for several good gains today.

Dartmouth Resumes Drills.

Special to The New York Times.

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 28.—The first hard practice since the Princeton game was held today, when two Dartmouth elevens, composed largely of second string men, scrimmaged for an hour, each side scoring two touchdowns. Capt. Whitney, Curtis, Ghee, Milmore, and McAuliffe were all on the bench, but Murdock, who starred at Princeton, supplanted Thielscher at full back. Cannon and Gerrish had the places of Curtis and Whitney. Winship was substituted for Pudrith at right end on the basis of their showing at Princeton, and Coach Cavanaugh remarked that his play had improved. His trouble is a peculiar one. He seems to play too close to his man instead of charging into the opposing backfield when on the defense, and as a result he slows up the right side of the line. Today he did better, smashed several plays, and got down under Gerrish's kicks in fine style. Two of the first team's scores were made on passes, of which Winship and Telfer each carried one across. The other tally was gained by straight rushing, in the course of which Baxter at centre and Colby at guard received minor injuries, and had to be relieved by Gile and Merrill. For the second team Thielscher intercepted three forward passes and scored twice. Cumisky and Switzer were the quarter backs.

Fordham Building a Defense.

In an effort to prepare as strong a defense as possible for the Gettysburg eleven next Tuesday, "Skip" Wyneard kept the scrub and 'Varsity linemen at Fordham busy for two hours yesterday in practice against each other. Owing to the sterling defense put up by Gettysburg, when they held both Penn State and Pennsylvania to two touchdowns apiece in their tussles this season, the Maroon coach realizes that the Fordham backfield will be opposed by the strongest defense met this year.

The Maroon followers were agreeably surprised when Tule and Regan were released from the hospital list, and showed up in uniform, but as Fordham is taking no chances of sending a crippled backfield into next Tuesday's game, neither player engaged in any hard work. Practice for the backs consisted of a long signal practice, while the fast two sets of ends were kept busy chasing the long punts of Dunn, several of which went over sixty yards. "Reggy" Mendes was sent in to pilot the backfield yesterday, and shows great promise of making a fitting substitute for Morealdi. Fordham up to date has had to depend on one quarter-back.

Penn's Ends Will Get Real Test.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—Pennsylvania's ends will get a real tryout on Saturday, when Pennsylvania plays Swarthmore. In Clime, Herry, and Cornog, Swarthmore has three backs who will make things interesting for any pair of ends. They are all good at open field work and in forward passing. It looks as if this would be the only chance for Swarthmore on Saturday, as it can hardly expect to defeat Pennsylvania by straight football. Urquhart and Hopkins have developed into the best pair of ends that Pennsylvania has had for years, and Coach Brooke looks to them to hold back the Quakers on end plays and any attempt at forward passing. Much attention has been paid to Penn's line this week, and Swarthmore will find it the stiffest proposition it has struck this season. Big Mike Dorizas will rest the remainder of the week, as he has been working very hard and is somewhat overtrained. He should tear things loose, as he is now getting confidence in himself.

Four Stevens Men Injured.

Stevens "Tech" eleven has had such a strenuous practice this week that four are out of the game on account of injuries. Herrsloff has been unable to play for the last two weeks, and Graydon is out of the line-up on account of injuries sustained in the game at Haverford on Saturday. Middleton, the star guard, will be unable to get in the game again this season on account of water on the knee, and Judson, the best substitute at end, had an ankle broken in the practice against Erasmus High School on Tuesday afternoon. Yesterday the team held scrimmage against De Witt Clinton High School on Castle Point Field, and the new men showed up in pretty good shape. Monroe at left half back astonished the coaches by his lightning end runs, and Poole, playing in place of Herrsloff, plowed through the schoolboys' line at will. The coaches concentrated their efforts in perfecting open plays and in breaking up forward passes, and were greatly encouraged by the results.

HARVARD GETS INTO HARD FOOTBALL

Old-Fashioned Game Played Behind Closed Gates—Mahan Punts Again.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. Oct. 28.—The Harvard football team, which has been coddled along for weeks, got back into the game today, and there was a long session of good old-fashioned football behind the secret practice gates on Soldier's Field. With the exception of Wallace, the centre rush, and Trumbull, the right tackle, all the men got into the thick of the work, and all came out without any injuries.

Wallace, who is nursing an ankle, was displaced by Bigelow, now first substitute centre as well as guard and tackle, and Elkin, one of the second string men, going in at tackle in Trumbull's place. Hardwick remained at end and Francke continued in the back field. The 'Varsity worked for a long time on its own offensive, gathering up speed and playing well together.

There also was a long drill on defense work, in which the regulars as a team have been deficient for some time. The 'Varsity made no effort to score by rushing, but when anywhere near striking distance, Eddie Mahan was sent back to try for field goals. Mahan, who was rated a great drop kicker when he came to college, and who would have been a star in this department had Harvard not possessed Brickley, now will be worked hard as a scoring asset. Today he kicked three goals, one being from the forty-yard line, and his punting also was very good both as to direction and distance. Pennock got about as if his leg was all right, while opposite him at left guard. Weston, who has been plugging along for three years, again showed signs of really progressing.

The practice altogether was the most satisfactory Harvard has had in weeks. There will be more work for the regulars, but probably not so hard as today. The Crimson is very sure to play its strongest team against Michigan Saturday, although it is not likely that the men who have returned so recently will be kept going for more than a quarter of the game, but with a chance of returning for the last period. The match, which was scheduled for 2 o'clock, will not begin until nearly 3 o'clock because of a faculty ruling, and very likely will be finished in darkness.

Off Day for Lehigh Regulars.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Penn., Oct. 28.—'Varsity football men were conspicuous by their absence today at Lehigh. It was the usual Wednesday half holiday in school—the one day in the week the coaches count on for accomplishing great things. The weather was crisp, too, but when noses were counted it was found that ten first-string men were absent for one reason or other. Some are sick, others injured, and the rest cure has been prescribed for them. In this list are Cahall, Halstead, Hoban, Good, and Fred Green. A rest is expected to find the quintet in good shape for Penn State. Resident Coach Keady devoted his efforts today to developing enough second-string men to fill in the vacant positions for the Johns Hopkins game Saturday. Lambert, Early, Kirkpatrick, Hallowell, Knose, and Boling are all showing up well on the scrubs and will probably get into Saturday's contest. Just five minutes of scrimmage was held today, to acquaint the scrub material with new formations and a lengthy signal practice followed.

Indians Maintain Stiff Pace.

Special to The New York Times.

CARLISLE, Penn., Oct. 28.—The Carlisle Indians' football squad was kept up to its stiff pace of work at fundamentals in today's practice, which began earlier than usual. As in the last few days, the Indian coaches specialized in exercises at handling the ball and kicking at the subsequent signal practice. The redskins tried a wide variety of open plays. Forward passing improved considerably, and Carlisle will probably be strong in this department against Syracuse at Buffalo on Saturday. Shortly after 5 o'clock the Dickinson College football squad, in charge of Coach Harrington, appeared on Indian Field, and the 'Varsity elevens representing the two schools went through a scrimmage in the manner of a formal game, with eight-minute periods. The only Indian laid off during the line-up was Wallette, who slightly injured his hip.

Union Has a Brush with Scrubs.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The Union College football squad had a hard afternoon's workout today, which consisted of a strenuous forty-minute scrimmage followed by a long, fast signal practice. During the scrimmage the 'Varsity fought its way through the scrubs, which was partly composed of first string men, for two touchdowns. Capt. Starbuck, who has been out of scrimmage for a few days on account of injuries, was back in his position today and Byron, who has been on the sick list, was also in the line-up. Girling and Rosecranz were the only regulars out of the scrimmage, and they will be in shape for the R. P. I. game Saturday.

Morristown School, 7; Carteret, 0.

Big Price Paid for Weanlings.

Word came from Memphis yesterday that John W. Schorr of that city, who owns a good sized string of race horses, has bought from John S. Barbee, the Lexington, Ky., breeder of the colts, the two full brothers to Ed Crump and John Gund, a couple of sterling winners during the present season. While the price paid has not been known "officially," there is good reason for believing that it was $5,250. At the recent Sheepshead Bay yearling sale, Robert Davies of Toronto paid $3,000 for the yearling brother to John Gund, and Mr. Barbee is known to have refused to dispose of the weanling for a smaller sum than that.

Flittaway to Race in Cuba.

August Belmont has sold his fleet racer Flittaway, to be delivered at the close of the Laurel meeting this week, to Southern parties who are getting together a stable to be raced at Havana, where arrangements are being made for an all-Winter racing season.

Match Pacing Race Called Off.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Oct. 28.—The match race scheduled here this afternoon between the pacing stallions Directum I. and William was called off because of cold weather. The race was to have been for a purse of $5,000.

Champion Pacing Team Sold.

DECATUR, Ill., Oct. 28.—Hedgewood Boy and Lady Maud C., world's champion pacing team, were sold at public auction at Taylorville today to Thomas Kiser of Stonington for $7,000. The horses formerly belonged to the J. C. Crabtree estate.

Smart Shooting in Short Time.

With a military revolver at a distance of twenty yards, five shots under rapid fire conditions, Alfred P. Lane recently made a score of forty-nine out of a possible fifty on the range of the Manhattan Rifle and Revolver Club. This means that the young American who won the world's championship at the Olympic Games in 1912 has not deteriorated in his skill with the revolver. The remarkable performance is best brought to the visuality of the inexpert at shooting by explaining that standing sixty feet from a target with a bull's eye of only 2¾ inches and shooting against time, Mr. Lane planted four shots within the black spot and barely missed it with the fifth, all in fourteen seconds.

AD WOLGAST IN TOWN.

Goes to Dal Hawkins's to Polish Off for Welsh Bout.

Accompanied by a staff of trainers Ad Wolgast arrived in New York yesterday morning from Chicago to complete his training for the match with Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight champion, which takes place in Madison Square Garden next Monday night. The former title holder did not waste a moment, but jumped into a motor car and went out to Dal Hawkins's place on the Westchester Road, where he will put on the finishing touches for his coming bout.

Welsh was not one whit less enthusiastic; he hopped off the train which brought him from Boston, bundled up in heavy sweaters, and took the shortest route to Central Park, and in less than an hour from the time he landed he had made several circuits of the reservoir. Both men have had two fights in the last few days, which have keyed them up for the coming important battle.

Wolgast has already laid out his plan of campaign. From the moment the gong sounds he is going after Welsh, and, as he put it yesterday: "I am going to make him fight. I fully realize he is a wonderful boxer, but he will have to do more than box with me, as I propose to keep him busy all the time."

Welsh is equally as confident, and, as he has declared, he is prepared to show the New York boxing fans that he has the necessary punch to send his opponent to slumberland.

There will be no difficulty about the weight, as both boxers are near the stipulated poundage, 135 pounds at 3 o'clock the afternoon of the bout.

News for the Golfers.

James Braid, several times open golf champion of Great Britain, may visit America next season. In a letter recently received from a golfer who has had a number of rounds with the tall Scot during the last few weeks it was made quite clear that Braid is at last anxious to come to this country, not only for the championship but to take part in a few exhibition matches as well.

Quite a number of professional golfers are preparing to open indoor schools again this Winter. A. G. Alphick and Irving Stringer, who acted as his assistant at the National Golf Links during the last season, will hang out their sign in this city, as will Bayard Beebe, the Long Branch "pro," and another professional by the name of T. L. Lindsay. The Mackie brothers, Isaac, Jack, and Dan, who were together last Winter, have not definitely decided as yet, and there is also a chance that Herbert Strong of Inwood will be seen here again during the Winter.

Before long a good percentage of the salaried brigade will be working their way southward. Although Willie Norton is at present at Lakewood, he will find time for a few weeks' play at the Southern Pines course. Jimmie Norton goes back to Camden, while A. J. Christie goes from Ekwanok to Sea Breeze, Fla. Tom Mulgrew, after a good season at Cooperstown, intends to return to Summerville, N. C., and John Ingliss has been engaged to go to the Hampton course at North Augusta.

Featherweights at Manhattan A. C.

McMahon Brothers have arranged an international featherweight tournament for the Manhattan Sporting Club, 155th Street and Eighth Avenue, for Thursday, Nov. 5, in which the leading featherweights of the United States, Canada, and England will participate. It is the intention of the McMahons to match the winner with Johnny Kilbane for the championship. Eddie Campi, the best featherweight that California has turned out in years, and one of the cleverest men in the ring today, will box Frankie Fleming, the Canadian champion. Eddie Morgan, England's champion, who is looked upon as a second Jim Driscoll, will tackle Patsy Kline, the hard-hitting boy of Newark, and the final ten-round contest will bring together Young Kansas of Buffalo, whom Frank Erne has been coaching for the last year, and Bobby Reynolds.

Saturday Night Bouts at Broadway.

The Broadway Sporting Club of Brooklyn will stage three star ten-round bouts Saturday night. Young Ahearn, the clever Brooklynite, who invaded England and made a hit with Johnny Bull's sportively inclined subjects, will have a tough customer to deal with in Freddie Hicks of Detroit, who has fought Mike Gibbons, Jack Dillon, Bob Moha, and other noted middleweights, Frankie Conifrey of Harlem, the mascot of the New York Fire Department, and Young Stacey of Yorkville, two of the cleverest featherweights in this vicinity, will meet in the ten-round curtain raiser. In the semi-final, Young Wolgast, a local welterweight, will clash with Larry Desmond, the Fighting Harp of Bay Ridge.

Heavyweights at Olympic A. C.

An all-star show between heavyweights is the card that Manager Donnelly has arranged for tonight at the Olympic A. C. Soldier Delaney of Brooklyn and Al Benedict of Hoboken will open the show in the first ten-round event. In the secon ten-round session Billy Marrow of Orange, N. J., and Joe Woods of Brooklyn will clash. In the stellar event Sailor White of Newark, N. J., will box George Wiengner of Washington Market, known as the Fighting Butcher.

WORLD'S BILLIARD RECORD FOR DE ORO

Cuban Runs Thirteen Points in Championship Three-Cushion Match.

Alfredo De Oro won the first leg of his match with George Moore for the world's three-cushion billiard championship by the score of 50 to 28 at Doyle's Billiard Academy on Forty-second Street last night, and made a new world's record high run for championship play. In the twenty-first inning De Oro ran 13, which is two better than the previous highest run in a championship game, which was made by himself against Hueston in a match in St. Louis in 1911. De Oro's run was a succession of brilliant shots.

The sensational run came unexpectedly, after twenty innings of mediocre play by both contestants. They had been shooting carefully, devoting much of their efforts to attempts to leave each other badly. In these first twenty innings De Oro had scored only 8 and Moore 4. Starting this inning, De Oro began to shoot easily and freely and he reeled off the high run with hardly any effort, it seemed. On the eighth shot he luckily escaped a kiss, which would have spoiled the carrom. On the ninth shot his cue ball froze to the red ball and he had to make the tenth shot off the spots. On the twelfth shot, which put him ahead of the record, he took five cushions.

It was the most brilliant flash of play ever seen in a three-cushion championship match, according to veteran billiard players, aside from the fact that it established a new high run record.

De Oro came within two in this run of equalling the record of 15 held by his opponent Moore, which is the highest run ever made in a match, although it was no championship contest. A high run of 18 is alleged to have been made recently by a St. Louis player, but the run was made in an exhibition game, and it is not generally accepted as a record.

Moore did not really get started at all and, except for one 5, he did not make another run better than 2. He did make some brilliant shots, however, but seemed to be followed by bad luck and could not keep up a consistent pace. He missed a number of shots by the smallest fraction of an inch.

Aside from his sensational run in the twenty-first inning De Oro was far from his best form. Now and then he showed flashes of brilliance, but he, too, played an erratic game. He made two 3s, which were his only other high runs besides the run of 13.

After winning the bank De Oro made two on his first shot, but in the next eight innings he failed to make a point. Moore also made only two in his first nine innings.

De Oro reached 49 in the fifty-sixth inning, but it required five shots, with Moore playing safe each time, before he got the one point which finished the play for the night.

The match will be continued tonight and tomorrow, the play tonight starting from where it left off last night. Fifty points will be played each night, for a total of 150 points. The scores:

Alfredo De Oro—2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 2 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 13 0 0 0 0 1 1 3 0 0 3 0 1 0 0 0 1 1 2 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 0 2 1 2 0 3 1 1 2 1 0 0 0 0 1. Total—50. High runs—13, 3, 3. Average, 49-60.

English Billiard Champion Beats Hoppe in Two Matches.

TORONTO, Ontario, Oct. 28.—Melbourne Inman, English billiard champion, and Willie Hoppe, the United States balk-line title holder, commenced their series of mixed-style matches here today. The play was devoted to the English game, at which Inman demonstrated his superiority by defeating Hoppe 625 to 172 in the afternoon and 625 to 198 in the evening. Inman's best run in the afternoon was 160 and at night was 175. Hoppe's highest score in the afternoon was 30, while in the evening his best run was 49. The balk-line game will be played tomorrow, at which Hoppe usually wins.

14.1 Record for Sutton.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 28.—George Sutton broke the world's record in the new style 14.1 balk-line billiards in the first of a series of matches played here tonight. Jake Schaefer was Sutton's opponent. Sutton made a run of 52 and won easily, scoring 400 to his opponent's 153. Sutton showed his superiority at all stages of the game.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Charles Morin of Chicago tonight defeated Harry Cooler of Indianapolis, 50 to 24, in 74 innings in an Inter-State Three-Cushion League match.

SCRANTON, Penn., Oct. 28.—Koji Yamada defeated Harry Cline, 400 to 162, in a Billiard Players' League match tonight. Average and high runs: Yamada—Average, 22 4-18; high run, 66. Cline—Average, 9; high run, 54.

Athletic Meet at Polo Grounds.

The Athletic Committee of the meet in aid of the Urania Tuberculosis Preventorium Society to be held at the Polo Grounds next Saturday afternoon have decided to hold open the entries for the 150-yard run handicap, 600-yard handicap dash, and the one-mile novice race until tomorrow. Entries will close with Dieges & Clust, 20 John Street, New York City, and R. W. Kennedy, 33 Ely Avenue, Long Island City. A number of well-known athletes, among them American and Olympic champions, will take part in the 150-yard and 600-yard runs. Entries for the one-mile novice look very promising.

Justice Bartow S. Weeks, who has temporarily succeeded the late James E. Sullivan as Secretary-Treasurer of the A. A. U., and Fred W. Rubien, President of the Metropolitan Association, will officiate as honorary referees. Capt. Charles J. Dieges is Chairman of the Athletic Committee, and others well known in the athletic world are also interested in the meet.

Among the events to be run will be a 360-yard relay race, open to boys from the elementary schools, 85-pound class, under the P. S. A. L. rules. About 200 little fellows will participate, and this race is expected to be very interesting. There will also be a soccer football game between the Bronx United and the Columbia Ovals, both champion teams. The boys' band from the Catholic Protectory, consisting of seventy pieces, will furnish the music.

JOHNNY HAYES SUSPENDED.

Olympic Marathon Victor Accused of Giving Inferior Prize for a Race.

Awarding of prizes of quality inferior to that which they advertised has come to be a chronic failing of some promoters of amateur track and field sports hereabouts. So much so, in fact, that the Registration Committee of the Metropolitan Amateur Athletic Union has had called to its attention a number of instances of this kind recently. At a business meeting of the committee in the St. Bartholomew Club last night, two more cases of this nature were taken up with the result that Johnny Hayes of Olympic Marathon fame and any organization to which he is attached will be refused further sanctions until he makes amends for a poor prize he awarded to Charley Pores, unattached, who won the West New York Derby last July.

Chairman Stumpf of the committee tried to settle the matter outside of the regular channels, but Hayes, according to Stumpf, always dodged the issue. Pores, for winning the Derby, received a watch that bore marks of having seen used long before he received it and lodged complaint with the committee.

For refusing to answer official communications requesting information regarding prizes given in some games on Labor Day, St. Michael's Lyceum of West Hoboken will also be denied sanctions in the future.

The registration card of "William Clessler," who it was found was none other than Willie Schumacher, a former amateur boxing champion, now a professional, was revoked. Schumacher recently tried to box in an amateur tournament at the Crescent A. C., but his identity was learned before he entered the ring.

The committee decided to leave the finish of the road run held in connection with the Knights of Columbus games at Englewood, N. J., on Oct. 12, remain as it was, but decided that the team prize should revert to the Knights because no club finished as a team. Tom Harris of the Smart Set A. C., receives first prize.

M. Branchard, the best long distance runner up State, was declared a professional on the recommendation of Commissioner Eaton of Schenectady, who reported that Branchard had competed in professional games three weeks ago.

DOYLE'S NEW AILMENT.

Water on Shoulder Attributed as Cause of Poor Work Last Season.

Larry Doyle, the Giants' second baseman, has a brand-new ailment. Baseball players aplenty have had water on the knee, but Larry is the first player known to have water on the shoulder. That's the alibi for Larry's poor work during the past season.

Remember, last year, Larry, driving his new motor car, flirted with a full-grown tree on Boston Post Road? The result was that Larry's right shoulder got a bad bump. It might also be mentioned that after this affair with the tree, Mr. McGraw, who is boss of the Giants, ordered all the Giants to sell their automobiles.

Doyle went to a specialist the other day and learned that he had water on the shoulder. He submitted himself to an operation, and he thinks by next season he will be able to go in and hit that old ball at a .300 clip again.

President Harry N. Hempstead and John B. Foster are hoping with the physician. Both of these officials have just returned from a trip to New Haven, where they looked over the Yale Bowl. Mr. Hempstead admitted that he was jealous, because they can seat 61,000 people in the bowl.

Coast League Salary Limit $5,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 28.—Pacific Coast League baseball clubs will have to get along with a salary limit of $5,000 per month next year, according to a decision announced here today by the Directors. The present season was admitted to have been disastrous financially. The 1915 season will open March 23 and close Oct. 17.

American Leaguers Beat Nationals.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 28.—The American League All-Stars defeated the National Stars, 1 to 0, here today. Score:

| Nationals | 0 | 6 | 2 |

Bresnahan Likes Federal Terms.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Roger Bresnahan, Chicago National's catcher, said today that he was satisfied with the terms offered him by the Brooklyn Federal League club, but that he had not made up his mind to jump to the Federals. Bresnahan said that it would be several days before he signed their contract, if he signed it at all.

Lincoln Parades for Leslie Mann.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 28.—A parade led by a band was the welcome given Leslie Mann, outfielder of the champion Boston National League team, upon his return to his home here today. A public reception followed. A banquet in honor of the player will be held tomorrow evening.

Attendance at Athletic Centres.

A new record of attendance was made at the 170 After-school Athletic centers in New York City last week, the reports to the Public Schools Athletic League showing that 131,000 boys participated in the sports and the incidental instruction in athletics that always accompanies their exercises. The attendance is entirely voluntary on the part of the pupils of the schools, and the vast figures of youngsters under 16 years of age is proof of the popularity of these sporting centers where baseball, basket ball, football, running, jumping and other sports of the field and track are indulged in under competent supervision, so that none of the lads shall injure themselves by too strenuous exercise.

Californians in Six-Day Race.

Lloyd Thomas and Willie Hanley will represent San Francisco in the six-day race at the Garden, starting Nov. 15. Thomas is a veteran six-day man, having competed in the big race for the last four years, while Hanley has been a big prize winner in the amateur ranks and the runner-up to Harry Kaiser in the American championship this year. George Cameron and Harry Kaiser will be the favorite team of the Bronx rooters, both riders coming from that section. Jimmy Moran, who has been riding in the annual classic for the last eleven years, is teamed with Reggie McNamara, and Freddie Hill will work with Joe Fogler.

PROPOSED NEW RULE STIRS ATHLETES

Would Permit College Men to Compete for Any Club During Vacation.

The athletic world has been stirred by two of the proposed amendments to the Amateur Athletic Union's constitution, which, if adopted, will have a most important bearing on amateur sports. Considerable unfavorable comment was heard yesterday regarding the new clause, which would enable a student at any institution of learning to claim his alma mater as his place of residence and compete either for it or any club he may select in open competition, during the period between June 1 and Oct. 1, in the district in which the institution is located.

Concerted action will be taken by the small clubs of the Metropolitan district against this rule, for it is against them it will work the hardest. Athletes of Yale, Columbia, Princeton, Cornell, Syracuse, and other colleges would be eligible through this amendment to take part in the Metropolitan championships annually, and because of the thorough preparation they receive in college would have a great advantage over the small club men. A college athlete coming to New York would affiliate with either the New York A. C. or the Irish-American A. C., a majority going to the former organization. With these men, many of whom would be eligible, taking part in the junior championships, the small club authorities contend their best men would stand no chance against them, and, therefore, believe the proposed rule unfair.

If the national delegates adopt this new clause at the annual meeting next month there will be a number of college athletes seen in action around New York under local club colors who live not only hundreds but thousands of miles outside this district.

This proposed rule will meet with strong opposition from the Metropolitan district delegates, who can be expected to line up the representatives of other territories against the amendment.

As for permitting entire teams of amateurs to take part in baseball, football, and basketball games against teams of professionals, the pure amateurs of this city view such a condition with apprehension. This they figure is the opening wedge for allowing amateurs to compete against professionals in track and field events, a situation which, if developed, would come near wiping out the A. A. U.

The entry of Hannes Kolehmainen has been received for the three-mile run which will be one of the features of the Irish-American Athletic Club games to be held in Madison Square Garden on Nov. 28. The three-mile event will be a handicap race, 150 yards limit, with Kolehmainen starting from scratch, which will give him a chance to better his own world's indoor record of 14 minutes 18 1-5 seconds, which is only 4-5 of a second behind Alfred Shrubb's outdoor record.

The new cross country course at Prospect Park will be tested by the harriers of several local clubs on Sunday. The entire Irish-American A. C. team will be sent three times around the route in a time trial by Coach Robertson, Kolehmainen, Donnelly, Flynn, Barden, Fogel, Fraser, McNamara and others will make the six-mile journey.

Last Sunday the Winged Fist athletes tried out the recently selected route at Van Cortlandt Park and found it a great improvement over last season's course.

Athletics at Columbia.

Coach "Ed" Kennedy called out the candidates for the Columbia swimming team yesterday afternoon. The candidates for the water polo team practiced with the swimming team and the entire squad numbered over thirty. Practice for the two divisions will continue regularly from now on until the end of the season. A long list of meets is planned for both teams by Manager E. H. Edinger. In addition to meeting the teams in the Intercollegiate League negotiations are now pending for meets with the Harvard, Brown, and Annapolis swimming teams. The water polo team will have meets with the other members of the Intercollegiate League, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, and College of the City of New York. F. C. Coope, Captain of the swimming team, and L. H. F. Mouquin of the water polo team, are both confident of a successful season this year. On the swimming squad are Vollmer, the high school champion in the "century" and New York A. C. crack; Osgood of the 'Varsity team of two years ago, and Lee, who is a point winner in the fifty-yard distance.

A series of five preliminary games are being arranged for the Columbia basket ball team, according to Manager Roberts, in addition to the games on the intercollegiate schedule. Games with Rutgers, Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, St. Lawrence University, and the alumni are under negotiation. New York University may also meet the Light Blue and White quintet.

N. Y. U. Sophs Win Meet.

On Ohio Field yesterday afternoon the annual sophomore-freshman class track meet was completed when the low hurdles and middle-distance sprint and run decided the meet in favor of the second-year men with a total of 64½ against 34½ points, which was the entering class's total aggregation. The sophomore class held its own throughout the meet, and the tally which it ran up in the early part of the games soon established its superiority. The green class captured only two first places throughout the meet, E. J. Houghton, '18, winning both the mile and one-half-mile runs. In the sprints O. H. Baum, 1917, took first places in both the century and 220-yard events, while Kelly of the same class contributed seven points to the point score in the 100-yard and quarter-mile distances.

Sonder Yacht Races Canceled.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—The international sonder yacht races, which were to have been sailed at Kiel between German and American yachts next June, have been canceled by the Kaiserlicher Yacht Club of Kiel, owing to unsettled conditions in Europe, according to a letter received today by Henry Taggard, Secretary of the Eastern Yacht Club. The American team of three yachts was selected in August.

THE comfort of Ivory Garters is a new sensation — and a pleasant one. It's plain that garters with metal clasps that rust, heavy pads, and garters that bind the leg can't be comfortable—but you don't realize it—custom has made you unconscious of it. But buy a pair of Ivory Garters—feel how light and cool they are—what untold comfort they give—how much more leg-freedom they allow, and see how much longer they wear—then you'll know what you are missing now.

THE HEART OF THE RAILWAY RATE QUESTION.

The reduction of the dividend upon the common shares of the biggest corporation in the world is important even as an isolated event. It gains importance by the events with which it is related. No doubt there is some degree of relation between the war and the steel trade. The steel trade is not without its stimulus as well as its depression in connection with the war. The foreign trade of the United States in steel is considerable in itself, but small in relation to the total. The important depressing factor in the domestic steel trade is the absence of railway buying. The cause of that is the regulation of railway rates in the manner of the Interstate Commerce Commission. By that is intended not the regulation of rates in the sense that phrase usually carries, but the regulation of everything under the guise of the regulation of rates. It was remarked here the other day that the regulation of railway rates had come to mean the regulation of railway profits, of railway capitalization, of efficiency of railway management, and of sundry matters of morals rather than of finance. But that is an incomplete catalogue. The regulation of railway rates is seen today to be a regulation of the rate of dividends in the steel trade, for the billion-dollar corporation does not stand by itself. There are other steel makers affected by the inability of railways to buy their goods, and the condition of the equipment companies is even worse than that of the steel makers.

This idea of the unsuspected bearings of the regulation of rates is not fanciful, and does not rest upon assertion. It is established by an examination of the fashion in investments as set by the country's best judges. Analysis of the investments of the national banks as reported to the Controller of the Treasury discloses that railway investments alone are in disfavor. Between 1911 and 1913 the investments of national banks in public utilities grew from $550,200,000 to $721,300,000. The investments in municipal securities increased by $40,000,000 to $1,240,000,000. But the investment in railway securities decreased from $1,602,100,000 to $1,530,200,000. Investments in public utilities increased 31 per cent., in municipals increased 3 per cent.; investments in railroads decreased 4 per cent. The railway bond market has been taken away by the offerings of those able to overbid the railways. No other idea entered the heads of those making the investments of these 7,000 investment experts. That this is the result of the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission can hardly be doubted.

This may come as a surprise to some who have contended that the Commission was controlling the railways for their good. Yet it should surprise nobody. It was one of the first predictions that regulation might be carried too far. It was formally put on record by an official commission of authority inferior to none, the Hadley commission. It is useful now to contrast its predictions with those of the Interstate Commerce Commission in its justifications of its procedure. The one set of prophecies is accurately true, the other is hopelessly discredited. It is demonstrated that the Commission has overturned the relations of investments, and it is a question how much further it can be allowed to go in that direction. Where will the line of the prostration of industry be drawn? An answer with a date can hardly be given, but in principle an answer may be attempted. The regulation of rates in the recent manner will be stopped when the country comes to feel the need of more railways, and finds it cannot get them in that manner. That the country will come to need more railways cannot be questioned. That it cannot get them while the inducements of other investments are superior is equally sure.

When the railways again are in the market there will be no question about the dividend upon Steel shares. The reduction of its dividend heretofore has been an early sign of the turning of the tide. Those who have based their judgment of business affairs upon the steel trade always have done well by expanding when the iron trade is low. It is lower now than it has been over any extended period of time since the formation of the Steel Corporation. It is not a prophecy of worse to come, but is a sign that the worst has been passed. In that restricted sense the Interstate Commerce Commission is a more depressing factor than the war. It also is a factor more easily controlled. The light of reason will dawn upon the Commission a little before it is dazzling the eyes of everybody—if the Commission is prudent.

VOTING FOR SULZER.

Slow as self-respecting and State-respecting New Yorkers have been to admit it, it is disgracefully evident that a great many votes will be cast on election day for WILLIAM SULZER. And the fact presents an interesting and important question in democracy. Voters vary from the saint to the sinner, the wise man to the born fool; but when we speak of "the voter" we mean the voter in considerable numbers, and we strike what we think is an average; "the voter" is a composite picture. But we have not really the elements to make up the picture; it is a composite of imagined voters, not of real ones. At best we can only take as a basis our acquaintances and strike an average among them.

Now we shall get an idea, in figures, of the number of voters who are not affected by questions of morality in public men, or swayed by reason, when we come to count up the thousands who have voted for SULZER next Tuesday. It will not be anything like a complete idea, of course, for many such men will vote for other candidates; but we shall then know that there are at least so many men who are not affected in their political judgment by the considerations that are commonly used in campaign appeals because of their supposed influence on well-meaning and patriotic men. It will be data for the political student; it will supply some real materials for the composite picture.

For each man who will vote for SULZER knows that he took campaign funds for private use, and such men do not care if he did. Each SULZER voter knows that SULZER told falsehoods about it, and that fact does not sway the voter in casting his ballot. The vote for SULZER will be large, as such votes go. The larger it is the more interesting it will be to the moralist.

THE CAMPAIGN OF THE BIGOTS.

Who compiles the campaign literature of the Guardians of Liberty and the A. P. A.? The massacre of St. Bartholomew's Day was due to a disagreement about the way of salvation. That is understandable, for to get off the road to heaven into the other thoroughfare through errors in faith and teaching is an irretrievable disaster. The matter was of real importance. We can well imagine that it was easy for CATHERINE DE' MEDICI and the GUISES to persuade such a fool King as CHARLES IX. that the Huguenots ought to be put away. We could understand and extenuate the fault of a Mohawk Valley Methodist or a Baptist from Erie County who should fall upon Gov. GLYNN with blows because of differences of view and practice in respect to the real presence, the eastward position, or the adornments of the altar. In matters of faith exclusively the cracking of heads is the only convincing argument. But in their pamphlets and their leaflets the No-Popery opponents of Gov. GLYNN sound the warning that his election would be a peril, not to our immortal souls, but to our political institutions. They point a trembling finger to that future day when the school fund will be drawn upon for the emolument of Gray Nuns teaching in the public schools, when prelates of the Church will cluster about a Vice President in red robe and biretta at the opening of the Senate on the first Monday in December, and when our legislative enactments and Executive appointments will be validated only by the countersignature of Rome. Even now, with the aid of the Columbian Order of Tammany, the chains are forging which will fasten upon us a State religion, and sites have been purchased and architects are already drawing the plans for the buildings of the Inquisition.

To this owlish output of superstition and bigotry there is but one fitting answer. Don't be fools, or if you must be fools yourself, do not assume that all the people are fools. Guard our liberties, protect America all you will, but do not ask us to believe that after nearly a century and a half of existence as a nation our liberties and our institutions still rest upon foundations so frail and insecure that they are in actual danger from a band of ecclesiastical conspirators who are plotting their overthrow. There are the constitutional guarantees. We may admit that they might fail us. But do the Guardians and the Protectors suppose that they alone among one hundred millions would turn out at the sound of the alarm bell that proclaimed the beginning of the foray? Are they the only Americans standing on guard with unclosing eyes? Can't they understand that if serious mischief were afoot there would be legions of defenders? The little dogs bark at the commonest noises of the Summer night, but when the unmistakable footstep of the trespasser is heard the mastiff shakes off slumber and rises to rend him.

We have received through the mails a diverting anti-Catholic anthology, called The Sentinel of Liberty, subscription price fifty cents a year. It is full of wonderful matter, and we are informed that it is being widely circulated by the Guardians and the Protectors in their campaign against Gov. GLYNN. Here is one of its inflammatory citations:

> The public schools have produced nothing but a godless generation of thieves and blackguards. — Priest SCHANER.

Suppose there is a priest SCHANER and suppose he said this thing. The high authorities of the Church will not pretend that all the laborers in the field are wise and sober in thought and speech. A priest might say that the conviction and sentence of the Rev. BOUCK WHITE showed that Protestant clergymen have an incurable propensity for getting into common jails. Would anybody take serious note of it? There have been ministers of the gospel according to the Protestant faith who were not to be accounted models of propriety in talk or behavior. Does that impeach all? Here is another menace that has caught the sleepless eye of The Sentinel:

> Ere long there will be a State religion in the United States, and that State religion is to be the Roman Catholic Church.—Priest HECKER.

Is it impossible for these Guardians to use their minds? Does history teach them that the union of State and Church is a policy that has gained ground in the last hundred years? Are Spain and Austria examples for our following? The Founders established the principle of religious liberty and no Establishment as the policy of our Republic. That is better for the State, enlightened American Catholics know and say that it is better for the Church. There is just as much danger of our reverting to the sacrifice of garlanded and beribboned fat beeves to propitiate the angry gods, there is just as much likelihood of our erecting joss houses or dancing ceremonial rigadoons around painted images as there is of our having a State religion forced upon us. But an Order of Consecrated Knight Defenders against heathen idolatry would not be a whit more absurd than the Guardians and the Protectors.

In this twentieth century these bigotries are most commonly noted in the life of small communities. As tolerance grows they perish. Forty years ago native-born New Yorkers were resentful of the Irish privilege of a St. Patrick's Day parade in Broadway. Along the curb there were frequent hot words and sometimes fisticuffs. Nowadays we give them Fifth Avenue, and in many an American home of unimpeachable Protestantism there are green paper shamrocks among the dinner table decorations on the 17th of March and plausible green paper St. Patricks starting from near the salt shaker pursue with uplifted crozier improbable green paper snakes that have sought concealment behind the centrepiece. In big cities the social communion and attrition wear away the old prejudices. Men see the Cathedral of Rome, the meeting house of the Quakers, many Protestant churches, the synagogue, and it may be the mosque, and they have tolerance and respect for the beliefs of those who worship in all these temples. Why should it be otherwise in rural communities? How is it possible for these agents of superstition to get anybody up the State to attend to their preposterous tirades or to listen to their warnings against Gov. GLYNN as a Catholic? Their principles of bigotry and intolerance have come down to them from the middle of the last century, from the days of Know-Nothingism. How is it that doctrines of darkness have so long survived in this land of light? Intelligent men of open minds are made ashamed by such exhibitions of narrowness, and they are indignant at such secret attacks upon a worthy and fit candidate for office based upon grounds wholly irrelevant to the duties he will have to perform. We hope Gov. GLYNN will be elected if only as a rebuke to these malevolents.

MR. OLNEY'S LETTER.

In the letter by ex-Secretary of State OLNEY, read last night at Springfield by Secretary GARRISON, two things are said that may have been said before, but not so strikingly. In describing the accomplishments of the WILSON Administration and the Democratic Congress in eighteen months, he says:

> If the WILSON Administration had occupied itself since March, 1913, in settling itself in the saddle and in planning for great things to be done in the future, it would have pursued the customary course and could not easily have been censured.

It is precisely because this has been "the customary course" that previous Administrations have had to leave part of their work unfulfilled, that no Presidential programme has been carried out in full. The Administration has looked forward to four years in which to complete its programme, but the second half came after the interruption of a Congressional election which reduced its working majority or gave opportunity for combinations against it. Hence, no matter how strong the President, whether CLEVELAND or ROOSEVELT, he had to see some of his aspirations checked and brought to naught.

But Mr. WILSON saw this, and he adopted the unprecedented course of forcing the completion of his entire constructive programme before a Congressional election could be held, while his party was still responsive to him, and before factional antagonisms had risen to dissipate the glamour of the victory of 1912. He kept Congress at work; and he insistently and unswervingly pressed measure after measure upon it, until he had the satisfaction of seeing an unprecedented work of construction completed and placed where no accident of politics could change it.

The other thing to which we call attention is Mr. OLNEY's forceful way of restating a fact which plays no small part in this campaign:

> * * * [The United States] acts in foreign relations through its President, and is the one agency through which ending the war can be urged upon the belligerents with the best chance of a hearing. To weaken the President's prestige at this crisis, to make it appear that he and his Administration are not trusted and supported by the American people, would be a calamity.

For this reason, if there were no others, a Democratic House and Democratic Senators should be elected next Tuesday.

MOTHER JONES AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

A President ought to be broad-minded, and there is no question of the contamination of the principles of Mr. WILSON by any sort of company. But without entering into irrelevant matters it may be said that Mother JONES's part in the Colorado strike, as described in the official report to the Governor of Colorado, printed in The Congressional Record of June 13, 1914, ought to have raised doubts in the President's mind as to the utility of her advice. She is an embarrassment even to strike leaders. In the words of MCLENNAN, a leader in the Colorado strike, she was thought by unionists "invaluable as an organizer in the early stages of the strike, because she excited the men, but had always proved very embarrassing to the union chiefs in the latter stages, particularly when there was a possibility of a compromise or adjustment."

That is the present stage, and she is doing her best to spoil the settlement which the President wishes reached by agreement. Mother JONES's proposal is that the mines shall be closed unless operated in accordance with the President's plan. The mere statement must startle those who think that property in this country can be enjoyed under the law. Naturally the President replied that he was doubtful of his authority to close the mines. Other times, other Presidents. Once there was a President who said that he was prepared to settle a coal strike by taking the mines and operating them by a Major General. The army is not now commanded by that sort of President, and regret that Mother JONES was received is softened by the answer she got. It is to be remembered that there is no trouble in Colorado now, because the law is being obeyed. There would be no more trouble there if the State law were enforced.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

A Dreamer from the Trenches.

Nobody at all familiar with the newer works on psychology, especially those written by the followers, more or less thoroughgoing, of the great FREUD, could have read the story, printed yesterday, of a young Belgian's experiences in the trenches along the Yser without noting the peculiarly dreamlike quality that characterized the narrative.

Now, dreams, in ancient times the object of attentive study and ingenious interpretation as of prophetic significance, have for several hundred years and until the other day been almost excluded from scientific notice. This was because only the densely ignorant or wildly superstitious could longer credit them with telling anything about the future. The possibility that they might be full of meaning as to the dreamer's past and present had not been realized. Recent investigation has disclosed, not the possibility, but the certainty, that from dreams much can be learned in regard to experiences and conditions, and the modern psychologist is an oneiromancist, just as were those long-bearded sages who in days remote stood on the steps of thrones and talked solemn nonsense for the encouragement or warning of equally solemn Kings.

But the new readers of dreams do not talk nonsense. Instead they draw sound deductions from the unveiling of the subconscious which dreams effect, and are able practically to demonstrate that no human being ever forgets anything, and least of all the things that he wants to forget.

The young Belgian, when he told his story, had been reduced by weariness and hardship, by the prolonged threat of death, instant and violent, by the necessity for continued exertion after all ordinary physical and mental resources had been exhausted, to a state in which his response to impressions and stimuli was strangely like that of dreaming, and what he said, or rather the manner of his saying it, was replete with evidences of his condition. There was in it all the incoherence of dreams, the queer instantaneous shifting of scenes that marks them, and the usual absence of the sense of relative values. He accepted whatever came without horror, protest, or even surprise, and he has not a word of pity to utter either for himself or for the companions who fell around him.

A Blunder Truly Pathetic.

It is deeply to be regretted that there should have been at this particular time even the semblance of a miserable little scandal in the management of Sing Sing Prison. That there is such a semblance—that there was need, at the first serious and credible accusation of improper favoritism on the Warden's part, of a thorough investigation—is perfectly evident. As evident is it that the Superintendent of Prisons did not promptly realize that nothing less than such an investigation would end the scandal, one way or another, and that the sort of investigation he did make, and the report he based on it, instead of closing the controversy, would only fan it into a hotter flame.

That was a lamentable mistake, for it will excite doubts in the public mind, the consequence of which may easily be an exaggeration of the gravity of whatever wrongdoing or indiscretion there has been. A consequence still worse may be the stopping or delaying of changes in the management of convicts in the New York State prisons that have been considered as at least full of promise by all who are eager to see in them the substitution of the new and scientific penology for the old and utterly unscientific penology which the conduct of Sing Sing has until recently illustrated in some of its very worst features.

Supt. RILEY, and under him Warden MCCORMICK, have really manifested both willingness and competency to try the better ways—to see in imprisonment not only a harsh though deserved form of punishment, but also an opportunity and a means for turning bad citizens into good or at least better ones. And now this wretched Sullivan business has come up to make people forget the recent vastly more important happenings and developments that have been changing and improving the moral atmosphere of Sing Sing and the other prisons of the State! It is more than unfortunate—it is pathetic.

Sounds Like an Unwise Suggestion.

There is no difficulty in believing many of the statements of fact made by the August Grand Jury with respect to conditions in the several institutions controlled by the Department of Charities. Indeed, there is not much difficulty in believing all of them, for though Commissioner KINGSBURY insists that the picture is in some respects too black, he not only admits its general accuracy, but declares with truth that he has said as much or more about the evils and inadequacies so indignantly described by the jurors.

With truth, too, he declares that he is eager to change these disgraceful conditions and will do it as soon as he can get the requisite appropriations for new buildings and the employment of competent attendants for the city's wards. Without money he is helpless, and it is impossible to see how the big board which the jurors want to put in his place could do any better than he does if it had no more to spend on improvements and reforms.

As a matter of fact, there is excuse for more than doubt if it would do as well, for the present tendency, based on long and sorrowful experience with the division of authority and responsibility, is to concentrate both as much as possible and in a single person when that is practicable. The institutions mentioned in the presentment as justifying the change are not analogous to those in the Department of Charities and the arguments drawn from them are not relevant.

Whether or not Commissioner KINGSBURY is the right man in the right place is one question, and whether or not a single Commissioner is better than a numerous board is quite another. The Grand Jury did not take up the former; its answer to the latter is not convincing.

Resorting Again to Armor.

Metallic covering for soldiers' wear went out of use—and forever, it had been assumed—soon after gunpowder gave to missile weapons greater penetrative power than bows provided. It is strange, therefore, that now, when cannon are larger than ever before and rifles shoot harder and faster, at least two of the countries at war, France and Russia, are reported to be experimenting with the abandoned device as a means of protecting their troops.

Expectations along this line are presumably based on the proved efficiency of the thin armor plates with which motor cars and machine guns have been equipped, but even these safeguards are of such weight that an analogous defense would hardly be practicable for men from whom much or rapid motion was expected. The knight of old was a helpless creature except when he had a horse to carry him.

But much of the fighting in battles of the new sort is done in trenches occupied for considerable periods of time, and it is easily believable that breastplates made from one of the improved steels would deflect some bullets, even though stopping none of them.

BLEEDING BELGIUM.

Wasted and Famine Stricken, Her Plight Manifest to All.

Your article on the Belgian guarantee this morning, in reply to Prof. Burgess, is good and on a line with all your valuable efforts to put the truth before the people and to express American feeling about this outrageous performance going on in Belgium. You there show that both legally and historically Germany was a party to the guarantee of the integrity of Belgium at the very moment when she so ruthlessly invaded that hapless little country. But I, speaking as an American lawyer and one of the body of American public opinion now judging Germany, regard that guarantee as of minor importance. No amount of professional or Teutonic quibbling can avoid the hideous fact that, for nearly three months past, Germany has actually been and is now in Belgium, plundering, slaughtering, burning, and destroying a little nation with whom she had no just quarrel.

We behold bleeding Belgium, her old men, women, and children driven from their homes, which are destroyed before their eyes; many of themselves killed by shot and shell; others deprived of all they had in the world, dying of famine and exposure; her fields laid waste; her beautiful churches and towns in ruins, and her men slaughtered by thousands because they dare to attempt to defend their homes and their dear ones from the brutal attacks of a conscripted host of invaders. Oh, the pity of it! Oh, the cruelty and deviltry of it all! What has poor Belgium done but to defend herself?

And then, because a few of the people thus outraged, rendered desperate by these horrors and atrocities, are said to have attempted a feeble resistance, the invaders wantonly destroy whole cities, including world treasures of art. Nothing in this militarism is more revolting than its cowardice; afraid to move except in millions; afraid to face the front; going to the neighbor's side door; burning Louvain in a panic of fear because a few civilian boys fired on these warriors; throwing bombs at night on sleeping citizens. Germany stands today in red-handed possession of the little country she has despoiled and ruined, and tries to brazen it out by abusing England because she is vainly trying to protect the victim. Can college professors tell the American people that they don't understand the question? We understand it but too well, and the warning to ourselves that it contains.

President Proclaims Nov. 26 Thanksgiving Day; Our Opportunity for Service Amid War His Theme

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in fruitful Autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. The year that is now drawing to a close since we last observed our day of national thanksgiving has been, while a year of discipline because of the mighty forces of war and of change which have disturbed the world, also a year of special blessing for us.

It has been vouchsafed to us to remain at peace, with honor, and in some part to succor the suffering and supply the needs of those who are in want. We have been privileged by our own peace and self-control in some degree to steady the counsels and shape the hopes and purposes of a day of fear and distress. Our people have looked upon their own life as a nation with a deeper comprehension, a fuller realization of their responsibilities, as well as of their blessings, and a keener sense of the moral and practical significance of what their part among the nations of the world may come to be.

The hurtful effects of foreign war in their own industrial and commercial affairs have made them feel the more fully and see the more clearly their mutual interdependence upon one another and has stirred them to a helpful coöperation such as they have seldom practiced before. They have been quickened by a great moral stimulation. Their unmistakable ardor for peace, their earnest pity and disinterested sympathy for those who are suffering, their readiness to help and to think of the needs of others has revealed them to themselves as well as to the world.

Our crops will feed all who need food; the self-possession of our people amid the most serious anxieties and difficulties, and the steadiness and resourcefulness of our business men will serve other nations, as well as our own.

The business of the country has been supplied with new instrumentalities and the commerce of the world with new channels of trade and intercourse. The Panama Canal has been opened to the commerce of the nations. The two continents of America have been bound in closer ties of friendship. New instrumentalities of international trade have been created which will be also new instrumentalities of acquaintance, intercourse, and mutual service. Never before have the people of the United States been so situated for their own advantage or the advantage of their neighbors or so equipped to serve themselves and mankind.

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-sixth of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks to Almighty God.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this twenty-eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-ninth.

WOODROW WILSON.

By the President:
ROBERT LANSING,
Acting Secretary of State.

RECORD TORPEDO SHOOTING

NEWPORT, Oct. 28.—Remarkable results have been obtained at the torpedo target practice recently held in Gardiner's Bay, reported never to have been equaled in the United States Army.

Torpedoes were fired at a target going in the opposite direction to that of the firing destroyers with the range two land miles. Seventy-five per cent. is the average number of hits made. The majority of the misses were very near hits that would have struck a vessel of average length. The actual number of hits was 100 per cent. greater than made by the flotilla one year ago on the same torpedo grounds.

Six of the fifteen destroyers taking part in the practice made 100 per cent. of hits, in that all their torpedoes passed directly through the target. These ships were the Burrows, commanded by Lieut. Commander John P. Jackson; Patterson, Lieut. H. R. Stark; Ammen, Lieut. Charles Belknap, Jr.; Drayton, Lieut. Commander Charles Freeman; McCall, Lieut. George P. Brown, and Jarvis, Lieut. William F. Halsey.

An officer of the flotilla says the practice demonstrates that the torpedo is a very reliable weapon when properly handled by the skilled crews of destroyers, submarines, and other war vessels, but it is said that the navy has but one torpedo for each torpedo tube carried by these vessels.

Next month the flotilla will have manoeuvres with the battleship fleet.

A Dog Nuisance.

I have been amused for some time reading the comments pro and con regarding the new muzzling law for dogs in this city. Much is being said about stray dogs and methods of dealing with them, biting and barking dogs, also rabies, &c., but in all that I have read I have failed to see one remark which I consider most important of all, and that is the nuisances committed on the sidewalks, and I wish to raise my protest in no uncertain tone.

As is well known, usually early in the morning and evenings after dark, they are taken out for exercise and relief, there being no less than twenty-five in my block. One party has four, another three, several two. The sidewalks are, as everybody knows, a sight continually, and in Summer, many houses being closed, with no one to clean up the filth it is tracked about by pedestrians and carried away by flies and back into our homes. The persons responsible should not only be compelled to clean it up but be arrested and fined.

The Maids of Crefeld.

The article under the caption, "The Kaiser and the Maids of Crefeld," in your recent issue, while substantially correct, contains some statements which, with your permission, I should like to amend.

Your correspondent speaks of "the not very important town of Crefeld." This Government thought it important enough to send Bret Harte there as Consul. Crefeld is not near the Belgian, but near the Dutch frontier, a five hours' walk.

The town has always been famed for handsome girls, maybe an effect of race mixture. Some 200 years ago, Crefeld hospitably received silk and velvet manufacturers and weavers driven from other towns and countries by religious intolerance.

Admitted International Crime.

Thank you for the editorial answer to Dean Burgess regarding the neutrality of Belgium.

In addition to the one great point you considered, may it not also be pointed out that his own witness, the Berlin professor, admits the violation, as did the Chancellor, and attributes it "in part" to an alleged previous violation of the neutral territory by the soldiers of France—a "report" denied expressly and officially by both France and Belgium, and one regarding which a Berlin professor's knowledge is not more fully based than our own.

The recent "discoveries" at Antwerp referred to by Prof. Burgess have up to the present time been unproved and are denied absolutely by Belgium. They look like further efforts of Germany to excuse an acknowledged international crime.

As to our "nebulous conditions" (all but a few of us!) THE TIMES has not seemed to be in the clouds, and it represents millions of us.

Promiscuous Spitting.

With commendable ardor the Board of Health is protecting the citizens of New York from the bites of rabid dogs. I do not know the statistics of hydrophobia cases, but doubt if they exceed five to the million. Now what percentage of lives might be saved if the Board of Health would as vigorously enforce rules regarding spitting and filth germs? Let them mount the elevated stairs any morning during rush hours and wade through the horrible expectorations, notwithstanding signs in plenty threatening fines for this misdemeanor. Are they not straining at gnats and not giving protection where most needed? Muzzle the dogs if necessary, but muzzle the spitters as well is the cry of one who must climb the elevated each day.

WAR HASTENED HER DEATH.

Mme. Bartholdi, Widow of Sculptor, Grieved Over Colmar's Losses.

Reports from Paris indicate that the death of Mme. F. Auguste Bartholdi, widow of the sculptor of the Statue of Liberty, who died at her home, 82 Rue d'Assas, Paris, on Oct. 14, was hastened by the heavy losses which Colmar, the Alsatian town which was her husband's birthplace and for which he always had great affection, had suffered in the present war. In the will of Bartholdi, who died in 1904, there was a provision for the erection in Colmar of a memorial museum after Mme. Bartholdi's death. The museum was to be modeled on Bartholdi's home in Paris, and was to cost 200,000 francs.

Though he left Alsace after the German conquest, Bartholdi never lost his love for his native province. At a dinner given in 1886 to celebrate the inauguration of the Statue of Liberty, Frederic R. Coudert, the elder, at the close of a speech, turned to the sculptor, and, referring to the law which allowed Alsatians to elect either French or German nationality, spoke of the newly erected statue as "our beloved Alsatian goddess who has cast in her lot with France."

The Statue of Liberty, which was paid for by subscriptions in France collected by the French-American Union, is better known in this country than any of Bartholdi's other works. Perhaps more famous in France, however, is the Lion of Belfort, hewn in the natural rock in that city to commemorate its defense against the Germans in 1870-71. A replica in bronze stands in the Place Denfert-Rochereau, Paris. Bartholdi's last work, which was left unfinished at his death and finished by Louis Noel, a pupil, was unveiled in August, 1913. It commemorated the three sieges of the town, in 1813, 1814, and 1870-71. There is now perhaps room for another statue in honor of the defense of the fortified lines near Belfort against Gen. von Heeringen's army this year.

Air Pressure in Tunnels.

In THE TIMES recently there appeared a statement about the effect of air pressure noticed by commuters in the various tunnels around New York. The average depth of these tunnels is 85 feet below mean high tide. This would mean an actual increase of pressure less than .05 pounds per square inch. Having worked two years in "air" work, I can safely say that it is impossible to detect this difference.

I would suggest that the effect noticed is due to sound vibrations. These vibrations are very much intensified in a long cylindrical tube similar to the river tunnels.

Times War Pictures in Argentina.

The fame of THE NEW YORK TIMES Mid-Week Pictorial War Extra has extended to South America. The stirring features of the great conflict reproduced by the beautiful rotogravure process, collected in magazine form, find appreciation there to such an extent that W. G. Mackern, a newsdealer of Buenos Aires, has ordered through the American News Company of New York 100 copies of each issue of the Mid-Week Pictorial from the commencement. The sale throughout the United States has exceeded all anticipations.

OCTOBER.

High walls inclose me, and, across the way,
High walls shut out my vision of the sky;
A white electric glare succeeds the day
Filtering through the fragrant, smoky haze
That shrouds the distant aisles of woodland ways:
I see its very pattern on the floor
Of forest places that I trod of yore,
And, in my heart, I hear the far-off beat
Of seas that drown the clangor of the street.
Ah! why must I, who wooed the world's wide space,
Be prisoned from the Autumn 'neath the roof
My hands are glad of toiling, but my soul
Is vagabond and will not understand—
Having so long been comrade with the wilds
I shall have wholly won myself to smile
In at my window from the city's park,
And shall perceive the message that they bring—
That I had never loved the free wind's sting
Or thrilled an answer to th' inquiring seas
Had I not shared the turmoiled haste of these,
My sisters and my brothers in their strife.
Perhaps, indeed, I had not looked on life
Or nature with such longing in my breast,
Did I not learn in cities with "These Rest"
From some slow fountain's drip against stone walls

MGR. HAYES MADE AUXILIARY BISHOP

5,000 OF THE LAITY PRESENT

Many Gifts Are Presented by Lay and Clerical Friends — Many Bishops Attend Ceremony.

The Right Rev. Mgr. Patrick Joseph Hayes, Chancellor of the Catholic Diocese of New York, and since 1903 President of the Cathedral College, was consecrated as Titular Bishop of Tagaste and Bishop Auxiliary of New York yesterday morning at St. Patrick's Cathedral. The impressive ceremonies were witnessed by twenty Bishops and more than 5,000 of the laity. The new Bishop Auxiliary was consecrated by Cardinal Farley, assisted by the Right Rev. Henry Gabriels, Bishop of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and the Right Rev. Thomas F. Cusack, Bishop Auxiliary of the Diocese of New York. The Notary of the Consecration was the Very Rev. Mgr. Gherardo Ferranti.

For the first time now there are two Bishops Auxiliary of this diocese. No other diocese has more than one. The need of another Bishop Auxiliary was anticipated some time ago, when the duties of the Cardinal became so pressing that the Cardinal and the first Bishop Auxiliary were put under a great strain.

Two details of police under Capt. Alfred W. Thor of the East Fifty-first Street Station were sent to the cathedral. Inside the edifice were Captain of Detectives Patrick Gildea and twenty-five of his men to keep watch there to prevent any possible repetition of such an outrage as was committed recently when a bomb was placed in the building.

Forming at the residence of the Cardinal, behind the cathedral, at Madison Avenue and Fiftieth Street, the procession was led into the cathedral by 300 altar boys. The Cardinal was attended by a guard of honor of the Knights of St. Gregory, composed of Sir Eugene A. Philbin, Sir Thomas F. McParlan, Sir James J. Walsh, and Sir James Butler.

The consecration ceremonies occupied an hour. The new Bishop Auxiliary had as his chaplains the Rev. Joseph F. Smith of St. Bernard's Church and the Rev. Cornelius F. Crowley of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament of New Rochelle, both close friends. At the conclusion of the mass the sermon was delivered by the Right Rev. Mgr. Joseph F. Mooney, Vicar General, who bestowed high praise on the new Bishop. The Rev. Thomas A. Thornton, on behalf of the clergy of the city, then presented resolutions offering Bishop Hayes their best wishes and congratulations. Bishop Hayes thanked the clergy, and in thanking Cardinal Farley the new Bishop referred to him as "a second father," who had guided his own career. Then he blessed the congregation, and received through Cardinal Farley the Papal blessing. The arrangements for the consecration were in charge of the Right Rev. Mgr. Michael J. Lavelle.

When the order of the consecration was concluded the new Bishop Auxiliary and the other prelates had dinner at the residence of the Cardinal, while a buffet luncheon was served for the other clergy at Cathedral College. So many presents were sent to Mgr. Hayes before his consecration by his friends that a safe repository was procured for them as a matter of precaution. A pectoral cross was the gift to him by the McParlan family. A Bishop's ring was presented by Mgr. Dunn, and two mitres were sent by the Alumni of Troy Theological Seminary, of which the new Bishop is a graduate. An expensive pectoral cross was presented by St. Gabriel's Church, East Thirty-seventh Street, where Bishop Hayes for fourteen years was an assistant. Another pectoral cross was the gift of Mgr. John Edwards. Bishop's rings were given to him by Bishop Charles E. McDonnell of Brooklyn and Dr. Thomas G. Carroll, secretary to Cardinal Farley.

DUKE OF MANCHESTER SAILS

Process Servers Miss Nobleman Going Abroad to Enlist.

The Duke of Manchester is off to the wars. Thwarted in his attempt to become an educator by the recent collapse of his $10,000,000 international moving picture scheme, and harassed by many creditors, he sailed for England yesterday on the White Star liner Adriatic with the expressed intention of enlisting.

His departure from our shores was not advertised. His name did not appear on the advance list of passengers. It was said later at the offices of the line that he had booked passage under the name of Percival, and that the agents of the company were not aware of his identity. Reporters who visited the Adriatic noticed several mysterious men stalking about the decks with an inscrutable air, and discovered they were subpoena servers waiting for the Duke.

A friend of the nobleman admitted that the Duke was on board, but said he was there only to see a friend off. A few minutes later the Duke appeared at the purser's office and asked for the number of the cabin assigned to Wilfred Halter. When questioned then he admitted his identity and said he was going home.

The Duke seemed uneasy and eager to escape being questioned. He declared all his financial troubles were ended, and that as soon as he reached London he would go to the War Office and volunteer for service. The subpoena servers missed him.

RECEIVES "MOTHER" JONES.

President Urged Not to Withdraw Federal Troops from Colorado.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—"Mother" Jones, who has been prominent in labor movements and who recently has been operating in Colorado, had a talk with President Wilson today. She was accompanied to the White House by James Lord of the Mining Department of the American Federation of Labor.

"Mother" Jones told the President that the State officials of Colorado could not cope with the situation. It was urged that if the operators declined to accept the plan of settlement proposed the President should close the mines. He was asked not to withdraw the Federal troops. Fighting with the State militia would follow, it was asserted, as employes of the mining companies were being enlisted in militia organizations.

Her father is Corporation Attorney of Philadelphia and is Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, and is descended from Dr. Thomas Wynne, who came to this country with William Penn.

ROSE STAHL HERE IN A NEW PLAY

"A Perfect Lady" at the Hudson Is Only Feebly Entertaining.

BY WOLF AND POLLOCK

Liberal Use of Slang Not Enough to Relieve the Tedium of Its Machine-Made Story.

"A Perfect Lady" was presented at the Hudson Theatre last evening in the candid guise of a candidate to succeed "The Chorus Lady" as a play appropriate to the gifts and mannerisms of Rose Stahl. As a would-be successor to the laurels won by that entertainment which first launched Miss Stahl as a favorite in these parts, the new work fashioned by Channing Pollock and Rennold Wolf is an arrant pretender.

Theirs is a custom-made play, far too obviously cut and trimmed to fit the actress, and while this sort of dramatic tailoring seldom produces admirable results, the product in this case is peculiarly unhappy, for the material used is thin, shoddy, and not especially becoming. The quest of a golden opportunity for Miss Stahl has been tireless, and doubtless it has enlisted the services of many men in recent years. The authors of "A Perfect Lady" were not the first to overlook the fact that what she needs is something more than a part. What she needs is a play.

Of course there is abundant slang in the new Stahl play at the Hudson. It is of the Broadway variety, and through the device of a strolling and stranded company of burlesquers the emphasis of incongruity is sought for it by giving it utterance in the atmosphere of a small Kansan town. But this is such painfully imitation atmosphere that the result is not deliriously amusing. The part of the dialogue that catches the attention and lingers in the memory smacks decidedly of the vaudeville stage. Indeed, all that is entertaining in the four acts of "A Perfect Lady" would be used to better advantage if it were "played in one."

Much of this depends on the cheerfully unconscious slips made by the marooned burlesquers, and most of it would have to depend for genuine appreciation on an audience drawn from those who move and have their being within the edge of the theatrical world. The wit is of the sort overheard in the wings.

The perfect lady in question, whose sister did not want her to play in "As You Like It" because Ophelia had to wear tights, is a burlesque queen and the critical sister is a little sister to the sister of Patricia O'Brien. For the sake of this little Clare, shortly to be graduated from a seminary, Lucille le Jambon (name chosen from a menu) decides to become plain Miss Higgins again and to live down the memory of the tights by running a tango parlor in the fortuitously selected town of Sycamore.

In the process of teaching the new steps to the leading citizens and generally outraging the town's most prosperous and incredible Puritan, Lucille ensnares the heart of the minister and the final curtain sees her preparing to settle in the parsonage. To the part of Lucille, Miss Stahl brings her old charm, which is part humor and part pathos, and she brings that familiar facility in delivery which makes count the quietest syllable she utters. The performances by the others are not distinguished.

GERMAN WAR SCENES SEEN.

"Lieb' Vaterland" Produced at the Irving Place Theatre.

The new production put forward last night at the Irving Place Theatre, "Lieb' Vaterland," (Beloved Fatherland,) was not exactly a war play, as advertised, but rather a series of four vivid pictures of the German nation in arms. Max Simon of the editorial staff of The New Yorker Herold, who conceived the idea of this interesting spectacle, was called before the curtain after the third scene and warmly applauded.

The first picture, called "The King Calls," shows a quiet little peasant's home in the Bavarian highlands. Quaint Bavarian dialect and humor suddenly give way to militarism, when a Prussian soldier enters upon the scene and announces that the mobilisation order has gone into effect. Here the author cleverly illustrates how sectional feeling is forgotten and every German thinks only of the common Fatherland.

The most realistic of the four scenes is the one entitled "We Barbarians." Three German privates enter a Belgian peasant home and avail themselves of unoffered hospitality. They order wine from the servant of the house, who fears they will live up to their reputation as "cannibals." When she sees that instead of eating her baby, they prefer to play with it, she warns them in time to prevent them from drinking the wine, which had been poisoned by Francois, the indispensable Belgian villain.

In the last picture there are four widely different types of soldiers, members of a signal party that has been cut off from communication with the main army and is threatened with annihilation. This affords an excellent opportunity for an aristocratic Lieutenant to get acquainted with his three comrades, a patriotic Jew, a socialist factory hand, and a university-trained volunteer, all on a basis of absolute equality and bound together by the one thought of devotion to their country. Their wireless signal apparatus eventually saves them from death.

The principal parts are in the hands of Heinrich Marlow, who staged the performance; Ernst Holznagel, Ernst Robert, and Grete Meyer. An audience that filled the theatre received "Lieb' Vaterland" with the greatest enthusiasm.

Andreas Dippel kept his promise to give New York light opera when he introduced the Dippel Opera Comique Company at the Forty-fourth Street Theatre last night in "The Lilac Domino," which was composed by Charles Cuvillier, a Frenchman, and which had been sung with great success in Berlin and other cities in Germany. Mr. Dippel did even more, for he introduced to New York two of the best voices heard here in many a day, some of the prettiest music sung in quite as long a time, and several truly magnificent stage settings.

While it is quite true that a man can't be expected to think of everything, it is unfortunate that Mr. Dippel's judgment did not extend just a trifle further. With everything in his favor Mr. Dippel in some manner got the impression—perhaps he listened to some outside advice—that even a real comic opera needed a bit of Broadway injected into it to attract New Yorkers, and so he called in the Smith Brothers. While from the work these gentlemen turned out for "The Lilac Domino" one might be inclined to think that the makers of a well-known cough drops are referred to here, it was instead those ready booksmiths, Robert B. and Harry B., who are really meant.

The Messrs. Smith, who have turned out some pretty bad books, as well as some very good ones, have done their worst by "The Lilac Domino." If there was any real, refreshing comedy in the piece when it was produced abroad the two American writers have succeeded in blotting it out of the opera as it now stands. Jokes about sausages, hot dogs, and other comedy of the burlesque stage are plentiful, if not pleasing, and while no book could possibly be poor enough to entirely smother the delight and sweetness of the music, Harry B. and Robert B. Smith have approached the danger point very closely.

The two singers who scored tremendous hits last night were Wilfrid Douthitt, an Englishman with a splendid baritone voice of great range, and Eleanor Painter, the soprano. Miss Painter comes from Colorado Springs, but for the last five years has been singing in Berlin. None of the poor comedy falls to them in "The Lilac Domino," and so there was nothing to mar their triumphs last night.

The chief offenders against the otherwise good taste of the opera were John E. Hazzard and Robert O'Connor, a pair of comedians who very probably felt as badly over their offenses as did the audience.

But, as has been said, everything else except the book is so remarkably good and Mr. Dippel has staged the piece so magnificently that it is quite likely that many music lovers will go to the Forty-fourth Street Theatre for some time to come, and when the producer offers his next opera he will very likely not make the one mistake he has made this time.

The story of "The Lilac Domino" is not of great importance. It involves the loss at cards of the fortunes of three young men who decide that the only way out is for one of the number, who is chosen at a game of dice, to marry an heiress. Count Andre de St. Armand (sung by Mr. Douthitt) is the one who throws the high number, and who must seek a fortune. He has fallen in love with a girl in a pink domino at a bal masque, who turns out to be Georgine (sung by Miss Painter), daughter of the wealthy Vicomte de Brissac, who is the heiress Andre is to marry in order to carry out his agreement with his two friends.

By chance Georgine learns of the dice game, believes that she is being married only for her money and throws over Andre despite the fact that she is head over heels in love with him as he is with her. In the last act of course true love is triumphant and Andre, who is giving a farewell supper to his friends preparatory to departing from a cold and cruel world, is saved for matrimony.

The action of the piece takes place in Nice during carnival time, and between the second and third acts the story of what is going on is partly told in some very entertaining moving pictures.

NEW SOPRANO HEARD.

Marian Wright-Powers Makes Her Debut Here.

Marian Wright-Powers, a soprano singer, new to New York, gave a song recital yesterday afternoon, the programme of which showed a praiseworthy ambition to reach the higher regions of vocal art. She has a voice of considerable power, whose best tones are in the middle range, and in some of her songs she showed an excellent enunciation, as in the air "Porgi Amor," from Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro," and in the songs in English which came later in her list. Her voice, however, while it has good metal and the possibilities of usefulness, is not yet completely under her control, nor are her technical methods always to be commended. The voice as a whole is not equalized. Her lower tones are undeveloped, and she shows a fondness for rather thin high tones that are often flat in pitch.

Under these circumstances it was a venturesome undertaking to sing the air by Mozart, or the "Waltz Song" from Gounod's "Romeo and Juliet" or the "Mad Scene" from Thomas's "Hamlet," all of which require a sure command of the higher technical difficulties. She was much more at home, and gave more satisfaction, in the songs in English by American composers which occupied a considerable place on her programme: "Like the Rosebud," by La Forge, "The Lovely Month of May" by Hammand, "The Robin Sings in the Apple Tree" by MacDowell, "The Laughing Streamlet" by Spross, and "The Moon Drops Low" by Cadman. In this last, which is called an Indian song, and utilizes the spirit if not the actual material of Indian music, the singer was successful in reproducing much of the gloomy and foreboding spirit of the music. She sang also two German Lieder, Schubert's "Hark, Hark the Lark" and Brahms's "Meine Liebe ist Grün," in which she made a sincere effort not wholly rewarded by success. Her singing of Dell' Aqua's "Chanson Provençale" aroused much applause from the audience, which showed throughout a friendly interest, and was generous in manifesting it.

ALEX. BLOCH'S RECITAL.

An Artistic Violin Performance in Aeolian Hall.

Mr. Alexander Bloch, who unobtrusively gave a violin recital in New York a year ago, as unobtrusively gave another last evening in Aeolian Hall. He showed himself to be imbued with a fine artistic spirit, a delicate and sensitive feeling for musical beauty, and a technical equipment, which, while it is not of the kind that makes a brilliant virtuoso, and cannot meet some of the most exacting demands upon it, is in many respects soundly and healthily developed.

What Mr. Bloch distinctly can and cannot do was illustrated by the first two numbers of his programme: Beethoven's exquisitely dreamy and introspective sonata for piano and violin, Op. 96, he played delightfully, preserving its fragile outlines and filling them with quite the right mood and spirit, being extremely well seconded therein on the piano by Miss Blanche Bloch. Paganini's D major concerto he played, on the whole, competently, though with some evidences of labor in certain of the more elaborate passages; but with very little of the dash, brilliancy, and fire that alone make the thing worth while—if they do make it worth while—and that are about the sole reasons for its being. Mr. Bloch's tone is full and sympathetic, his bowing sufficiently vigorous and elastic, and his left hand ready to meet all but transcendent demands upon it. He plays with poise and with an innate refinement of style, and it is evident that his disposition is toward the really artistic things in music.

Besides these two major pieces his programme contained arrangements of Chopin by Auer, of Brahms by Joachim, of Wagner by Wilhelmj—so poor apparently is the violinist's repertory—and Sgambati's "Serenata Napoletana" and Wienlawski's D major polonaise. Of Miss Blanche Bloch's accompaniments much praise is to be uttered.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Evidence of Easier Call Money —Trading Restrictions Modified.

One result of the decision by Controller Williams that national banks are to be allowed to carry stocks in loans at the last prices made on the Exchange was seen yesterday in a demand by many borrowers for a lower interest rate. While more fortunate customers have been getting funds the past two weeks at 6 per cent. other loans are still paying the rate of 8 per cent. which was fixed upon the closing of the Exchange. One bank put out $1,000,000 yesterday at 5½ per cent. on high-grade collateral. This was taken by brokers as another sign that conditions are clearing to the point where it will be possible to consider soon the reopening of the Exchange, but the fact remains that the ruling rate on call money is nearer 7 per cent.

A better inquiry developed for exchange on London, resulting in a slight strengthening in quotations, but the advance was not enough to discount the deductions drawn from the break to $4.89½ reported on Tuesday. Exchange is being made at a satisfactory rate by the increasing stream of exports, coupled with the lessened volume of imports, but it must be remembered that this country's needs in connection with the payment of New York City notes and other obligations are still of an extraordinary size. Yesterday's demand was explained in part by the accumulation of exchange by members of the syndicate that is handling the New York City maturities. There has been a considerable improvement in exports both of copper and cotton. For the first twenty-seven days of October slightly more than 50,000,000 pounds of the metal were sent to Europe, and it is hoped that for the full month the total will reach 60,000,000 pounds.

A further moderation of the restrictions upon trading was agreed upon yesterday when it was decided by the Committee of Seven that transactions in unlisted notes and bonds maturing prior to the end of 1917, and in unlisted railroad equipment bonds of all maturities, need not be submitted to the committee in future for their approval. Nevertheless, members of the Exchange are still unwilling to attempt a forecast of the date for reopening, and it is admitted that the loan position must be relieved to a much greater extent before this problem can be solved.

NO SEABOARD BANK CHANGE

Wall Street Heard That Col. Green Had Bought Control.

Wall Street heard a rumor yesterday that control of the Seaboard National Bank had passed from the hands of President Samuel G. Bayne through the sale of a large block of stock to Col. Edward H. R. Green, son of Mrs. Hetty Green, who is a Director of the bank.

President Bayne could not be reached last night, but Vice President Stuart S. Nelson said there had been no change of control.

"I would certainly know if such a development had occurred," said he. "The report has no basis in fact."

A majority of the Seaboard stock has been held since the bank was founded by Mr. Bayne and three or four business associates, some of whom were prominent a few years ago in affairs of the Standard Oil Company.

GOVERNORS PICK TURNBULL.

Stock Exchange Board Elects Successor to Keppler.

The Board of Governors of the Stock Exchange yesterday elected Arthur Trunbull a Governor to succeed Rudolph Keppler, who recently resigned. Mr. Keppler's place on the Law Committee was taken by Ernest Groesbeck. The Governors adopted the following resolution:

In the retirement of Mr. Rudolph Keppler from the Governing Committee we desire to express our profound regret. Mr. Keppler for thirty-two years has given intelligent counsel and faithful and devoted service as a member of this Governing Committee. For five years he was the honored and efficient President of the Exchange, and during his term of office plans were made and carried out for the construction of our present building. For years, as a member of the Law Committee and other standing and special committees, his invaluable services have been freely given. We cannot overestimate the benefits of all these years of unremitting attention to the welfare of the Exchange.

A Committee on Quotations was added to the other committees of the board, consisting of E. V. D. Cox, Frederick C. De Veau, R. T. H. Halsey, Leroy Frost, and William C. Van Antwerp. The committee's chief duty will be to supervise the renting of wire service on stock quotations to brokerage houses by the Western Union Telegraph Company, the purpose being to prevent bucket shops from getting direct wire reports of prices established on the Stock Exchange.

OHIO RAILROAD SUIT.

Central Trust Co. Files Foreclosure Against C. H. & D. Receiver.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 28.—The Central Trust Company of New York and Augustus L. Mason of New York filed a foreclosure suit in the United States Court today in which Rufus B. Smith and Judson Harmon, receivers for the Cincinnati, Hamilton, & Dayton Railroad, are made a party.

The suit charges that interest to the amount of $79,050, due July 1 on bonds issued by the Indiana, Decatur & Western Railway Company, is unpaid. The road, it is alleged, is a subsidiary of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton.

IRON TRADE CONDITIONS.

Decreasing Mill Operations—Lower Prices for Steel Products.

Decreasing mill operations and lower prices for steel products are reported in the trade as the principal developments of the week. The Iron Age says:

The Winter prospect for the steel trade is not encouraging. Other years have usually seen back logs in the shape of contracts for steel rails, structural steel and other staple products affording some basis for steadiness in steel works operations. Mill books are almost bare of such business at this time. Current orders now represent but a fraction of the capacity of mills. It will be necessary to go back a number of years to find a time when steel companies had a smaller tonnage of railroad business than at present.

Under these circumstances it is noteworthy that the Pennsylvania Steel Company has received an order from the Southern Railway for 4,400 tons of rails, the purchase being made with money that had been appropriated for other purposes. The general rate of steel mill operations at Pittsburgh is only 40 to 45 per cent. of capacity, while the Chicago mills are likely to drop to 30 per cent. this week. For part of the week no Chicago plate mills will be in operation.

Prices are giving way. Billets, sheet bars and wire rods are off 50 cents per ton, steel plates and sheets $1 per ton, and tin plates $2 per ton. Lower than 1 cent per pound, Chicago, has been done on bar iron.

The Iron Trade Review says:

Foreign inquiries continue to be placed before steel makers in this country and some of these call for round tonnages of material. Up to this time, the yield in actual orders realized from inquiries from abroad has been very small in proportion to the tonnage asked because the quotations have not been in line with the views of foreign buyers. However, the continuance of an active inquiry and the fact that both buyers and sellers are more inclined to meet on common price ground make the outlook better for larger bookings from this source.

The movement of domestic trade in most materials remains very sluggish and the increasing softness of prices reflects the more urgent needs for orders of the mills. The balance between incoming and outgoing tonnage appears not yet to have been struck and further curtailment of output is general in the industry.

PREDICTS TRADE WAR FOR WORLD CONTROL

He Sees a Great Commercial Conflict Coming After War, with Germany an Aggressor.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—The defense today closed its side of the case in the Federal suit to dismember the United States Steel Corporation on the ground that it is an illegal trust and the Government began its final attack against the organization. John G. Johnson of Philadelphia summed up for the defense in a two-hour speech, and Jacob M. Dickinson, chief counsel for the Government in the case, began his argument in rebuttal. He hopes to conclude by tomorrow evening.

Mr. Johnson in opening his speech said that no one had been harmed by the organization of the Steel Corporation, so far as the record showed, nor had any one, be he consumer or competitor, been dealt with unfairly by the parent company or by any of its subsidiaries.

In his peroration Mr. Johnson said the court was asked to cut the great organization into "miserable fragments." He predicted another war after the present European conflict was over—a war in which Germany would battle for the commerce of the world, in which conflict the steel companies in the United States would be as pigmies if the United States Steel Corporation was disintegrated by the courts.

At the outset Mr. Johnson asserted that the record in the case showed that the weight of evidence was all against the Government. The prosecution, he said, had picked here and there something that it thought was suspicious, ignoring the great mass of human evidence, given under the solemnity of an oath, which showed the true state of affairs in the steel industry. Mr. Johnson said that the Government sought to attack E. H. Gary but the testimony in the case was a lasting monument to him.

The original petition in the suit, Mr. Johnson said, rested upon imperfect statements of facts, and the Government should have abandoned its charges that the Steel Corporaion was a violator of the law when it saw that the testimony did not substantiate its allegations.

As to interlocking Directors, the speaker reminded the court that in 1911, when the suit was instituted, there was no legislation on the subject, and that, therefore, interlocking Directorates were entirely within the law. He ridiculed the Government charges that such Directors misused their trust, and said the allegations in this respect were disproved by the facts in the present case.

Mr. Johnson took up the charge that the Steel Corporation sold products cheaper abroad than at home. He reviewed the testimony of the defense, that only surplus products were disposed of in this way.

"Who was harmed," he exclaimed, "when the corporation found an outlet for its surplus products, taking a reduction in price in order to keep the mills running and the hands employed?"

He assailed the allegation of the Government that surplus steel products were dumped into the foreign markets in order that prices might be maintained at home, and ridiculed the suggestion of the Government that the surplus products should be sold in the United States at reduced prices.

"With the country overstocked, who is going to buy this surplus stock?" he asked. "The Department of Justice," he said, "might furnish an inventor who could reduce steel to a jelly and cover it with a delicious cream sauce, and then we might eat it, and the country thus absorb the surplus steel products."

As to the acquisition of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company by the Steel Corporation in the panic of 1907, Mr. Johnson said that the Government's allegation in this transaction was one of the irrelevant things that had beclouded the issues in the suit. It reminded him, he said, of the time when lawyers who had no case started in to abuse their adversaries. The defense, he said, had shown that the acquisition of the Tennessee company was a patriotic act and the purpose was not to gain a monopoly in the steel industry.

Counsel defended the supposed uniform prices of the steel corporation. It was good business, he said, to make a good article and charge a fair price. He cited the demands of the railroads for better rails to give greater safety to the traveling public. Pools among independent manufacturers and the Gary dinners, where all the iron and steel manufacturers of the country could exchange views on business conditions, furnished proof, Mr. Johnson said, that the corporation did not control prices.

Opening the final argument for the Government, Mr. Dickinson said that no one admired more than he the men who had the genius to build up great industries. He would be the last one to stand in the way of business expansion, but, he added, when the Government was confronted with the fact that in that expansion the law was being violated it was the duty of the Government to take notice of that fact.

Reply to Mr. Johnson's assertion that interlocking Directors who happened to be on the Steel board did not abuse their position, Mr. Dickinson said that these interlocking Directors were serving on numerous boards for some purpose and that such Directors sitting around a table could and did influence their fellow Directors.

In answer to questions by Judges McPherson and Hunt as to the Government's contention regarding the formation of the Steel Corporation, Mr. Dickinson said it was the Government's claim that if all acts subsequent to the organization of the concern were disregarded the combination still would be illegal because it was created in violation of law in that it was formed to restrain trade unduly.

Mr. Dickinson did not agree with the assertion of the defense that, if two manufacturers did not sell in the same market, they were not competitors. He asserted that, no matter where the goods were sold, the manufacturers were competitors, inasmuch as the goods they produce were factors in the general line of business in which the manufacturers were engaged. This was in connection with the defense's allegation that the Carnegie Steel Company and the Illinois Steel Company were not competitors, because one sold its products in the East and the other in the West.

Taking up the charge that the Steel Corporation sold products cheaper in foreign markets than in the domestic trade, Mr. Dickinson said the American consumer should have received the advantage of the lower prices. Failure of the corporation to do so, he continued, was evidence that it conspired to maintain excessive prices.

Mr. Dickinson reviewed conditions prior to the organization of the Steel Corporation to sustain the Government's contention that the combination of iron, steel, and wire companies unduly interfered with trade. He said that the Government would show later that the Steel Corporation had much more than 50.1 per cent. of the iron and steel business of the country and that the remaining 49.9 was not as formidable as counsel for the defense would want the court to believe.

There was some discussion between opposing counsel regarding the report of Herbert Knox Smith, a former Commissioner of the Bureau of Corporations, and what purported to be a report by James R. Garfield, at one time the head of the same bureau, on the results of investigations into the operation of the Steel Corporation. These reports were not sworn statements, and Judge McPherson interrupted the discussion to say that the case would not be decided upon the opinion either of Mr. Smith or Mr. Garfield.

REJECTED BY GERMAN BANK.

Unpaid Draft Shows Statement Made Here Is False.

The statement given out for publication by German bankers that the banks of Germany were conducting their business as usual and that their customers were not meeting with the delays and annoyances common in France and England was denied yesterday by a large exporting house here, which had just received a notice that a draft sent to Hamburg for collection would not be paid by the bank on which it was drawn until Jan. 15.

The draft, which was for 1,100 marks, about $275, was sent to Hamburg before the war, although it did not mature until after the war began. The New York firm of exporters, which sold the draft to a German firm received word yesterday that the draft was not collectable owing to a "decree of the Federal Council of Germany" dated Aug. 10 postponing payments until Oct. 9 and on the latter date extended until Jan. 9."

FINANCIAL NOTES.

A. B. Leach & Co. have been notified by the Treasury Department of Cuba that $50,000 par value of 5 per cent. Cuban interior debt bonds, numbered irregularly from 16,851 to 97,650, have been called for payment on Nov. 28.

The twelfth edition of "Trust Companies of the United States" has been prepared by the United States Mortgage and Trust Company, and will be ready for distribution within a few days. It shows an increase of nearly $450,000,000 in a year in trust company resources.

Through an error it was stated in this column yesterday that an increased dividend would be paid on United Cigar Stores common stock next month. The regular payment of 1½ per cent. will be made.

It was announced yesterday that President E. N. Brown of the National Railways of Mexico had severed his official connections with the company last Friday.

The Bankers' Club, an organization of employes of the Bankers Trust Company, presented former President Benjamin Strong, Jr., with a handsome desk set at a meeting on Wednesday night. Mr. Strong left the Presidency to become Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Martin Carey has been elected a Director of the Standard Oil Company of New York to succeed the late Henry A. McGee.

The Committee of Seven in charge of dealings in unlisted bonds ruled yesterday that transactions in unlisted notes and bonds maturing prior to Nov. 1, 1917, and in unlisted railroad equipment bonds of all maturities need not be submitted to them for their approval.

NEW HAVEN DROPS 6 MORE DIRECTORS

Annual Meeting Cuts Board from 27 to 17 and Elects Five New Members.

PLAN OF REVENUE INCREASE

Revised Passenger and Freight Tariffs Ready Soon—Net Gains Despite Drop in Gross Earnings.

The stockholders of the New Haven Railroad, at their annual meeting at Harmony Hall, New Haven, yesterday, voted to reduce the number of Directors from twenty-seven to seventeen, and in the election of the new board dropped six of the Directors and added five new ones, the board having already been reduced to eighteen by recent resignations. These changes enabled Chairman Howard Elliott to announce that the new board would include none of those who had "participated in the purchase of the property about which there has been complaint and criticism."

D. Newton Barney, one of those who was not re-elected, was the only Director remaining of the board that elected Charles S. Mellen President of the road in 1903. The others who were not re-elected were James S. Hemingway of New Haven, A. Heaton Robertson of New Haven, Samuel Rea, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Robert W. Taft of Providence, and A. E. Clark, Secretary of the company, who has been filling in on the board for a short time.

The new Directors elected yesterday were Benjamin Campbell, a Vice President; Frank W. Matteson of Providence, Joseph B. Russell of Boston, Eli Whitney of New Haven, and Harris Whittemore of Naugatuck, Conn.

Those re-elected were Frederick F. Brewster of New Haven, W. Murray Crane of Dalton, Mass.; T. De Witt Cuyler of Philadelphia, Howard Elliott, President Hadley of Yale, J. Horace Harding of New York, Francis T. Maxwell of Rockville, Conn.; Augustus S. May, the company's Treasurer; Henry K. McHarg of Stamford, Edward Milligan of Hartford, John T. Pratt of New York, and James L. Richards of Boston. Messrs. Brewster and McHarg are now the senior members, having been elected in 1907. Mr. Cuyler was elected in 1910, Messrs. Milligan and Maxwell in 1911, and the rest in 1913 and 1914.

The Directors who have dropped out since Mr. Mellen resigned on Aug. 1, 1913, are De Ver H. Warner, Sidney W. Winslow, Theodore N. Vail, Alexander Cochrane, Galen L. Stone, Edwin Milner, J. P. Morgan, Laurence Minot, John L. Billard, James H. Hustis, William Rockefeller, Charles F. Brooker, James S. Elton, George F. Baker, William Skinner, Morton F. Plant, and the six who retired yesterday.

Ratify Settlement of Suit.

The stockholders also ratified the settlement of the suit against the road under the Sherman law by the agreed decree and adopted a by-law authorizing the Directors to appoint from the board an executive committee of nine members, to exercise, between meetings of the board, any and all of its powers, except such as may be withdrawn by the board from time to time. The Executive Committee, comprising a majority of the board, will be appointed after the new board meets to organize.

Chairman Elliott announced that the road would soon file new freight and passenger tariffs. This was in response to inquiries as to what was being done to increase the revenue. Mr. Elliott said that Mr. Campbell, one of the new Directors, had within the last year revised the entire freight schedule of the Boston & Maine and had succeeded in having it approved by Federal and State commissions.

"For the last six months," he went on, "that same work has been done by Mr. Campbell and his associates for the New Haven and a tariff is nearly ready to file with the different Commissioners, on Dec. 1, which changes the rates in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and so forth. It makes some increases and some reductions, but that tariff has been worked out with great care, in consultation with many people to make it what you may term a more scientific tariff, adjusted to New England conditions. That is a tariff ordinarily known as class rates—merchandise rates. Similar work is being done on what are called commodity or car load rates, and it is hoped that that tariff will be ready to file with the various Commissioners by Jan. 1, but there are many thousand rates to be taken up and each one discussed and weighed most carefully before attempting to make any change, either up or down.

"The railroads generally changed their rates for mileage books, and an increase has gone into effect everywhere except Massachusetts, and I am told informally that the Massachusetts Commission will pass the rate Nov. 1. The company's officers are also preparing a revised passenger tariff, changing some of the local tariffs, and that tariff will be ready to file possibly within thirty days. I merely state these things to you so you will understand your officers are keenly alive to the necessity of getting additional revenue."

Entertainers on Hand.

All the usual entertainers were present at the meeting except Pat Murray, whose absence was not explained.

Hagop Bogigian of Boston wanted to know who nominated the slate for members of the board and whether the new men were free from the old influences, to which Mr. Elliott replied that the Directors who had served for the last year, so far as he knew, had acted without outside or secret influences.

"We'll stand by you," said Mr. Bogigian, "against the Directors. I have never fought. I never had a gun, but if necessary I'll get one. I know a woman stockholder whose income has vanished since dividends were stopped, and is now dependent on charity. I am paying 6 per cent. dividends to another stockholder because I recommended the investment. Tell us if any Director is stealing, and we'll pick his pocket. I know there are enemies in our camp today."

A. Maxcy Hiller of New Haven, after apologizing for his absence from the last meeting, contributed six speeches and several resolutions. His principal proposal was for a direct primary for the election of Directors in future years, which was voted down. He said the road had been looted, and had been robbed by lawyers. He understood that Chairman Elliott's salary was $100,000 a year, and that the Vice Presidents got $18,000 or $20,000 each. He thought economy should be introduced in the payroll. He told of a woman stockholder who had been compelled to take her daughter out of college and put her to work in a store, and of two other women who had put their savings into New Haven stock, and had now been compelled to go back to dressmaking.

Objects to Luncheons.

Mr. Hiller objected to pensioning a Vice President who had been getting $20,000 a year and to luncheons being served to Directors at their meetings.

"To take lunch from the stockholders of this road today would choke in my throat," he added.

Henry Davis of Southbridge didn't get a chance to tell his usual story about the scrap iron that the road had dumped on his farm, and which he thinks might be removed and sold, because the other stockholders cut him short by shuffling their feet vigorously.

At the end of the meeting Mr. Elliott took up some of the questions and suggestions of the speakers. He said the legal expenses had necessarily been large, but had already been reduced. Gross earnings had fallen off in September $350,000, but economies had resulted in an increase in net of $96,000. For the three months ended Sept. 30 gross had fallen off $850,000, but net had been increased $1,500, while the maintenance of the property had been kept up. For the first three weeks of October gross earnings were down $289,000, but he hoped decreases in operating expenses would offset it. No charge could be made for hauling baggage up to 150 pounds because of State laws, but a movement was on foot to charge 10 cents for the physical labor of handling each trunk. Efforts were making to get more revenue for carrying the mails.

BOSTON & MAINE CHANGES.

Directorate Increased and Federal Authorities Put on Board.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—The Directorate of the Boston & Maine Railroad was increased from thirteen to fourteen and the personnel of the board considerably changed at the adjourned annual meeting of the stockholders of the road today. Five Directors—Richard Olney, A. W. Sulloway, Lucius Tuttle, E. F. Greene, and Alexander Cochrane—resigned, and C. S. Cook of Portland, Me., and N. G. Eastman of Exeter, N. H., were added to the board.

The five trustees agreed upon by the Federal authorities to manage the majority stock formerly held for the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad were also added to the Directorate. One of the trustees, Frank P. Carpenter, belonged to the old board.

The new Directorate is made up as follows: James W. Hustis, Frederic C. Dumaine, Samuel Carr, James M. Prendergast, Charles W. Bosworth, James D. Upham, George H. Prouty, Frank P. Carpenter, Marcus P. Knowlton, James L. Doherty, Henry B. Day, Charles P. Hall, Charles S. Cook, and E. G. Eastman.

At a subsequent meeting of the new Board of Directors James H. Eustis was re-elected President; Herbert E. Fisher, Treasurer, and Arthur B. Nichols, clerk.

COMMODITIES MARKETS

WHEAT.

The fact that the wheat market declined about 3c a bushel from the high point of last Friday, and that selling has been under way for three days created the impression that it was about time for a substantial rally, and during the early operations prices were firmer. Toward the close those who had bought early on the export business became discouraged over the action of the market and sold heavily. This pressure caused a very sharp break, prices declining 1¾@1⅞c from the top, and closing at ⅝@⅞c net decline. In the local cash market No. 2 red Winter wheat was quoted at $1.14¾; No. 2 hard, $1.14¾; No. 1 Northern, Duluth, $1.15¼, and No. 1 Northern, Manitoba, $1.20, all nominal, cost, insurance, and freight, Buffalo.

In the local cash market No. 2 yellow corn was quoted at 81½c, cost, insurance, and freight, to arrive, and prime Argentine at 78c asked, delivered.

The oats market showed an easier undertone owing to a less active cash demand and continued liberal receipts, and after showing an early advance in sympathy with wheat and corn prices, eased off and closed ⅜@½c net lower. The local cash market was steady; standard quoted at 53½c; No. 2 white, 54c; No. 3 white, 53c; No. 4 white, 52½c; fancy clipped white, 53½@56c; ordinary clipped white, 53@54½c, all elevator.

COTTONSEED OIL.

Trading in the cottonseed oil market was active, total sales for the day amounting to 31,700 barrels. There was heavy selling on the advance, with evidences of renewed pressure against crude, and prices eased off sharply, closing near the bottom with net gains of 1 to 11 points.

COTTON.

Yesterday's advices from the South indicated a considerable improvement in the spot situation. Local brokers said that these offers were anywhere from ¼ to ½c higher than toward the end of last week at some interior points in Texas, with middling cotton quoted around 6¼ to 6½c, compared with a recent low level of about 5¾c in relatively cheap localities. Southern spot markets, as officially reported, confirmed this view of the situation to some extent, as prices at several points were ½c higher, ranging from about 6½ to 6⅝c at most of the larger points.

COFFEE.

There was less pressure of offerings of coffee through the Liquidating Committee yesterday, and, consequently, prices were steadier, closing about 20 points above Tuesday's quotations, December being quoted at 5.80 bid, March at 6.15, May at 6.30, and July at 7.05. In the spot position prices were about ⅛c lower, although on the whole the market showed a steady undertone. The local spot market declined ⅛c, with Rio 7s quoted at 6⅝c.

RESERVE DEPOSITS IN GOLD ADVISED

WANT LARGE CERTIFICATES

Effort to Facilitate Counting of Immense Sums Involved in Establishing New System.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The Federal Reserve Board today notified all member banks that arrangements should be made at once for the transfer of required reserves to the various regional banks on Nov. 16, the day set for the new banking system to begin business. Every member bank not in a reserve city is required to maintain in the district bank for the first twelve months after the district bank is established one-sixth of its deposits, and each succeeding six months to add an additional one-twelfth until five-twelfths have been deposited. This will be the permanent reserve in the district bank.

Banks in reserve cities are required to keep in the district bank for twelve months after the establishment of the system at least three-fifteenths, and each succeeding six months to add an additional one-fifteenth of its deposits until six-fifteenths are so deposited. A bank in a central reserve city—New York, Chicago, or St. Louis—is required to keep seven-eighteenths of its deposits in the district bank. Other reserves may be kept in the member bank vaults or in those of the district banks.

Deposits of reserves must be made in gold or lawful money, which is either greenbacks, silver certificates, or silver. The Federal Reserve Board urges that member banks deposit as their reserve in the district banks gold or gold certificates.

Arrangements have been made to expedite the bonding of officers of the reserve banks. The Federal Reserve Board will require that the vault of the district bank shall be under a double set of keys or combinations, one to be in the hands of the Federal reserve agent, the other in the hands of the auditor, the deputy Federal reserve agent acting, or, in case of absence, some other member designated to act as a substitute. The vault of the Federal reserve agent will be in the vault of the district bank, and the men in charge of the district bank will be required to keep a record book registering the times when the agent's vault has been opened.

A record is to be kept with carbon copies concerning securities placed in the vault or removed from it. This record is to be kept in the Federal reserve agent's vault as a basis for audit of the special Examiner and one copy is to be kept in the hands of the vault keeper of the district reserve bank to be countersigned by him and placed in the general audit.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28, 1914.

To all Member Banks:

The Secretary of the Treasury having advised the Federal Reserve Board that formal notice of the establishment of the several Federal Reserve banks will be given to all member banks on Nov. 16, it is necessary that arrangements be now made for the transfer of required reserves by the member banks to their respective Federal Reserve banks. It is the desire of the board to arrange for the actual physical transfer of the first installment in such a manner as to create the least possible disturbance to business conditions in any city or section.

It is, of course, clear that if the banks in non-reserve cities undertake to make the necessary deposit of reserves with the Federal Reserve Bank by remitting checks or drafts on banks in reserve cities (which checks or drafts can be received by the Federal Reserve Bank for collection only) there may result an unnecessarily heavy withdrawal of funds from the banks in reserve cities. In the same manner, if banks in reserve cities make remittances of checks or drafts on banks in central reserve cities, an unnecessary burden may be placed upon the latter.

The deposits of reserves with Federal Reserve banks must be made in gold or lawful money, and in order that the withdrawal of funds from the member banks may be as nearly uniform as possible and so distributed as to relieve any particular section of unusual burdens the Federal Reserve Board urges all banks to ship from their own vaults gold or lawful money. The Federal Reserve banks have been authorized to assume and pay the express charges involved in making such shipments.

The foregoing suggestions also apply to payments on account of the first installment of capital stock, due Nov. 2.

In view of the advantage to be derived from the deposits of gold which may be used as reserve for Federal Reserve notes, it is strongly urged by the board that deposits of reserves in the Federal Reserve banks be made, so far as practicable, in gold or gold certificates.

Due notice of the establishment of the Federal Reserve banks on Nov. 16 will be sent each member bank by the Secretary of the Treasury, and no transfer of reserve can be made until this is done.

Member banks of large resources will greatly facilitate the physical work of counting reserve money if they will send gold certificates in as large denominations as possible or Clearing House orders calling for gold certificates or gold already counted by the Clearing Houses. The Federal Reserve Board appeals to the patriotic spirit of all member banks, large and small, to do their utmost in facilitating the difficult work now thrown upon the officers of the newly created reserve banks, and to do all in their power to secure for the new system the greatest possible success from the beginning.

H. PARKER WILLIS, Secretary.
CHARLES S. HAMLIN, Governor.

FOR 'MADE IN U. S. A.' GOODS

100 Persons Attend Meeting of Newly Formed Association.

More than 100 persons attended a meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria yesterday morning in response to a call issued by the Executive Committee of the newly formed "Manufactured in America" Products Association, and heard Arthur Brisbane, Richard H. Waldo, Arthur Tipper, Chairman of the committee, and others talk about the necessity for such an association, and kindred subjects. After the speeches it was the sense of the meeting that, owing to South American prejudices as to the word "America," the term "Made in U. S. A." would be a better slogan for a campaign.

Mr. Tipper said that the American people had been educated to believe that goods manufactured in Europe were superior to home-made articles. He said that important corporations were behind the new movement, that this would cost a great deal, and it would be necessary to raise at least $100,000. It would not be worth while starting unless $50,000 was got together, and a fee of $500 had been suggested for membership.

Mr. Waldo said a canvass of importers had shown they were not downcast over the situation, because, by employing women, foreign manufacturers of certain commodities were able to supply the American demand. Mr. Waldo warned the association against employing press agents for a propaganda, and advised straight advertising in the newspapers.

President Fitzgerald of the Paterson Chamber of Commerce said that for many years the finest fabrics of the silk looms of that city had been sold in America as foreign goods. He said the campaign planned might cost $500,000, perhaps $1,000,000.

Mrs. Julian Heath, President of the Housewives' League, pledged the support of her association, and Mr. Brisbane, who, it was announced, had been detained by an attack of ptomaine poisoning, arrived and spoke of "trade stupidity" and "keeping the money in the family," and charged the new tariff law with shifting work from here to Europe.

To Extend Use of Cotton Bags.

A luncheon meeting of prominent merchants will be held today at the Whitehall Club, 17 Battery Place, at 12:30. At the meeting the Southern Cotton Committee, of which R. D. Bowen is Chairman, will discuss a movement to have cotton bags used by sugar, grain, and other dealers in place of jute and burlap sacks. The meeting was called by Edwin J. Gillies, President of the local branch of the National Coffee Roasters' Association.

Weather Stimulates Cloakings.

The cooler weather of the last day or two has stimulated greatly the demand for heavy cloakings on the part of retail buyers. Especially good business was done along this line yesterday by one of the largest dress goods jobbers in the city. Bouclés, zibelines, Roman stripes, and mackinaw cloths were taken freely in 54 and 56 inch widths, and at prices ranging from $1.25 a yard to $2.15. The same house is showing a line of imitation English mackinaw cloths which is being favored by buyers. These goods run from 75 cents to $1.25 a yard.

To Avoid Litigation.

The recently organized legal department of the Silk Association is now in working order, and, according to Secretary Peugnet, a large number of the members are availing themselves of the service. It is planned to have this department aid the Bureau of Adjustment and Complaints of the association in addition to its other duties. The latter department is operated to minimize and avoid litigation, so far as possible, by settlements of disputes and complaints through friendly negotiation and arbitration. This method of settlement is becoming more and more popular with the various trade organizations.

Brassieres Move Well.

Business in brassieres continues to improve in this market, and one of the largest houses here reported yesterday that it is doing a record business in spite of the generally upset condition of things. Boned brassieres are gaining in the feminine estimation from day to day and are being taken freely as a result. Front-fastening brassieres are also selling well. A vogue for highly elaborate models has apparently arrived, and in some of the offerings especially decorative materials are being used by the manufacturers. Prospects of a continuance of good business in brassieres right to the end of the season are said to be bright. Collections are very fair on the whole.

Why a Second Trip Is Needed.

There is a growing feeling in the clothing trade that, in order to offset the poor results obtained by the salesmen who left early this month on their Spring trips, a second visit to the retailers will be necessary. A mistake was made, it is now generally believed, in sending out the road men so early. The retailers were not given a chance, because of the continued warm weather, to sell stocks that only a cold spell can move. If these trips had been delayed and the start made at a time when the salesmen would be assured of a better reception, there is little doubt expressed but that buyers would have been more liberal in their initial purchases.

War Hurts Machinery Importers.

While, save in the silk industry, the war is having little effect on the orders being placed with importers of textile machinery, it is hurting this business for the reason that deliveries are being delayed and that ocean freight rates have been moved up so sharply that they are looming up as serious factors to manufacturers who have orders in for heavy machinery of this sort. One importer said yesterday that he is getting deliveries on about 20 per cent. of his orders, and most of these on smaller machines and textile instruments of various kinds. Another importer is said to have had such poor luck with deliveries of his machines that he had to abandon space he had rented for their exhibition at the recent industrial show in Paterson.

New Process for Retiring.

Houses that did business with a certain retailer have added another experience to their long list of unique ways which a merchant may select to effect an adjustment of his debts before retiring. This retailer sent out notices to his creditors saying that, in settlement of his accounts with them, he would return all the merchandise he had in stock bought from them and would pay the difference in cash. One creditor got back everything he had shipped to this merchant, but, complaining about the condition of one article, received 11 cents as damages. No objection was raised to this plan by the credit men since it was thought better to get the equivalent of a 100 cents on the dollar settlement than to take action that might result in less.

Secrecy in Army Contracts.

The care that has been exercised in keeping the source and nature of foreign army contracts secret is well illustrated in the experience of one agent who has placed a number of orders for the English Government. Half of one contract had been let out and the other half was about to be closed with a domestic mill. The information leaked out that such a contract was being placed and the mill immediately tried to get higher prices for its product. This is only one of many similar instances, the increased price being asked even after samples and prices have been submitted. As the payments are in cash and the maker has every chance to make the prices what he wants when he puts in his original bid, the representatives of the purchasing countries believe that it is only fair to keep the market at its true and not at its speculative level.

Underwear Demand Spotted.

While primary handlers of underwear report a fair amount of duplicate business from wholesalers in the Middle and Far West as a result of the colder weather in these parts, they say that thew have not yet seen much of this business from the local and near-by jobbers. With the wholesalers themselves reports disagree as to just what effect more seasonable weather has had on their sales of these goods so far this week. While the statement is fairly general that mail business shows substantial improvement over that taken in the last three or four weeks, it is said in some instances that trading on the part of retailers of these lines in and around New York is by no means as active as it might be. Some surprise is shown at this inactivity, as it had been understood that retail stocks of knit underwear were low and that lower temperatures would bring a rush of business.

A Big Day for Gray Goods.

Yesterday was a big day for printcloths in the local gray goods market. On several constructions the mills turned down large bids at current figures for 1915 delivery, and, following this, the buyers turned their attention to goods available for this year's delivery and pretty well cleaned up everything in sight. Wide goods were a great deal more active than narrow, it being estimated that not more than 5 per cent. of the day's total sales were made up of goods under 38½ inches wide. Big sales of 39-inch 80-80s were made for 1914 shipment at 5½ cents, and many of the mills now want 5⅝ cents for these goods. On 38½-inch 64-60s there was large business done for November-December delivery, and the day closed with this construction held at 3¾ cents. Large sales were put through on sateens and twills for this year's delivery, but the mills steadily refuse to commit themselves on deliveries of these goods past Jan. 1. Combed lawns sold in a fairly large way for next year's delivery at prices somewhat under recent quotations. The day's closing printcloth prices follow:

THE BIG CARPET SALE.

Keen Interest Shown Though Some Prices Were Not High.

Interest in the auction sale of the Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Company's rugs and carpetings was keen yesterday, nothwithstanding that it was the third day of the auction. The room was well filled with buyers and spectators the entire day. Taken as a whole, prices realized fairly well up to the regular Spring catalogued ones, although there were some exceptions. In the course of the day 377 lots were disposed of.

Carlton seamless Axminster rugs, 6 by 9 feet, averaged $7, as against $10.05, while this rug in size 4 feet 6 inches by 6 feet 6 inches brought $4, compared with $5.65, the stated price in the Spring. Alpine rugs, 9 by 12 feet, came in for a big drop from the regular price, as they went for $9.50, whereas the regular price is $13.95. It was said that rugs of this kind never sold before at this price, which is practically that for tapestry goods. Alpine Axminsters, 27 by 52 inches, averaged 90 to 98 cents apiece, against the price-list rate of $1.17½.

Similar ones, in size 36 by 63 inches, were sold at from $1.57½ to $1.70 each, the regular price being $2.02½. Alpine Axminsters, 18 by 34, averaged 57 to 60 cents, while the regular selling price is 70 cents. Velvet carpets, of which there were very few in the sale, brought 77½ cents per yard, the Spring price being 88 cents. Palisade velvet carpets averaged 60 cents, compared with the regular price of 69 cents. Tapestry carpets, known as B-Palisade, ranged between 55 and 58 cents a yard, compared with the scheduled price of 60½ cents.

Other sales were F-Palisade carpets, at prices ranging from 42½ cents to 49 cents, which is the regular price; seamless Katonak velvet rugs, 9 by 12 inches, at an average price of $8.25, the regular price being $11.15; Katonah velvet, 27 by 52 inches, 65 to 70 cents, against the regular rate of 85 cents; seamless Palisade rugs, 9 by 12 feet, at $11.25, compared with $13.65; Palisade velvet rugs, 10 feet 6 inches by 12 feet, at considerably under price, bringing only $11, about the same price as the 9 by 12 feet size; seamless Hudson tapestry rugs, 9 by 12 feet, which it was expected would fall off from the regular price of $8.35, ranged from $6.50 to $6.85, and seamless Wilton rugs, 9 by 12 feet, of which there were only a few sold, at prices ranging from $17 to $19 each, against $21.75, the regular price. The sale will start this morning with Lot 1,093, covering Wilton velvet rugs.

WOOL MARKET VERY STRONG

Active Demand Here and Abroad Strengthens Market Considerably.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—The American Wool and Cotton Reporter will say tomorrow:

"The wool market is exceedingly strong on all grades, with decided advances on medium and low crossbreds, due to the active demand here and abroad. The entire trade is very much interested in the embargo placed on shipment of Australian wools, which has a strengthening influence on the price of merinos in the domestic market. Fine wools have been sold within the last ten days at the highest prices of the season, while crossbreds are selling two or three cents a pound higher than at any time during the present wool season. The aggregate sales for the week in the market have been 4,250,000 pounds.

The most interesting event in the wool trade recently has been the abnormal shipments abroad amounting approximately to 3,000,000 pounds, and the cleaning up of the entire quantity of common and braid wools estimated at 2,000,000 pounds.

The women's wear market is not as active as it should be at this period of the year, and but little advance business is being placed for Spring. It is very probable that buyers will suffer later as a result of their over-conservatism at the present time. Fine serges are still strong and broadcloths are in particularly active demand.

The cotton goods market is practically unchanged, though a limited amount of buying is taking place from day to day. There is a moderate amount of business going on in fine and fancy goods with a slightly more favorable outlook.

A slightly lighter demand for worsted yarns of the higher grades with increased interest in medium and low yarns is the most noticeable feature in the worsted yarn markets. The lull in buying is attributed partially to Southern conditions, and partially to the feeling that the majority of weaving mills have contracted for sufficient quantities to carry them until the turn of the year.

War Cause of Failure.

With the war preventing them from getting from Germany certain ingredients necessary for the manufacture of their patented blasting powder, the International Praeposit Company, of 45 West Thirty-fourth Street, had a petition in bankruptcy filed against it yesterday in the Federal District Court. Judge Hough appointed Jesse Watson as receiver

Appraisers' Important Decisions Under the New Tariff.

The classification to be given cotton velvet goods under the Tariff act of 1913 was decided yesterday by the Board of General Appraisers, when protests by William H. Stiner & Son and M. P. Stahel & Co. were sustained. The merchandise consisted of velvet, the pile of which is composed of cotton and the back of silk, cotton being the component material of chief value. Collector Malone took duty on the goods at the rate of 50 per cent. ad valorem under Paragraph 321, as "cloth composed of cotton or other vegetable fibre and silk." The importers relied on the claim that the goods are properly dutiable at 47½ per cent. under Paragraph 325, as "plushes, velvets composed of cotton or other vegetable fibre except flax."

Judge Cooper, who wrote the decision for the board, says that while the merchandise was assessed as "cloth" the board does not think it meets the requisities of cloth as that term is defined in Paragraph 320. It is the opinion of the board that the threads in velvet cannot be counted by unraveling or other practical means and that, therefore, the Collector's classification is erroneous. Aside from that consideration, the board holds that the provision for velvets is more specific than that for cloth. It was said yesterday that this case, or another to be made up later, will eventually come before the customs Court of Appeals.

Cotton figured quilts imported by the Sherman & Sons Co. and made on Jacquard looms, were returned for duty at 30 per cent. ad valorem under Paragraph 258 of the present tariff, as "Jacquard figured manufactures of cotton." The importers contended for a duty of 25 per cent. as "quilts made of cotton" under Paragraph 264. The board held that the quilts are more specifically provided for under the paragraph claimed than under that taken by the Collector and sustained the protest.

Rosenfield & Goodman, Chicago, lost in protests dealing with the classification of pocket perfume flasks made of metal. They were taxed 60 per cent. ad valorem under Paragraph 356 of the Act of 1913, as articles designed to be carried about the person. Duty was claimed at 20 per cent. under the provision for manufactures of metal. There was no question but that metal predominates in the make-up of the articles, but the board holds they are excluded from tht classification since they are valued over 20 cents per dozen pieces.

Court Finds No Evidence Against Cooper—Defense Begins.

After Judge Foster had denied yesterday in the Federal District Court the motions to dismiss the indictments against Samuel Warfield and George M. Fisher on the charge of using the mails to defraud in the sale of "rare books," they with J. J. Farmer and Col. William J. Hartley proceeded to open their defense. Willis M. Cooper, another of the defendants, was freed after the court had directed the jury to acquit him for lack of evidence.

The defense then called Gabriel Weis and George F. Virtue as experts to show that the books which the Anglo-American Authors Association had sold were worth the high prices charged for them. Assistant District Attorney Roosa retorted by showing Mr. Weis certain hand-painted pictures in a set of Roosevelt and drawing from him the admission that such a picture would not add to its value as far as he was concerned, and as Mr. Roosa threw the volume back on the table with a resounding bank J. R. Ely of counsel for the defense called out excitedly:

"Don't throw those books around like that. They are valuable."

The trial will continue today.

INSTRUCTION.

Many Boys Fail to Pass

REGENTS' AND COLLEGE ENTRANCE examinations, not because they are stupid, but because the grade system of nearly all schools prevents individual instruction.

A bright boy can easily make sixty counts between October and June, and a backward pupil will find that he can do two years' work in one.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The rapid succession of extensive pressure changes continues. The cool high area of Tuesday over the eastern portion of the country has almost disappeared and pressure is again low from the Upper Mississippi Valley eastward. In the central plains States and the Northwest there is another moderate high area, while in the Far West pressure is falling.

There was no precipitation over any portion of the country, except some light local rains from the north upper lake region eastward.

There were heavy killing frosts or freezing temperatures Wednesday morning in the Atlantic Gulf States as far south as the interior of Northern Florida, but during the day there was a general and decided rise in temperature throughout the lake region, the Ohio Vally, and the Atlantic and Gulf States. Over the West temperatures did not change materially and they are above the seasonal average as a rule. Except for local rains Thursday from the upper lake region eastward, and on Friday in the Pacific Northwest, fair weather will prevail during Thursday and Friday without decided temperature changes.

Winds along the North and Middle Atlantic Coast will be moderate southwest and west; South Atlantic Coast, gentle to moderate, mostly south except northeast off the Florida Coast.

THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Four Harlem Apartment Houses Sold to an Investor—Old Cosmopolitan Hotel on Chambers Street Leased—$37,000 Deal in Flatbush—$368,300 Suit Against the Queens Land & Title Company.

A fair degree of activity characterized the realty market yesterday, of which the chief features were the sale of four Harlem apartment houses and a residence on Fifty-seventh Street, while in the downtown section the lease for a long term for business purposes of the old Cosmopolitan Hotel was recorded.

The Harlem deal, which was a cash transaction, involved the sale for the Louis Greenblatt estate of the four six-story apartment structures at 249 to 255 West 111th Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, the last house in the row adjoining the northeast corner of Eighth Avenue. Each house covers a plot 36 by 100, giving a total frontage of 144 feet. The buyer will hold the property as an investment. The brokers in the sale were Goodale, Perry & Dwight.

Cosmopolitan Hotel Leased.

An important lease in the downtown section was announced yesterday in the rental for a period of twenty-one years of the old Cosmopolitan Hotel on the northeast corner of West Broadway and Chambers Street. It is a seven-story structure on a plot 76.1 by 100.1 and was closed as a hotel several years ago. The lease was made by Samuel J. Huggins, as trustee, and the rental for the first five years is said to be $15,000 a year.

West Fifty-seventh Street Deal.

As an investment, Louis H. Chalif has purchased from the estate of Louis De Bebian, 165 West Fifty-seventh Street, a four-story and basement dwelling on a lot 21 by 100.5.

The property is located 104 feet east of Seventh Avenue and will probably be altered for business in the near future. N. A. Barwin & Co. were the brokers in the transaction.

Investor Buys Harlem Flat.

The Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank has sold to M. Murphy for investment, 106 East 123d Street, a five-story flat on a plot 20 by 100, located between Lexington and Park Avenues. George W. Brettell was the broker in the transaction.

$200,000 For Fourteenth Street Corner.

At the stand of Joseph P. Day in the Vesey Street Salesroom yesterday the eleven-story store and loft building on the northwest corner of Fourteenth Street and Fifth Avenue was sold in foreclosure proceedings for $200,000 to Henry Malraison, acting for a party in interest.

The structure, which occupies a plot 100 by 103.3 leasehold, was sold to satisfy a judgment of about $383,000 secured by the Van Buren Estate against Henry Corn and others.

Foreclosure on Continental.

A foreclosure action has been instituted against the Hotel Continental, formerly the Albany, on the southeast corner of Broadway and Forty-first Street, and the property will be sold on Nov. 19 by Joseph P. Day. The action has been brought by Florence L. Mabee against the Forty-first Street Realty Company, headed by Irving Griswold, which bought the property in 1912 and leased it last year to the Louvre Hotel Company, while the restaurant was leased to I. H. Rosenfeld, formerly of the Second Avenue Cafe Boulevard.

Bronx Sales.

Patrick Crowley has purchased for occupancy 406 East 140th Street, a three-story brick dwelling on a lot 17 by 100. S. H. Frankenheim negotiated the sale for Minnie Pfeiffer, the owner.

$37,000 Sale in Flatbush.

Arthur H. Strong has sold to a client for occupancy the large Colonial dwelling recently erected on the corner of Dorchester Road and Ocean Avenue, Flatbush. The structure occupies a plot 107 feet on Ocean Avenue and has a depth of 131 feet. It was held at $37,000.

Long Island City.

A builder paid $8,600 for five lots on the southwest corner of Nelson Avenue and Fitting Street, Long Island City, at public auction in the Vesey Street Salesroom yesterday. Eleven lots on Fitting Street, between Queens Boulevard and Nelson Avenue, brought from $1,500 to $1,675. Bryan L. Kennelly conducted the sale.

Tax Sale in Queens.

The first tax sale held in Queens Borough since 1898 was conducted by Daniel Monyhan, Receiver of Assessments and Arrears, Tuesday, when he offered for sale at his office, Court Square, Long Island City, liens on parcels in Flushing from 5,001 to 5,343. The liens covered back taxes and assessments, with interest, from 1898.

Over 100 people attended the sale, and all parcels sold at the flat amount of the lien, with the exception of one parcel, 5,242, on which the assessment was $827. The rate of interest granted was ¼ of 1 per cent. in that case.

In all $7,700 was realized from the sale. The sale was adjourned until Dec. 8, at which time other liens in College Point and old Flushing, including some 400 parcels, will be sold.

$368,300 Suit Against Massapequa.

A lis pendens was filed in the Nassau County, L. I., Clerk's Office yesterday in a mortgage foreclosure suit for $368,300.

The plaintiff in the action is the Title Guarantee and Trust Company of Manhattan, and the defendants named include 675 persons and the Queens Land and Title Company.

In 1906 Allen P. Haight, President of the Queens concern, gave the plaintiff a mortgage on a large tract of land at Massapequa for $500,000.

It is claimed that when titles were given to the present holders many of them did not have their titles searched, and that their property has not been cleared of the mortgage hanging over it. They are the 675 persons named as co-defendants.

The action for foreclosure is brought in default of interest on the mortgage, which was to run until 1916.

New Jersey.

Hughes & Whitby have sold for Charles S. Barker of Passaic, to C. M. Lindsay of 41 Reid Avenue, Passaic, the stucco residence at 132 Montclair Avenue, Montclair, consisting of ten rooms and three baths, on a plot 95 by 180 feet.

Realty Notes.

Louis H. Lowenstein and J. P. Finneran have been placed in charge of the uptown office of Goodale, Perry & Dwight, at 2,705 Broadway, near 103d Street, the former office of Gibbs & Kirby.

A meeting of the Morris Park Taxpayers Association has been called for this evening at the Hunt's Point Palace, 163d Street and the Southern Boulevard.

FORECLOSURE SALES.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE. IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the Southern District of New York.—CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, Complainant, against CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND AND PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY, Defendant.—Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a decree of the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, made and entered October 10, 1914, in the above entitled suit, the undersigned Special Master will offer for sale, without valuation, appraisement, redemption or extension, at the north entrance of the County Court House, County of New York, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, Southern District of New York, on the 24th day of November, 1914, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, 713,535 shares of stock of the par value of $100 each of The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company. Said shares of stock will be offered for sale in one block or parcel. The undersigned will receive no bid from any one offering to bid who shall not first deposit with the undersigned as a pledge that he will make good his bid in case of its acceptance, the sum of $350,000 cash or by certified check on some national bank or trust company of the City of New York, made or endorsed payable to the order of the undersigned as Special Master, or in lieu thereof $5,000,000 face value of the Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds of the defendant Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company issued under the Trust Agreement dated August 1, 1902, between said Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company and Central Trust Company of New York as Trustee, if in coupon form accompanied by the coupon maturing May 1st, 1914, and all subsequent coupons, and if registered accompanied by sufficient transfers; such deposit, however, may be made partly in cash and partly in bonds and in the above relative proportions. The undersigned will accept the highest and best bid received when offered as aforesaid, and will knock down the property sold to such bidder, subject to confirmation of the sale by the Court. On the acceptance of any bid by the undersigned, the bidder whose bid shall have been accepted must forthwith deposit with the undersigned, in addition to the cash or bonds deposited in order to qualify him to bid, the additional sum of $1,000,000 in cash or by certified check on some national bank or trust company of the City of New York, made or endorsed payable to the order of the undersigned, as Special Master, or in lieu thereof, $10,000,000 face amount of the Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds of the defendant, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, secured by the trust agreement dated August 1, 1902, if in coupon form accompanied by the coupon maturing May 1, 1914, and all subsequent coupons, and if registered accompanied by sufficient transfers; such additional deposit, however, may be made partly in cash and partly in bonds and in the above relative proportions. The deposit received from any unsuccessful bidder will be returned to him when the property shall be struck off. The deposits received from the successful bidder will be applied on account of the purchase price. In lieu of any deposit of Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds as aforesaid with the undersigned, he may accept the certificate of any national bank or trust company having its principal office in the Southern District of New York that it holds, subject to his order and direction, the amount specified in said certificate of said bonds with coupons or transfers thereof as aforesaid. Any owner or holder of any of the Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds issued under said trust agreement may bid and purchase at said sale. The right is reserved to the Court to reject any or all bids received and to confirm and direct the consummation of any sale in accordance with the provisions of said decree. In case any bidder shall fail to make good his bid upon its acceptance, or shall fail after such acceptance to comply with any order of the Court relating to the payment thereof on the completion of the purchase, then the sums deposited by such accepted bidder as hereinbefore provided, whether in cash or by check or by Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds, will be forfeited as a penalty for such failure and will be applied towards the payment of the expenses of a resale and toward making good any deficiency or loss in case the property shall be sold at a less price on any such resale and to such other purposes as the Court may direct. If the Court shall not confirm the sale the deposits made by the accepted bidder will forthwith be returned to such bidder. The purchaser must on confirmation of the sale by the Court make such further payment or payments in cash on account of the purchase price as the court may from time to time direct. So much of the purchase price as may not be required by the Court to be paid in cash may either be paid in cash, or the purchaser may satisfy and make good such residue of his bid, in whole or in part, by turning over to be cancelled or credited, as hereinafter provided, Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds of the defendant, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, secured by the trust agreement dated August 1, 1902, and matured and unpaid coupons. The said purchaser will be credited on account of the purchase price for Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds and coupons turned in as aforesaid with such sums as would be paid in cash upon such Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds and coupons out of the proceeds of sale, if the whole amount of the purchase price had been paid in cash. The right is reserved to the Court to retake and resell the property upon such notice as it may direct, at the risk and cost of the purchaser, in case the purchaser shall fail or omit to make any payment on account of the purchase price within ten days after the entry of the order requiring such payment. The purchaser or his successors and assigns will not be required to see to the application of the purchase money and shall have the right to enter his or their appearance in the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York and to become a party to this cause.

For a more detailed statement of the terms and conditions under which said sale will be made, reference is hereby made to the above-mentioned decree, the original of which is on file in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, and copies of which may be obtained from the undersigned upon application to him at his office, 32 Liberty Street, New York City.

Dated New York, October 22, 1914.
BRONSON WINTHROP, Special Master.

CHINESE MURDERERS MUST DIE IN CHAIR

WOMAN ADMITS PERJURY

Gov. Glynn Had Granted Reprieve on Her Story of False Testimony at Trial.

Eng Hing and Lee Dock, Chinese, whose conviction for murder in the first degree has been sustained by the Court of Appeals, lost their last chance to escape the electric chair yesterday when Judge T. C. T. Crain in General Sessions denied their motion for a new trial, asked for on the ground that part of the evidence against them was perjured. They have been sentenced to die on Monday.

Lee Kay, the murdered man, was shot in a tong fight in Chinatown in June, 1912. Several witnesses were found, including Grace Mack and Florence Wong, white women, who identified Eng Hing and Lee Dock as the men who did the shooting. A trial in January, 1913, resulted in a disagreement, but the following month the men were retried and convicted.

Counsel for the two Chinamen took the case to the Court of Appeals, submitting alleged dictograph records of conversations between witnesses in Chinatown, in an attempt to show that they were induced to give false testimony. The appeal was denied and the men were sentenced to die last month. A few days before the date set for execution Grace Mack went before Gov. Glynn and asserted that she gave false testimony at the trial, that she did not see the shooting, but was at a theatre at the time. She asserted that Jim Gum, a merchant prominent in Chinatown, had induced her to swear falsely. Gov. Glynn granted a reprieve until Nov. 2.

Judge Crain granted the motion for a hearing on the ground of newly discovered evidence. Former Assistant District Attorney Frank Moss appeared for the Chinamen, and Assistant District Attorney Isidor Wasservogel, who prosecuted the men at the trials, represented the District Attorney. Grace Mack told a story, in substance the same as that told before the Governor. Mr. Wasservogel, however, produced an entirely new witness, Lillie Wilson, who swore that Eng Hing and Lee Dock were the murderers. Florence Wong repeated her testimony and swore that Grace Mack was present.

In his decision Judge Crain held that the so-called new evidence was not of sufficient weight for a new trial. He held that Grace Mack, who had confessed perjury, had as much motive to testify falsely at the hearing for a new trial as she had at the trial at which the two men were convicted.

Events of the Week

THIS week saw the tercentenary celebration of New York begin. Harlem holding its great carnival, and the anniversary of two of our stores.

We have felt that to mark the two great city events and this more personal one of our own, that we should do something to make a record in our business. So

All sorts of models and patterns to choose from, for this is your party, and we want to have a present for you to repay you for your visit.

TO EVERY MAN WHO WANTS $25 CLOTHES FOR $15 THIS AD. IS A DIRECT MESSAGE.
DON'T LOSE $10 EVERY TIME YOU BUY A COAT OR SUIT.
$25 CLOTHES ARE THE ONLY KIND WE HAVE.
$15 IS OUR ONLY PRICE.

Come to our 2nd Floor Shops and for $15 get precisely the same style, quality and tailoring in Fall Suits, Overcoats and Balmacaans for which the high rent stores are asking $25 right now.

Hundreds of men are doing it—and every one is saving that $10. Why don't you do it? Isn't $10 worth saving? What's the use of your paying out $10 for a lot of extra expenses which add nothing to the STYLE, FIT or VALUE of your clothes?

The other stores have to get the money somewhere to pay for their ENORMOUS RENTS, OFFICE FORCE, FLOOR WALKERS, and clothes sold on credit and never paid for. But that's no reason why you should lose $10, is it?
